WILL WAR ON FRANCE ITSELF, SAYS ALGERIAN

CAIRO, Egypt (UP)—Algerian Nationalists threatened today to carry their North African warfare into "France itself."

The statement came from Algerian Nationalist leader Ferhat Abbas who said he was proposing negotiations between France and the "Algerian Liberation Front" aimed at winning independence for Algeria.

If France refuses, he said, "all North African liberation forces will intensify the war and carry it into France itself."

Review of TV Muddle Proposed by Mayor

Mayor Percy Scurrell today supported a plan to ask the CBC to review local television problems and determine definitely whether a planned city station would spoil reception of other channels here.

Ald. Austin Curtis made the suggestion to the Times when commenting on the current television muddle.

He said before council rules on a rezoning application which will permit CKDA-TV to construct a studio on top of Smith Hill, the effect of such action on residents of the city generally should be known.

He felt it might be found that location of a studio would be all right in the proposed vicinity if transmission facilities were farther away.

Council and town planners are currently stymied by a 153-name petition opposing the Smith Hill studio on land which the city has agreed to sell prospective builder David Armstrong.

The mayor said, if interference cannot be avoided, "I suppose it would be better to have a plebiscite" before permitting the rezoning.

The petition, filed at city hall this week, will be presented to council Thursday. Most

Tax-Easing Plan Stirs Vote Talk

Municipalities Still Confused

By TOM GOULD
Times Legislative Reporter

Premier Bennett's Social Credit "dividend" plan for easing taxation on homeowners has left municipal government officials in utter confusion.

The confusion extends to his political opponents, who see in the revolutionary proposal the formation of a new Social Credit platform and an early general election.

The new plan promises to be one of the most controversial subjects in the province.

Premier Bennett set the stage for the puzzle in a speech at Powell River Monday night. He said the government was considering a plan whereby the provincial government would pay taxes on the first $1,000 or $2,000 of assessment on residential property.

Asked to be more specific, he replied "We want to keep them guessing."

One report said the government intends picking up a share of the general purpose tax, not on education taxes. Another said only residential property taxes, and not commercial property, would be involved.

There is no clarification on whether the provincial share would include land assessments as well as improvements, and the final cost to the government is a complete mystery.

$6.4 MILLION

Vancouver officials estimate that at the highest figure mentioned by the premier, $2,000 of assessment, that city's share alone would cost the province $6,400,000.

Mayor Fred Hume of Vancouver said the plan "would be a tremendous help to old age pensioners and young folks starting out in life."

But a government authority suggested that "young people and old-age pensioners seldom own their own home, and little benefit would accrue to them unless someone found a way their rents could be dropped a corresponding amount."

The question of whether apartment houses and other multiple dwelling units would be eligible to reap the benefits of the premier's proposal still has not been decided, according to Powell River reports quoting the premier.

UNINFORMED

Provincial government officials are still in the dark. All declared themselves completely uninformed of the proposal.

"It doesn't sound right to me there must be something wrong," said one expert.

Figures compiled by one government branch show that 71 per cent of B.C.'s dwelling units are owned by the tenant—out of a total 378,000 units, 270,000 are owned by the person living in them.

On the surface the renters in the remaining 19 per cent of the dwelling units would receive no benefits from the proposal, unless landlords dropped their rents.

Oak Bay reeve Fred Norris said "the plan could be good, but we certainly need more details on it. I hope the premier

RED OFFICIAL IN COURT AS AFTERMATH OF PARTY

See Page 16

LONDON (AP)—A Russian trade official who attended Tuesday night's roisterous party at Claridge's Hotel for the visiting Soviet chiefs wound up in magistrate's court today on a drunk charge.

Gennady Vladimirovich Klirikov, 27, pleaded guilty to being drunk and incapable in a north London street at midnight.

"Are you here with the Russian trade delegation?" the magistrate asked.

Klirikov grinned. "Yes—I was at Claridge's last night."

"Hm," said the magistrate.

"Well—anything might have happened there. Pay five shillings please."

Russians Glum After Final Talk

Extra Parley With Eden Ends in Aura of Gloom

LONDON (AP)—Talks between British and Russian leaders ended tonight with Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party secretary Nikita Khrushchev emerging from an emergency extra session in a strained and glum mood.

AERIAL H-BOMB TEST AT BIKINI SET BY U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The hydrogen bomb test at Bikini atoll next month will be a mid-air explosion of a weapon dropped from a plane.

(Soviet party boss Nikita Khrushchev announced at London this week that Russia already has dropped a hydrogen bomb from a plane.)

The U.S. government has never stated specifically whether the several series of tests at the mid-Pacific proving grounds in recent years have included an air burst.

HIT STONE WALL

There were reports that the talks had run up against a stone wall of disagreement on questions of German unification and European security and had made little, if any, progress on disarmament.

The final communiqué on the talks will be published after midnight Thursday, informed sources said. A trip to Edinburgh is the main item on the agenda of the Soviet leaders Thursday.

Both sides in these discussions appeared to have made Herculean efforts to keep the hopes of an accord alive. The meetings were extended in a last-minute attempt to win some sort of 11th-hour concessions and save the British-Soviet conference from complete failure.

If this was the last meeting the Russians were to have with Eden, the farewell was unspectacular. Bulganin gave Eden a brief handshake and stepped straight into his waiting car from the steps of 10 Downing street.

Khrushchev, unsmiling, shook Eden's hand, muttering a Russian "goodbye."

GLOOMY DEPARTURE

The Russians drove directly to their hotel, the silence of the watching crowd broken only by a single male voice shouting "Go home."

The two Soviet leaders had been equally glum after leaving the morning session with Eden and his advisers—the session which originally had been planned as the last of this conference.

'Most Quoted Paper' Title For The Times

The Victoria Daily Times has won the title of "British Columbia's most quoted newspaper on the basis of per capita circulation" for the first quarter of 1956, according to a survey just completed by National Press Checking Services Ltd.

W. H. Bowden, managing director, released the study today.

The report shows that The Times topped B.C. in ratio of quotes to circulation, followed by the Vancouver Province, Nanaimo Free Press and Colonist.

In total number of quotes—which takes in the entire country—the position was reversed, with the Province first among B.C. papers and Times second, followed by the Vancouver Sun, Colonist, Vancouver Herald, and papers at Nanaimo, Kamloops, Prince Rupert, Nelson, Trail and New Westminster.

Only three British Columbia dailies made the charmed circle of Canada's "50 leading newspapers," from the entire field of 104, coast to coast, included in the quote statistics.

The Windsor Star led national standings, with the Ottawa Journal second. Of B.C. papers, the Vancouver Province ranked twentieth, the Victoria Times thirty-second and the Vancouver Sun thirty-seventh.

Inoculation Program Cannot Be Completed Before Polio Season

Salk vaccine inoculations for Greater Victoria school children will be extended into the summer holidays or the fall school term.

Victoria-Esquamit medical health officer Dr. Elizabeth Mahaffy said at noon she has been advised of further delays in shipment of the precious vaccine from Eastern Canada.

Delays were due to a rigid testing program which resulted in discard of so much vaccine that existing stock piles have been seriously depleted, she said. "Anything that doesn't measure up is being discarded. They are having the same trouble in the United States," she said. "We should know more by mid-May. I wouldn't say the vaccine was indefinitely delayed. We might get less than anticipated and we might get more."

Second Shots in Summer Holidays?

The program will not now be completed by the end of the current school term (June 28). But probably all the children will receive first doses by then. She added that second shots might have to be scheduled in the summer months or when school begins again in the fall.

The Salk program for 1956 was expanded earlier this year to include a total of 18,653 children from the 4,287 who were injected last year. It was planned to begin inoculations soon after Easter.

The new program was expected to cover all youngsters in grades one to nine as well as those starting school for the first time in September. Initial delays in shipments from Toronto's Connaught Laboratory were to permit researchers to develop a safer type of vaccine for one of three known polio viruses.

All vaccine injections must be authorized by parents in signed forms. A marked decrease in polio resulted after the injections last year.

'Peg Mayor Hurries Home To Fight Floods

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mayor George Sharpe, of Winnipeg, left here early today for home after getting a "does not look good" report on the Manitoba flood situation. He was attending the Canadian automotive electrical convention here and had planned to stay until Monday.

Today to construct a sandbag dike along the bend. At least seven breaks in the Assiniboine dikes built up a shallow lake 25 miles long and 10 miles wide in places south of the river. The waters also seeped north and RCMP Tuesday night closed a section of the province's east-west highway.

However, highways branch officials said the highway was cleared this morning and traffic was resumed. The lake added to the flood threat in Winnipeg, where the Red river is reckoned as the most serious threat.

Students and staff of St. John's Ravenscourt boys school in suburban Fort Garry began evacuating the school today as the swollen Red inched towards the buildings. The school is located between the river and a major dike and was flooded in the 1950 disaster.

WATERS FROM THE LAKE FORMED east of Portage la Prairie were reported finding a partial outlet into the Red river at St. Norbert, 13 miles south of Winnipeg. H. L. Henderson, Portage la Prairie mayor, said after an aerial survey that the floodwaters were moving southeast through the La Salle river, which empties into the Red.

Blustery north winds were forecast to bring some snowflurries and sub-freezing temperatures to southern Manitoba today. In Winnipeg, the Red rose to 20.8 feet above average river ice level, less than a foot below the point reached on the same day in 1950, a disastrous flood year. Previous forecasts for a peak of 27 to 30 feet, well over the city's major dike system of 26.5 feet, were scaled down a foot today by Manitoba flood committee. The peak is expected about May 7.

WATER AT WILDLWOOD Water began to move over tennis courts and golf course fairways Tuesday night in low-lying Wildwood in the southeast section of the city. The area is outside the dikes.

About 100 pieces of heavy earth-moving equipment, 350 trucks and 500 men worked a second round-the-clock shift to build up dikes. Some 200 volunteers worked until sand ran out to sandbag the 24.5-foot wall surrounding the low Elm Park peninsula.

Seven calves on the George Gurny farm near Baie St. Paul had to be carried to the barn loft when the Assiniboine left three feet of water covering the land. Nine cattle were in two feet of water on the barn's ground floor.

FAMILIES EVACUATED Jack Becker, whose farm is near Gurny's, said the flood would certainly mean he would have to give up farming this summer and find another job. He worked as a car

Own Political Party Labor Congress Goal?

(See Page 8)
TORONTO (BUP)—The new Canadian Labor Congress adopted a middle-of-the-road policy on political action today, with only one hand raised in opposition.
 The quick agreement on the issue, which had been feared might split the CLC apart at its charter convention, surprised everybody but the labor chiefs who negotiated it in back-room hammer-and-tong sessions.
 Since the merger convention of the Trades and Labor Congress and the Canadian Congress of Labor opened Monday, it had been speculated that the political action question would arouse stormy controversy.
 The CCL is on record as supporting the CCF party, while the stronger TLC has remained aloof from outright support of any political party.

 The new 1,000,000-member congress adopted a resolution which will bind it to a program of "political education," leaving member unions free to support without pressure any party they please, if they please.
 The TLC unionists, who never were completely happy with the neutral stand of their leaders, supported the special resolution of the unitary committee because they are now freed from the binding policy of inactivity.
 Both unions compromised in the interests of unity.
 As the vote was called, after an hour of speeches from the floor, only one hand was raised in opposition, that of a delegate who had not had a chance to speak on the issue.
 Frank Hall of the railway workers' union coined a colorful simile based on the marriage of the TLC and CCL.

In supporting the resolution, Hall said the situation of merging and unity in the political action question had "prevented a divorce of two young married people."
 "If they disagree in politics," he said, "they can't live happily together and will get a divorce, but if they sit quietly and consider why they got married and how they can best further the success of their marriage, they will stay united and be happy."
 D. F. Hamilton, representing the powerful Toronto Trades and Labor Council, was given a standing ovation as he said "This convention's willingness to compromise is a victory for labor unionism, not for either the TLC or CCL supporters."
 Many of the delegates said they felt the resolution that was adopted gave them freedom of political action on a firm foundation that would ensure successful relations between labor and politics.

OWN LABOR PARTY?
 It appeared, however, that many of the 1,600 delegates were seriously planning to eventually form their own Canadian labor party as a result of this second resolution. The first motion praised the CCF party for its past efforts in labor's cause, both in and out of parliament.
 Eamon Park of the steelworkers' union said the CLC's action "gives us the approval to develop an effective people's voice party in Canada," but he said his own union would continue its support of the CCF party.
 "The public have shown an interest in what this convention will do about politics," Park said. "I think they will be glad to see we are not forcing anyone to vote in any particular way, other than as his conscience dictates."
 The CCF was praised for its non-pressure tactics in the interests of furthering the labor movement as a whole. Delegates cheered as the party's statement was read which declared "We are not interested in political affiliation of the CLC. We want what is best for labor."
 The resolution states the political education committee should be "authorized to initiate discussions with free trade unions not affiliated with the congress, with the principal farm organizations in Canada, with the co-operative movement, and with the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation or other political parties pledged to support the legislative program of the Canadian Labor Congress, excluding Communist and Fascist-dominated parties, and to explore and develop co-ordination of action in the legislative and political fields."
 The first portion of the resolution recommends a political education committee be established to help local unions carry out any type of political action they desire.
 It urges all affiliated unions and federations to take "the utmost interest in political affairs, to continue such forms of political action or education as they may have carried on in the past, and to undertake such further activities as may in the future appear to be appropriate for achieving the basic objectives of the congress."
 A major development from the second resolution would be formation of a Canadian labor party along the lines of the British Labor party which is dominated by the giant trade unions.
 Some weight was given to this possibility yesterday by the standing ovation given to Charles J. Geddes, past president of the British Trades Union Congress, who addressed the convention.
 Geddes said he was "amazed" that the federal government had not granted civil servants collective bargaining rights.
 "Our civil servants had that 50 years ago," he said. "I am amazed the government in this progressive land does not see fit to treat its workers as human beings."
 Geddes also told the delegates any aspiring writer hoping to start on a story of the "Decline and Fall of Great Britain" as a world power had better put off the project.
 "We are not declining, much less falling," he said. "I am convinced we will solve our difficulties. I am convinced Britain has a great part yet to play in this world of science and machines."

Mr. Laing described the premier's plan as "the most far-reaching effort yet to take the public mind off the Sommers case."
 (This is a reference to the Sommers-Sturdy controversy, in which charges and counter-charges involving bribery and conspiracies have been leveled.
 Former Social Credit Lands and Forests Minister R. E. Sommers is suing Vancouver lawyer David Sturdy in connection with the charges. The case is not expected to be heard until mid-September.
 Mr. Strachan said the premier was using "a smart political trick — collecting provincial taxes from the people, and then giving part of the money back to them."

B.C. Gets 100 Of 500 Teachers Hired in U.K.

LONDON (CP)—About 500 top-flight British teachers will leave for Canada this summer to begin new careers in the classrooms of Ontario and the four Western provinces.
 The teachers, many of them highly-qualified language and science specialists, are being recruited to help offset the shortage of Canadian-trained staff. Those not earmarked for specialist posts will go to rural areas.
 Ontario, now in the midst of an active recruiting campaign, is expected to absorb about 300. British Columbia will take another 100, and the remainder will be divided among Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.
SALARY ATTRACTION
 Main attraction for the new recruits is the higher salary scale prevailing in Canada. The top British basic salary—£725 for men and £580 for women—is less than half the average salary paid to Ontario secondary vocational teachers. And an inexperienced school-marm setting out on her career in B.C. receives almost the same starting salary that United Kingdom teacher receives after 15 years' service.
 (However, in comparing these figures, weight must be given to the pound's higher purchasing power in terms of commodities and services.)
 Emphasis of the recruiting drive is on quality.
 "We consider not only teaching qualifications, but personality and adaptability to Canadian conditions," says Charles A. Mustard of Toronto, assistant superintendent of professional training for the Ontario department of education.

 penter last year when his property was inundated.
 At Westbourne, 30 miles northwest of Portage la Prairie, the swollen Whitemud River spread two feet of water over the main street and isolated many homes. Four families were evacuated and farmers near the river, which flows north into Lake Manitoba, moved livestock to dry hills.
100,000 ACRES FLOODED
REGINA (CP)—An estimated 100,000 acres of Kamsack district farmland was under water today as the Assiniboine and Whitesand rivers continued to rise in north-eastern Saskatchewan.
 Several farm families were ready to move out as water crept higher over their fields, many of which have not been seeded for the last three years.
 Downstream from its junction with the Assiniboine, the Whitesand rose 20 inches in the 16 hours ended noon today. It was running free again after crews dynamited an ice jam against a bridge.
 So far, it is the swift-flowing Whitesand that has caused most of the flooding as it pours into the slower-moving Assiniboine. The Assiniboine flood crest has yet to come, officials said.
 Kamsack is about 210 miles northeast of Regina.
 At Tantallon, a small village on the Qu'Appelle river near the Manitoba border, the river slowed its rise to stay almost a foot below the 1955 level. But eight families already have been forced from their home in the town of 140 persons.
 Boats are common transportation at Tantallon and large pike have been seen swimming along its main street and over lawns of flooded house sites.

REGINA (CP)—Mrs. Harold Turner and her family saw their home flooded out this spring for the third time.
 They were forced out of their home by floods twice last year, in April and August. But Mrs. Turner, who has 11 children, is pretty philosophical about it.
 "I feel as if I were back in my homesteading days now," she said as she resumed scrubbing the floor of the empty army hut in which she and other flood victims were temporarily quartered.
 She and her husband had gone to their house by boat to put their furniture and prized sewing machine up on the second floor.

Iola Worthington, Mt. View, Has 100-Year Roots Here

Victoria-born Miss Iola Worthington, 1369 Craigdarroch, claims deep roots in the industrial beginnings of the city.
 Miss Worthington keeps her hand in the business world as commercial teacher at Mount View High School, but her great-grandfather and great uncle operated Porter Bros. brickyard near the site of the B.C. Electric garage long before the turn of the century.
 Miss Worthington's great-grandfather came to Victoria in 1858, before the city was incorporated.
 She attended North Ward, Victoria High and Sprott-Shaw Schools, then went to Normal and University of British Columbia, graduating in 1929 with a BA in mathematics and economics.
 Her teaching career began in Nelson and moved to Cobble Hill, Mount Douglas and Mount View in 1939. She stayed at the latter until 1943 when she joined the navy to serve as a WRN lieutenant in supply branch.
 Later she became secretary to Captain "D", Halifax, who was responsible for organizing destroyer escorts for North Atlantic convoys overseas.
 Miss Worthington returned to civil life in 1946, coming back to Mount View, where typing is her favorite subject of the many commercial courses she teaches.

 Mrs. N. M. Fulton, 1155 Finlayson, told the TPC meeting that there are 500 to 600 TV sets within a half-mile radius of the site, an investment, she said, greater than the investment in the new station set at $250,000.
 Mr. Proudfoot said the new Capital Television System will be incorporated for $1,000,000 with an initial cash investment of $300,000.

SALT SPRING ISLAND
 The 100-foot transmission tower would be moved to Salt Spring Island by 1958, he stated.
 Other aldermen, who will be required to make the final decision for or against rezoning despite whatever recommendations came from the TBC expressed themselves as follows:
 Ald. Geoffrey I. Edgelow: "The whole thing needs clarification. I will reserve my final opinion for a public hearing. But if it is going to cause interference the people of the city generally would be entitled to a say, by public hearing or plebiscite."

Ald. M. H. Mooney: "It won't be settled Thursday. Possibly Saanich, Esquimalt, Oak Bay and the city should all have a referendum on the question. I wouldn't support the station if there is no use of local talent ... but would sacrifice the other stations to interference if local talent is to be used."
 Ald. W. F. Pinfold: "It may have to come to a plebiscite. No doubt a lot more information will come out at a public hearing. There will have to be a hearing before any rezoning action could take place."
FULL REVIEW
 Ald. Arthur Dowell: "I would support Ald. Curtis' suggestion for a full review by qualified experts of the CBC. Town planning will also give this further study. I don't think the decision is going to be hurried."
 Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson: "I'm not a viewer and I haven't formed a definite opinion. But if the protests are found to carry weight, I would oppose them."
 Ald. Don Smith: "I wouldn't favor a plebiscite. Council will review the facts and use its own intelligence. Council will come up with a satisfactory solution."

Further Brewery Study By Combines Probers

(From Times News Services)

OTTAWA (CP)—Federal combines investigators are giving further study to reported quota arrangements among breweries in Manitoba and other provinces, Justice Minister Garson informed the Commons today.

He said he could not elaborate because of secrecy which must prevail around operations of the justice department's combines branch.

Fred S. Zaplitzky (CCF, Dauphin) had asked the minister whether a further inquiry will be made into "the restrictive trade practices of Manitoba breweries." He said a representative of the Manitoba breweries recently said restrictive sales agreements had been in effect among the breweries since 1936.

Mr. Garson said a combines report made last year about merger activities of Canadian Breweries Limited had referred, without elaborating, to certain quota arrangements in Manitoba and other provinces.

"The matter of such agreements has been receiving further consideration by the combines branch."

He said he still is waiting for a legal opinion on the Canadian Breweries Ltd. case from Toronto lawyer Norman L. Matthews. Delays had been due to the nature of the case and to a temporary illness of Mr. Matthews, who now was back on the job.

A CCF Commons member says he suspects Transport Controller Roy W. Milner's work is often carried on by his stenographer.

Mervyn Johnson, of Kindersley constituency, Saskatchewan, made the statement Tuesday in the Commons while describing Mr. Milner as a "complete failure" as a transport controller. Instead of being on part-time loan to the transport department from the board of grain commissioners, Mr. Milner should be employed full time, Mr. Johnson said. Additional controllers should be appointed to assist him.

Extension of Powers Sought

The transport controller came under sharp criticism as the Commons considered a resolution preceding introduction of a bill to extend Mr. Milner's powers for a further two-year period. Present powers, intended to ensure prompt, orderly and efficient transport of goods in bulk, expire May 31.

Both Mr. Johnson and John Diefenbaker (PC, Prince Albert) were critical of boxcar distribution for western grain shipments.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the controller's powers have not been used to provide western farmers with a fair or reasonable allocation of boxcars. The government should explain why the powers were not employed to supply enough boxcars.

Mr. Johnson said a recent government report showed Mr. Milner has issued no directives to the railways for a considerable time. It appeared he operated through the telephone, trying to "joke" the railways into carrying out his wishes.

Mr. Diefenbaker said there were some 31,000 boxcars available for hauling wheat from last July 31 to Jan. 31 than in the corresponding period a year earlier. Yet there was an increase in cars available to move iron ore, oil, pulpwood, crushed rock and other products.

"Why did western farmers receive so little consideration?" he asked. "Was it because of the fact that there is more profit to be made by the railways in handling other commodities than in hauling wheat?"

Mr. Milner had said he was not responsible for the boxcar shortage. Yet Trade Minister Howe had several times blamed Mr. Milner for the shortage.

If Mr. Howe was correct "the transport controller made a colossal failure of the job he had to do."

Transport Minister Marler said grain movement is not Mr. Milner's only responsibility. Also under his control were ore, metal, pulpwood, coal and other bulk goods.

There had been enough boxcars to move grain last year, one of "substantial activity" in all forms of transport. The railways had done a good job in moving grain when asked to.

The Commons would agree, once grain shipment figures for the current crop year were known and climatic difficulties were considered, that the railways and Mr. Milner "will merit general commendation."

Income Tax 'Inquisition' Scored

Davie Fulton says the Commons should protect honest, conscientious taxpayers from "inquisitorial investigation" into years-old income tax returns.

The Progressive Conservative member for Kamloops opened debate Tuesday on his bill to cut by half the present six-year limit in which the revenue department can reopen old tax returns and boost tax assessments.

His measure also would limit to six years the present indefinite period during which tax inspectors can order production of a taxpayer's financial records.

Mr. Fulton said, however, that he holds no brief for dishonest taxpayers who try to cheat the government. His bill would retain the present indefinite period for reassessments and inspection of records in cases where the revenue department alleges fraud or misrepresentation.

Few persons realized the law requires them to keep all their tax records until the revenue department permits them to be destroyed. Inspectors could order production of records regardless of how old they were and whether fraud was suspected or not. Taxpayers should be allowed to destroy records after six years.

Hon. George Drew Tuesday renewed the Progressive Conservative party's demand for encouragement of secondary processing industries in the development of Canada's resources.

He said the government is setting up a "straw man" by representing that argument as opposition to the flow of investment capital from the United States.

"That is a known fiction," Mr. Drew said.

The opposition leader developed that argument—over the objection of Resources Minister Lesage—during Commons debate on a government resolution concerning a 22-mile, $2,800,000 CNR branch line to be built to a new base metal mine in northern New Brunswick.

The line would run from Barabois, on the CNR main line, to the lead-zinc-copper property of Heath Steele Mine Ltd., a subsidiary of American Metal Co.

Transport Minister Marler said the CNR expects to complete the branch not later than Nov. 1, 1958. Estimated annual traffic would be 120,000 tons of ore concentrates for export, 12,000 cords of pulpwood and $115,000 worth of general freight traffic.

U.S. Bucks Red China For Atom Agency Seat

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Red China will be denied membership in international atomic energy agency to be created under President Eisenhower's "atoms-for-peace" program, the United States indicated today.

Ambassador James J. Wadsworth, deputy chief of the U.S. mission to the United Nations, made public the draft statute to govern the agency which will supervise distribution of atomic materials and know-how among the world's underdeveloped countries for peaceful purposes.

The statute was drafted in Washington by the United States, Russia and 10 other original members of the projected IAEA. The others were Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Britain, Canada, Czechoslovakia, France, India, Portugal and South Africa.

The statute opens membership initially to members of the United Nations and its specialized agencies—84 in all—but provides that other countries, "whether or not members of the UN or its specialized agencies," may be elected later upon recommendation of the agency's board of governors.

Wadsworth acknowledged the technical possibility that Red China might gain membership, or even that both Communist and Nationalist China might be members, but he said he thought the possibility was remote.

The statute, which has been sent to all 84 prospective initial members, will be debated at a conference here on or about Sept. 24. The conference was expected to last until the end of October. Once agreement is reached on the statute among all the initial members, the document will be thrown open for signature at a ceremony here.

The agency will go into operation once 18 countries, including three from among the United States, Russia, Britain, Canada and France, have ratified it.

Whether plants can live on Mars.

A glass sphere in a cold storage room on the UBC campus served as Mars. Pressure in the sphere was one-tenth that of earth. Temperatures were 30 degrees centigrade and 20 degrees below centigrade for alternate 12-hour periods.

The atmosphere consisted of 98.5 per cent nitrogen, 25 per cent carbon dioxide and 1.2 per cent argon.

"The experiment proved the definite possibility of plants living on Mars," said Dr. Wort.

"It should really have been continued for a year to provide better proof, but we were using borrowed equipment and it had to be returned."

University officials said the experiment was the first ever carried out to determine whether plants can live on Mars.

Himmler Tried For Armistice Papers Show

Double-Crossed Adolf Hitler

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Sweden today said that Gestapo chief Heinrich Himmler was a traitor to Adolf Hitler two years before the fall of the German Third Reich.

A historical white book published by the Swedish foreign office brought out that in 1943, Himmler sought peace contacts with the Western powers through Sweden and behind the Fuehrer's back.

Germany's surrender, ending the Second World War, did not come until May 7, 1945. Hitler already had killed himself in his Berlin bunker. Himmler later did the same in British captivity.

The white book said Himmler made "consistent efforts to arrange peace contacts with the Western powers via Sweden." It recalled his 1945 talks with the late Count Folke Bernadotte of Sweden.

But it said he also asked Sweden's leading banker, Jacob Wallenberg, three times to arrange such contacts—in 1943, 1944 and 1945.

One document in the white paper, published for the first time, said Himmler also sent his deputy, Walter Schellenberg, to Sweden about 10 times to negotiate with Westerners.

ALL LYDIA HAS TO DO IS CONVINCE MARTIN

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Provincial Health Minister Eric Martin said he will endorse a cure for cancer by Lydia Arsens or anyone else if they can prove it.

That was the tenor of Martin's comment Tuesday at a Social Credit rally in Vancouver as he mentioned the name of the Social Credit lady MLA from Victoria.

"I sometimes disagree with Lydia Arsens, but she's got a right to say what she believes," said the minister.

"I'll say this: If anybody presents me a formula for the cure of cancer," here he slammed his fist on the table—"then let her rip, we'll see that it's used."

An Agonizing Reappraisal

MR. DULLES ONCE THREAT-ened, in a famous phrase, to undertake an agonizing reappraisal of western Europe's policies. In the last few days he seems to have undertaken an agonizing reappraisal of his own policies. And this may well turn out to be the best news of recent times.

Two developments in the last week mark what seems to be a basic change in the thinking of the Eisenhower Government.

First, the President—publicly admitting a transformation in the Russian tactics of the cold war—proposes to set up a non-partisan brain trust to re-consider American tactics.

Second, Mr. Dulles announces—almost as if the idea were new to him—that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization must advance from the military to the economic and political phase which was clearly anticipated in its original charter and then largely neglected.

The American Government thus has turned its mind at last to the clause in the North Atlantic Treaty written by the late Hume Wond, perhaps the most brilliant mind of the Canadian external affairs department.

Under this clause the signatories agreed to buttress their military alliance with an economic alliance, to convert their defence community into a community of peoples sharing the wealth, the trade and the traditions of Atlantic civilization.

But so long as the immediate danger seemed to be military, all the energies of NATO, naturally enough, went into defensive preparations. Even the Marshall Plan, huge, generous and successful as it was, became only a by-product of military defence. Undoubtedly it saved Europe from collapse or communism and miraculously repaired the industrial damage of the war, but it failed to create the kind of community envisaged by NATO's architects.

As Mr. Pearson has pointed out again and again, that final step in co-operation has yet to be taken. Now, says Mr. Dulles, the United States is ready to consider it.

It is easy, of course, to talk about a North Atlantic community in abstract terms. What practical measures can be attempted?

The old dream of a political federation or super-state can be dismissed at once, as Mr. Dulles dismisses it. The free peoples are not ready for it yet.

If the old political barriers of national sovereignty cannot be dissolved overnight, the barriers of international trade—the immediate barriers to true co-operation—can be reduced, if not removed. Trade, in fact, is the real core of the North Atlantic problem and it is here that the objectives of NATO have most notably failed.

They have failed mostly because President Eisenhower has failed to convert the protectionists of the Republican Party, all the real progress in this direction having been achieved by the Roosevelt and Truman Governments.

There are possibilities of co-operation apart from trade, but it will be vain to talk of a North Atlantic community unless the United States and other nations are prepared to re-consider their trade policies.

The whole economic sub-structure of the military alliance must be unbalanced and therefore weak so long as the United States insists on exporting far more than it imports, thereby creating a dollar shortage, or the constant threat of a shortage among its partners; so long as the partners are divided into two separate currency blocs; and so long as the living standards of North America are immeasurably higher than those of Britain and western Europe.

If the solution of these problems is extremely complex and cannot be achieved easily or quickly, the present condition of NATO is becoming clear and alarming. As Mr. Stevenson and Senator Kefauver have been warning the American people lately, NATO is in danger of melting under the warmth of Russian smiles, precisely as the Kremlin hopes.

The American Government seems to realize what Mr. Pearson has been telling it for several years—that NATO must continue as a military alliance and cannot afford to reduce its military strength, but if it is to live long, flourish and expand it must begin, very late, to think in economic and political terms, especially in terms of trade. For trade, more than anything else, much more than aid, will unite the partners.

Need Psychiatric Help

THE RECENT DEPREDATIONS of vandals in Beacon Hill Park will have disgusted every thinking resident of this community. But it would be well not to let anger against such senseless destruction lead us to demand extravagant punishments for the offenders.

Obviously these were the acts of mental incompetents, for whom not punishment but psychiatric treatment in an institution is the sensible course. Such persons, of any age, are akin with those poor unfortunates who tear up the mattresses and deface the walls of their protective cells. They are a liability to any community while they are at large and should be placed as soon as possible where proper treatment will give them some hope of recovery.

The Halloween prank, the "mischievousness" of growing boys, bear no resemblance to such acts as these. Police protection, as urged by the Mayor, should be provided, in order that these and other vandals may be deterred if not apprehended.

Eye on the Adolescent

WHEN THE FAMILY AND Children's Service holds its annual meeting tomorrow night it will give detailed study to the adolescent.

In the opinion of some of the agency's officials, facilities here are inadequate to deal with the problem. The trouble arising from the teenager who is not amenable to parental control, or who lacks the type of parent who can exercise adequate control, is increasing. Startling figures, for instance, have recently been published on the number of unmarried mothers in the teen-age group. The behaviour of some of their male counterparts is equally disturbing.

The Family and Children's Service supporters and staff know as well as any other group that the number of juvenile delinquents is small in comparison to the total youth population.

But the Family and Children's Service is an agency which must deal with these particular cases.

These are children usually too old for successful adoption. They are frequently of a nature unsuitable for the ordinary foster home. If their behaviour is to be improved, the improvement will come largely from a very special type of foster parent—a person able to look on them with an almost scientific objectivity.

And the community further needs a suitable group home for them during periods of treatment.

The agency's success in coping with the problem will depend very largely on the understanding support, as well as financial assistance, it receives from the public. That, doubtless, will be emphasized Thursday evening and during future discussions.

The meeting will not be devoted entirely to the adolescent. A wide range of other topics, case work among families, the different services supplied both to adults and to children, and reports on the Fred Landsberg Sunshine Camp will hold their places on the agenda.

The meeting this year, as in the past, will be vitally important to the community. As it lays down a program, it will determine to a large extent what progress will be made in solving the mounting problems of family living and child welfare in Greater Victoria.

The Written Word

IN HIS COMPLIMENTARY REMARKS to newspapers in general and The Canadian Press news-gathering agency, in particular, Governor-General Vincent Massey has underscored an important point.

While radio, television and the film reel have brought many features to the field of communication, he believes that "vividness is no substitute for permanence."

The written word, in his opinion, will never lose its pride of place.

The man whose abilities have been admirably reflected in his monumental report on the arts and letters in Canada, underscores a fact that will enjoy wide understanding.

In a day when so many people draw impressions—not always accurate—from the fleeting spoken word and the flickering scene on the viewing screen, he points to the durability of type, which the individual can read, study and return to.

It remains the medium of communication which furnishes the basis for opinion reaching deeper than surface influences.

The Flowers That Bloom in the Spring

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

OVER in Vancouver the other day, a respectable dentist was strolling through the respectable district known as Shaughnessy Heights, on the sacred thoroughfare known as Angus Drive, when lo and behold ye, he came upon three young ruffians. Hoodlums, I don't know if their suits were made of zoot, but they acted as if they had worn nothing but reinforced concrete from birth. Real rough stuff.

The three hoodlums were engaged in smashing up a child's tricycle. You could tell it was a child's model... adults' tricycles have well-nigh vanished from Shaughnessy Heights. The dentist asked them to cease and desist, whereupon they decided to resent this un-Shaughnessy-like practice of addressing perfect strangers. To mend the poor surgeon's manners they threatened him with three spring-knives and a 9 mm. gun. He was then advised to take to his heels. And, as would be the case with any of us, his heels were the first thing he took to. Me, I would take to my heels as a duck takes to water.

THERE are two interesting things about this tiny story. First, that it happened in Shaughnessy. I'm sorry, but whenever anything lowers the tone of Shaughnessy it tends to make me laugh. This possibly proves me a bad citizen, though it also proves me a raw beginner at snobbery. I have never taken "nice" districts any too seriously. While I am all against ruining them with factories, etc., I can never believe that the people in a "nice" district are saintly and seraphical. Even the grown-ups, I mean. As for their kids... words fail me.

The second interesting thing is this: why in the world should armed thugs, of any age-group, be devoting their evenings to smashing tricycles? Most enemies of society set their sights a little higher. Few people would smash tricycles for a handsome and wicked profit. And the profit in smashing tricycles must, in an average year, be very small. A crook would have to smash an awful lot of them to notice the difference.

CRIMINOLOGY

BEFORE I get very deep, though, into any investigation of the mind of the typical armed trike-buster, I have something much bigger to clear up in the field of criminology. I want to discover just what sort of person gets murdered. We hear a great deal about what sort of person performs the murder. But this is a one-sided business, this sort of research. It just so happens that murder is about as two-sided a business as you could find this side of monogamy. I am not talking, of course, about the slaughter of innocent bystanders and other victims unknown to the murderer. By the way, let us get rid of that awful word "murderer"... any word that upsets you is old-fashioned and therefore wrong and harmful. I think it would be nice and scientific and dispassionate and fair if we called murderers by some such label as "lethal surgeons."

THE label should suggest they are ill, though... they are advanced cases of social inadequacy... ACSL. They are defaulting custodians of the life-force... DCLF. Though they are sometimes guilty of TVS... they usually do this because they are suffering from FE, which is false emphasis... they tend to state a case too rambunctiously, as it were, thus ruining their own argument and much else besides. They are victims of an FNA... a fatally negative approach.

Where were we? Oh yes, I'm not talking about the victims against whom the accused had no personal grudge. I'm talking about the ones he knew only too well... the ones whose personalities prodded him into his drastic steps. Is there really such a creature as the Average Victim? The Natural-born Victim? I think there is... I can see him from here, the wretch.

I SAY "him"... I am too polite to describe the female variety. The male specimen is not necessarily either dwarfish or hulking, but can be of any convenient length. Almost everything he does is wrong. He not only attracts bad luck, he creates it. Do you know the sort of chap who combines extreme awkwardness with extreme bad luck? Getting yourself murdered is both at once... it is not only very bad luck but is an extremely awkward thing to do. You will remember that I'm talking about the natural-born victim, not the exceptions... Julius Caesar, for instance, was not the fumbling and apologetic loutish type at all... I can tell that, because when they stabbed him he didn't say "Who, me? Oops, excuse me." The type I mean is always saying "Oops."

IF HE lived to be a hundred he still wouldn't understand why you murdered him. Since he won't live to a hundred, this particular problem cannot arise, but you follow me... he tries so hard to understand everything... much too hard, and to no avail. And when his wife complains that he doesn't understand her, she forgets that she would hate it much worse if he did understand her. With a man who saw through her, she would feel that poison was too good for him. With the man who tries madly to understand her, she feels that poison isn't good enough for the poor awkward halfwit but she might as well try it anyway.

The Real Soviet Aims

EGYPT'S new leader Gama Abdel Nasser, is reported to have remarked about recent Western and Soviet dealing with the Middle East, that he had "never seen good people do so badly and bad people do so well." Certainly the bad people, the Soviets, have been handling their relations with Egypt and the Arab world with real brilliance. The arms deal is only part of the story. So are the extensive trade relations now being established between the Arab states and the entire Soviet bloc.

The real story is something bigger than either of these developments, important as they both are. It is the carefully calculated effort by the Kremlin and its agents to persuade the Arab nationalist leaders that they can have full Soviet backing for anything they want to do, anytime they want to ask for it.

After the Eden-Eisenhower meeting in Washington, for example, strong though informal hints were dropped both here in Cairo and in Damascus that the Arab state could count on Soviet military support if the Western powers intervened in an Arab-Israeli war on behalf of Israel.

Again, before the meeting of the United Nations Security Council that sent Dag Hammarskjöld off on his peace-making mission, the Soviet Ambassador here called on Prime Minister Nasser to ask what attitude Egypt wished the Soviet Union to take in the matter.

Flattering Attentions

Towards the Arab nationalists, in fact, the masters of the Kremlin are now using the phrases of an old-fashioned European hotel concierge—"At your service, gentlemen, you have only to command and it will be done." There are clear signs, too, that these flattering attentions are causing some Arab nationalists to think rather longingly of any break with the West and Soviet alliance.

During the last week for instance, Cairo rocked with the story of an editorial published in the government newspaper under the signature of a member of the revolutionary officers council and Minister of State, Col. Anwar el Sadat. In this effusion, the Colonel denounced both Britain and the United States in the bitterest terms, heaped the warmest praise on the Soviet Union, and in effect suggested that Egypt should look only to the Kremlin for aid and friendship. Prime Minister Nasser was frankly appalled when he read the editorial. Col. Anwar el Sadat was ordered to publish another editorial cancelling the first. But in this second effusion he hardly went further than to admit that after all, President Eisenhower was not a bad fellow.

Altogether, it will be just as idiotic for the Washington and London policymakers to ignore the present Soviet diplomatic propaganda offensive in this area, as it was idiotic for them to ignore the many advance warnings that the Soviets were about to sell arms to Egypt. Above all it must be understood that the Soviets enjoy great advantages here in the Middle East.

Bothersome Conditions
In their dealings with the excitable Arab nationalists, the Soviet do not have to make the bothersome conditions that the West must make.

They do not have to say "We cannot allow you to attack." They do not have to say, "Leave the oil alone, it is our lifeblood." They can say instead, "Take the oil, it has been stolen from you." And with all this they can play the anti-colonial trumpet in a way that sounds extremely convincing to Arab ears.

The real Soviet aim, of course, is to use Arab nationalism as a weapon to cut the oil jugular of Western Europe. Thus Britain is to be bankrupted, NATO is to be brought down in ruin, and the Western alliance is to be crippled or destroyed.

The wiser Arab leaders, conspicuously including Prime Minister Nasser, are not at all averse to using the Soviets as levers to move the West, but at the same time they fully understand the real Soviet aims.

Above all, Nasser and the others like him understand that a final break with the West would leave the Arab nationalist movement in naked isolation with the Soviet Union. They do not like to admit the fact to Westerners, since this decreases their bargaining power.

Balanced Relations

But Nasser and the others like him also realize that weak powers left in isolation with a giant power must inevitably fall under the giant powers' domination. They know, in short, that if they do not have the West to balance their relations with the Soviet bloc, they will lose the independence they have fought so hard for.

But if the Western statesmen do not find some means to come to terms with the new Arab nationalism, even those nationalist leaders who see the peril ahead will be forced further and further towards an outright pro-Soviet policy. Even Prime Minister Nasser, strong as he is, cannot altogether resist the tide of emotion among his followers. And this is why this is a grave moment of choice for the West. How to Play the U-Game

I LIKE a lot of other readers I have been waiting almost impatiently for the publication of "Noblesse Oblige," which is subtitled, "An Enquiry Into the Identifiable Characteristics of the English Aristocracy." It is not that I feel with this Duke of Rutland:

Let Wealth and Commerce, Laws and Learning die

But leave us still our Old Nobility.

It is more that there has developed quite a severe need for a properly codified set of rules to a new game which can be played without cards or boards or pencils and paper. It is the "U" game and consists first in setting up inhibitions in other people and then making fun of them when, inhibited, they hesitate. It is a psychological trick which in a simpler form was established by Stephen Potter's "Gamesmanship"—the trick of keeping "one up" on your opponent all the time.

In the "U" game it is not simply a matter of "how to win without actually cheating," but of how to make the rules and then jeer at those who break them. The simplest form of the "U" game is played with words and is based on the indisputable fact that any tightly integrated social group is bound to have certain keywords in everyday speech which bind it together—just as every family has its private vocabulary used to describe things or situations peculiar to itself.

Top-Drawer Words

Miss Nancy Mitford began the "U" game in her two novels, "The Pursuit of Love" and "Love in a Cold Climate," simply by recording the fact that a top-drawer family uses top-drawer words.

Obvious examples were writing paper (not notepaper), looking glass (not mirror), loo (not toilet). From those simple, early days the game has snowballed into a minute system of observation, though still played by very few people, and Professor Alan S. C. Ross has provided the simple tags "U" and "non-U" for upper class or non-upper class to be attached according to rules laid down by such arbiters as Miss Mitford, herself.

It is Miss Mitford who says it is all a game, though her contribution to "Noblesse Oblige" is a relatively serious study of the aristocracy itself rather than of its minor habits of speech.

Professor Ross is as serious as possible (which adds to the fun, of course) and uses such mouthfuls as "The linguistic class-indicators are almost all philologically trivial and, apparently, almost all of an ephemeral nature."

Most in Least

The "U" game used to be played entirely on language, and John Betjeman in "Time and Tide" was at one time a recorder for using most of non-U words in the least possible space when he wrote the poem beginning:

Phone for the fish-knives, Norman,
As Cook is a little unversed;
You kiddies have crumpled the serviettes
And J must have things daintily served.

Soon the game proliferated and now we can play at spotting U-verbs, U-habits, U-games. There is even U-physics, a fact established only a few days ago by Miss Mitford herself. She was interviewed and the daring girl reporter asked the dangerous question, "Am I 'U'?" "Well," said Miss Mitford, cagily, "You have U legs, anyway."

Such limbs, I gather, must be long and slim, especially at the ankles, and the choice of shoes for putting at their extremities is a matter full of U inhibitions.

From my own researches, not all of which are supported in "Noblesse Oblige," I have made up a beginners' guide, by categories.

Words	U	Non-U
Fish-knives	U	Fish knives (or forks)
Col. Auto	U	Col. Automobile
Motor car	U	Motor
House	U	Home
Sitting room	U	Lounge
Sick	U	Ill
Rich	U	Wealthy
Luncheon (midday)	U	Dinner (note: dogs, children and servants may have dinner in the U)
Telephone	U	Phone
Table napkins	U	Tablecloths
Telegram	U	Wire
Scottish	U	Scottish
Of persons, places, things	U	Of
Drinks	U	Drinks
Whisky	U	Whisky
Whisky and soda	U	Gin and water; martini
Flunk	U	Flunk

As a general rule ice in any drink is non-U, though chilling is permissible, especially of champagne.

Churches	U	Non-U
Church of England	U	All others
Roman Catholic	U	Association football
Games	U	Law, tennis
Rugby football	U	Pontoon (except per-
Tennis	U	haps under the name
Yacht	U	violin-etc.)
Playset	U	What (note: in all card
All field sports	U	games the one below
Billiards	U	the Queen is the
	U	Jack, never the
	U	Scrabble

It is too difficult, even invidious, to go into the question of U-motor cars, but the general principle is easy enough: Whatever is too big, too expensive, too fast (unless it be a racing motor car) is non-U.

Too much space would be taken up by going into U and non-U countries. Some can be both: To be "out in Canada" or "out in Australia" (especially in the remotest places) may very well be U; merely to visit these places would be unthinkably non-U.

Same Reasons

Almost the whole continent of Africa is U, except Egypt, but you have to be careful whom you mix with in some territories. The West Indies are unthinkably non-U for many reasons, so are many parts of the United States, for about the same reasons.

Well there, in brief, you have it; But it's necessary really to read "Noblesse Oblige" before you can be fully equipped to try out the game.

There are several ways of playing. The simplest is making up grossly non-U sentences and laughing at yourself. A stage more complex is noting the non-U phrases, conduct and possessions of other people for discussion behind their backs, but the highest form of the game is imploring doubt in the minds of your friends about whether they know how to speak English well, or even at all, by pointing out that they from time to time commit heastly non-Uisms.

Of course, it's necessary to be sure of your friends, and not to play in too enclosed a space.

Leave Nature Alone

LONDON—Nature study department... KITTENS: These are something of which there are usually plenty. People are always coming up to you and asking, "Can you use a kitten?" Into a sack with a rock and down a batch for which no homes can be found. The cat world's output of kittens is invariably far beyond the demand.

Reyburn has tried the Battersea Home for stray dogs and cats, but there is none there. The RSPCA hasn't any, nor have the local pet shops.

A friend who lives in the country scouted around for her but couldn't locate any. People whose business it is to know what goes on in the cat community tell her that they have never known such a kitten shortage.

Reason: Britain's recent freeze-up. The cat Casanova found it so cold that they preferred to stay by the fire instead of going out and doing some courting.

PIGEONS: Here's the old Balance of Nature at work again. A year or so ago Britain's farmers succeeded in wiping out the rabbit population by spreading the killing disease of myxomatosis. Result: the country is getting overrun with pigeons. Storks used to go for the rabbits but now since there are no rabbits for them to prey on they have turned their attention to grey squirrels. The grey squirrels were fond of stealing pigeon eggs. Now the eggs are hatching instead of being sniped by squirrels and the pigeon is flourishing.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Hope for the Short Boy

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

Many worried parents ask me what to do for a boy who is not growing. Usually I suspect that either one or both of his parents are short, and the boy has inherited a gene which tends to restrict growth. Until recently, I knew of no available drug likely to make much difference. A few men have reported some results from the use of tiny amounts of vitamin B12.

One thing all parents of short boys should remember; and this is that not much growth can be hoped for after the age of 16 or 17, when the leg bones have grown as long as they can ever grow.

For years I have been hoping that the growth hormone of the pituitary gland (at the base of the brain) isolated years ago by my old friend, Professor Herbert Evans, would be completely purified and then secured in commercially available amounts. Now I see in an article by Dr. K. A. Baird of Canada (Amer. Practitioner and Digest of Treatment, Feb. 1956) that the antihypertensive hormone, when injected, caused two short girls to shoot up in a striking way.

Years ago Dr. Evans showed me some great big hound-like dogs which he had made out of little dachshunds with the help of the growth hormone.

NATURAL RESISTANCE TO INFECTION

There is much that we physicians would like greatly to know about the great resistance of many animal and human bodies to infections of various kinds. For instance: We do not know why a hen can remain unharmed after receiving a dose of lockjaw poisoning that would quickly kill a man. We do not know why a rat is immensely more resistant to many diseases than is a guinea pig. We do not know why an individual throughout a long life can be almost immune to infections—even colds—when other persons are always coming down with the colds and fevers that are going the rounds.

How do wild animals of Africa live and thrive in the presence of biting flies that would promptly kill off imported animals? Why are some varieties of a plant highly resistant to disease when others are not? Naturally, research physicians wish that they could find and identify and use as medicines the substances in nature that account for the several marked general immunities to infections.

Recently, a number of scientists, meeting

"You can't meddle with Nature" was a favorite theme of Toronto's late, well-loved Dr. Frank O'Leary. I remember his telling me once of a man who was very proud of some beautiful trees around his summer cottage. Owls used to roost in these trees. He regarded them as a confounded nuisance, their hooting disturbing his nights. So he went out and shot the lot.

In due course he lost all his wonderful trees. It was the owls that used to prey on a type of rodent that played havoc with the bark around the base of the trees. With their enemy out of the way, they went at the trees to their heart's content, eventually killing them all.

In the land of the one-night stand... STAN KENTON: He has arrived here with great fanfare, the first American band to be allowed to play here for 20 years. In 1935 the Musicians' Unions of the U.S. and Britain had a row and since then no bands have crossed the Atlantic either way. In exchange for Kenton's three months here, Americans will get a similar tour by Britain's Ted Heath.

LIBERACE: They're cooking up advance publicity for his visit. His agents have unearthed a glamorous grandmother who has been pictured with nine photos of Liberace on the sideboard in her flat. We're invited to believe he's her dream man after his TV appearance on the commercial service here. My wife and the youngsters never miss a Liberace telecast—regard it as the funniest program on the air.

LOUIS ARMSTRONG: A really fabulous one-night stand. He flies to Ireland from the States for one night only, for which he picks up a $20,000 fee. The engagement is a $25,000 sellout. The organizers pocket the surplus and everybody's happy.

DOZING PEERS EXCITE BULGANIN, KHRUSHCHEV

LONDON (AP)—Marshal Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev caught some peers in awkward positions Tuesday during a visit to the House of Lords.

When the Soviet leaders arrived there were 45 peers in the chamber—three asleep, two with their feet on a table.

Bulganin and Khrushchev talked excitedly to each other and both pointed at the relaxing members.

The Russians stayed only 10 minutes after listening to a debate on purifying the air.

By the time they left, one of the sleeping lords awoke. The other two still were snoozing.

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

Faded Daff Blooms Should Be Removed

The four weeks since the first daffodils opened have scurried by so quickly that it amazed to find some of the blooms already fading.

Three to four weeks is average time for the early varieties to remain in good condition outdoors if the weather is not too warm. The recent sunny days have hastened the maturity of many blooms and it is time to remove them.

Good blooms and strong stems next year depend on the treatment the bulbs receive from now on.

Allowing the old flowers to remain on the plants until seed pods form is poor practice because of the unnecessary drain of reserves which should be used for next year's flowers.

FERTILIZE: As soon as the faded blooms are cut (the long flower stems may remain), scatter a handful of complete garden fertilizer around each group of bulbs and water it thoroughly.

The soil should be cultivated lightly the following day and more water supplied if the soil seems at all dry. There must be sufficient moisture to carry the fertilizer in solution down to the bulb roots.

Should the dry weather persist, deep watering of the daffodils will have to be done after all flowers are cut.

A sprinkler left on for four hours should supply enough moisture to take the bulbs through to their ripening period.

Charter Licence Awarded Cassidair Firm

NANAIMO—Cassidair Services has been advised by Department of Transport that the firm's application for an operating licence in class 4 and 7 has been recommended.

John Plecas said the issuance of the licence is subject to the approval of the minister.

Class 4 licence will give the company the privilege of operating charter flights from Cassidy to any point in Canada, and a class 7 licence will permit operating of the proposed flying school here.

A new hangar is under construction, to be completed within two weeks. Three aircraft are now on order for the proposed charter service.

Sunday Sport Right Claimed by By-Law

VANCOUVER (RUP)—Chairman Robert Maitland of the Vancouver Board of Park Commissioners believes Vancouver can have commercial Sunday sport any time if the City Council will pass a by-law. A lawyer, Maitland said his opinion is based on a study of the Lord's Day Act and the city charter.

Service Pay Plan Approved For Esquimalt Employees

Esquimalt council agreed Monday to give municipal employees, excepting police-firemen, five cents per working day service pay for each five years of employment.

About 10 employees, mostly on the outside staff, are eligible.

Esquimalt was the only municipality in the area which did not grant service pay, according to the union.

Employees had asked in negotiations for a 10 cents a day consideration for each five years of service.

THREE-CENT BOOST: Council will recommend a new wage rate of $1.70 an hour for parkmen and $1.50 an hour for laborers, both an increase of three cents an hour over an original offer made in annual contract negotiations.

Other job classification rates have already been established and accepted by the union.

The reeve and municipal engineer were authorized to attend the annual general meeting of Victoria May 30 of Association of

MLA Would Fire Staff of Girls' Reform School

Lacks Discipline Says Bert Price

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mass firing of the entire staff of the girls' industrial school here and its replacement with persons who can enforce discipline was demanded Tuesday night by Bert Price, Social Credit MLA for Vancouver-Burrard.

His outburst was made on the same platform with his Burrard running-mate, Health and Welfare Minister Eric Martin, who is the minister responsible for administration of the school.

The attack on the school's administration produced from Mr. Martin—in a statement to newspapermen after the meeting an announcement that a male assistant supervisor, a male patrolman for night duty, and a male station wagon driver are being appointed as additional staff to the school.

Mr. Martin also told reporters he is satisfied the staff members operate the school "to the best of their ability within the conditions they work under."

But the minister in his speech to a Social Credit rally had no comment on Mr. Price's free-wheeling attack on the "social workers and do-gooders" who he claimed operate the school.

Mr. Price said that nobody would begrudge the $152,900 being spent this year on the school if it would help the girls confined there.

"But as long as it means that there continue to be riots, that there is no discipline, that the girls come and go as they want, then the money is being wasted, and worse still, the souls of the girls are being wasted," said Mr. Price.

Discipline must be enforced and order restored to the premises which now are "controlled by social workers," he said. "I would beg the minister to fire the whole bunch of them and get a new crew."

VANCOUVER VOTES GIFTS OF $100 EACH FOR VC'S

VANCOUVER—City council voted gifts of $100 each to any of the city's five Victoria Cross winners who attend the centennial of the Victoria Cross in England this summer.

"The gift is a mark of esteem, and is in addition to any expenses provided by the provincial and federal governments," said Ald. Halford Wilson.

SYNOPSIS

Temperatures were well below freezing in the central and northern interior Tuesday night with Prince George reporting 22 and Quesnel 23. Most southern interior valleys were under a cloud blanket and remained above the freezing point.

Arctic air which moved south through the Cariboo Tuesday is now nearly stationary just north of the border. Although further southward travel is expected the sun will remove a good deal of its bite today.

The Kootenay-North Thompson region and parts of the Okanagan region will be slow in clearing but for the most part B.C. can look forward to sunny weather on Thursday.

U.S. Growth Likely By Powell River Co.

Expansion of Newsprint Operations
To South U.S. Pine Region Pondered

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Powell River Company is considering expanding its newsprint operations to the southern United States to meet competition from there, board chairman Harold S. Foley said Tuesday.

Great increases are being made in newsprint production in the U.S. southern pine region, he told the company's annual meeting of shareholders.

"Federal and local governments in the south continue to offer many inducements to attract industry, including tax concessions, while we in British Columbia have had to shoulder three substantial new tax burdens in recent years."

"In the south there are still timberlands which can be purchased and owned outright... logging costs are favorable; capital costs are substantially lower... and freight costs are about one-half ours."

"We are therefore actively studying the south, having in mind that it might be advantageous for us to get established in that region."

Sight Reading Held Best Test Of Music Progress

DUNCAN—Marks are the least important items in adjudicating a musical festival, Victoria musician Graham Steed said after hearing piano classes at the sixth annual Cowichan Musical Festival.

"Sight reading is the best test of musical progress," he said. Winners and their classes and marks follow:

Grade 4, Audrey Parson, Chemainus, 84; Roy Anderson, Lake Cowichan, 82; Grade 5, Linda Menzies, Queen Margaret's, Duncan, 84; Heather Eckford, Duncan, 80; Virginia Lefever, Duncan, 79.

H. S. FOLEY

"The company has received a preliminary report on forest resources in the area which shows a heavy percentage of overmature, decaying timber. This has an important bearing on cost of extraction per unit of usable wood."

The shrinking Canadian dollar saved the company $587,000 in 1955.

"Our 1954 loss on conversion of U.S. dollars to Canadian was $1,094,000. Last year this loss was reduced to $507,000."

"Newsprint division earnings, despite an increase of 16,000 tons in production during 1955, were down $1,000,000 before taxes compared to 1954. The $938,707 increase in net profit came from subsidiary divisions, particularly logging, lumber and pulp and from an improved position in U.S. exchange."

One-Mill Boost In City Taxes, Latest Guess

Mayor Percy Scurrah made another educated guess at the 1956 mill rate Tuesday night and told Victoria North Kiwanis that ratepayers can probably expect a one-mill boost.

Tentative budget will be presented to council for final cost-cutting and settling of the mill rate sometime next week.

But, based on pre-examination of departmental hopes and estimates, the mayor said a moderate increase will be required due to increased school costs and public works depreciation replacement programs.

"It's got to the point where we can't patch any longer... we must progressively construct and replace."

April 7 the mayor said, "We think we can hold the mill rate at what it is." April 19, he told city Rotarians 1956 costs might call for a three-mill boost, but he doubted council would approve more than one or two mills increase on the tax rate.

LAD, 11, TELLS OF SLAYINGS

With thumbs hooked in his belt, 11-year-old Robert A. Curgiven shows investigators where he hid his .22-calibre rifle on the family farm in Mansfield, Conn. The lad is charged by police with slaying his mother, father and brother. (NEA photo.)

AROUND AND ABOUT

With Jo Healy

CAYCUSE — ONE OF THE GIRLS HAS REACHED the stage, familiar to us, of deep devotion to Western music. For a period each afternoon the house throbs with strumming guitars and that singular vocal sound peculiar to cowboys lonesome on the lone prairie. Some of it is good, some a special form of torture, and we are about as familiar as any teenager with the recordings of one Elvis Presley. Well, perhaps familiar isn't quite the word. I do recognize his extraordinary, excited form of vocalizing, but I've never listened to an entire recording. The words are indistinct in Presley's interpretations although there is a discernible sort of rhythm. What I'm getting at is that I find this current craze quite innocuous, as I can sit beside the radio while it's blaring Presleyism and lose myself completely in whatever I'm reading at the time. So he doesn't either please or irritate me, and as the kids have a broad taste in music and we are agreed that any type's good if it's the best, I'm not letting this current craze upset me. We've survived fads before and they're not everlasting.

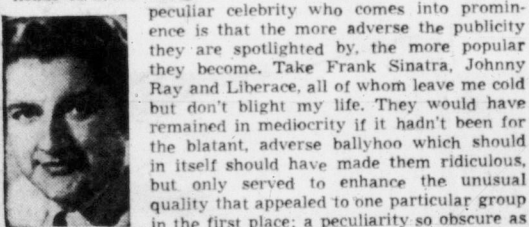

Satchmo

SO I WONDER A BIT ABOUT REPORTS THAT A considerable number of parents are banning Presley on radio and television as a dangerous influence on their young. I've never seen him on TV and perhaps I'd better avoid it. From all reports the picture might even cause tolerance and my belief that selective good taste is best developed where comparison is possible, to waver.

But come, come! Have my fellow ancients forgotten Cab Calloway? Louis Armstrong? Why, they were more "real gone" by far than these bobby-sox idols of today. I remember many sessions with the gang sitting around the radio rapt by the crazy "hi-de-hi, hi-de-ho" of Calloway and the throbbing, guttural tones of Ole Satchmo; the rush for a new record release and the line-up for any shows that featured those musical madmen. I recall, too, that not a few parents banned "that trash" in their homes, thus giving Calloway and Armstrong the added attraction of being splendidly illicit. The strange thing is that even the most ardent exponents of hepatism or whatever it was called then were bored to tears by the jazz age by the time they could vote. In fact they grew up to be mature, responsible citizens, some of them even stuffily so; quite obviously un-influenced and unsullied by a normal teen-age fad.

AND WHAT GOES ASTOUNDINGLY OVER THE heads of those who go berserk with rage over any new and peculiar celebrity who comes into prominence is that the more adverse the publicity they are spotlighted by, the more popular they become. Take Frank Sinatra, Johnny Ray and Liberace, all of whom leave me cold but don't blight my life. They would have remained in mediocrity if it hadn't been for the blatant, adverse ballyhoo which should in itself should have made them ridiculous, but only served to enhance the unusual quality that appealed to one particular group in the first place; a peculiarity so obscure as to be almost non-existent until it was dramatically thrown into relief by the hecklers.

Liberace

The happy fact remains, thank heaven, that in the airy medium of the wave-lengths we can, with a flick of the wrist, select our preference.

Vandals Damage Water System At Mill Bay Hall

MILL BAY — Vandalism at Mill Bay Community Hall was exposed on the weekend at a bingo party sponsored by the Catholic Women's League. During the evening members of the CWL complained to G. Hauk, building committee chairman, that no water was available in the building. He investigated, and found a hole had been drilled in the intake pipe between Millstream creek and the pressure pump for the hall causing the pump to draw air only.

In addition, fixtures in the building had been damaged. A few months ago an electric pump installed to serve the hall was stolen and never recovered.

New Hospital Construction In B.C. to Cost $23 Million

'Some Time' Before Start At Nanaimo

NANAIMO (CP)—Planned hospital construction in British Columbia amounts to $23,000,000, Health Minister Eric Martin said here Tuesday.

He told the Nanaimo Kiwanis Club "it will be some time" before construction can begin on a proposed hospital here to cost about $2,500,000.

The provincial government contributes 50 per cent of the cost of building new hospitals.

He said the present hospital scheme in British Columbia was the largest program in Canada, made necessary by the "colossal number of people" moving to the province.

$25 A YEAR

The average per capita cost for hospital services outside of B.C. is $14 a year, he said. In British Columbia it is closer to $25 a year.

Mr. Martin said social welfare in B.C. is out of the ordinary.

"The more prosperous we become the more people need our pensions or assistance."

This year $26,000,000 will be spent on social welfare.

Total spent on hospital services this year will be $67,692,000, he said, including $11,000,000 for health services including tuberculosis cases.

"We have the highest quality of services here," he said. "Hospital staffs enjoy shorter hours and longer holidays, are well paid and have little to complain about."

Tuberculosis cases are fewer every year, the minister said, and hospital stay has been cut from four to one year. There are only 10 cases per 1,000 population, compared with 54 per 1,000 a few years ago.

Deputy Sheriff Wanted

PORT ALBERNI (CP)—A deputy sheriff for the Alberni Valley may be appointed to handle process serving and other duties now taking up the time of the RCMP. City council decided to request the appointment on recommendation of Ald. W. C. Hamilton.

'Hatchet' Ceremony Draws Island Leaders

DUNCAN — Provincial, municipal and chamber of commerce officials from all Vancouver Island centres gathered here today to watch Victoria and Nanaimo "bury the hatchet".

The ceremony, at the Duncan Cowichan Chamber of Commerce grounds on the Trans-Canada highway, was scheduled to follow a no-host luncheon at the Troubadour hotel.

The program arranged by the Duncan chamber called for Mayor Percy Scourah of Victoria and Mayor Earle Westwood of Nanaimo to bury a bronze hatchet in concrete.

The hatchet, in turn, will be covered by a large tombstone.

Object of the affair was to symbolize the end of "hostilities" between Victoria and Nanaimo, and to inaugurate a program of co-operation by all communities for the benefit of the whole of Vancouver Island.

Disappearing Water Mystery Stirs Nanaimo

NANAIMO—A testing program to find suspected leaks in the city's water system will be undertaken here.

City officials, who have estimated the city's water bill to the Greater Nanaimo Water Board for 1956 will be $42,000 higher than the 1955 bill of $101,000, are considering purchase of an electric detector to trace losses.

"It just doesn't make sense," said Mayor Earle Westwood when it was reported to council Monday that the city used 92.5 per cent of all water supplied by the board, and Harewood district the remainder.

Water delivered to the city system is metered, but only the large commercial consumers are on meters, while householders pay a flat rate for their water. As a result, no definite check can be made of how much water actually is used.

INTO MINE SHAFT

However, in addition to increased consumption as measured by the water board, it is noted that while daytime consumption is 1,500,000 gallons, consumption at night is 800,000 gallons and is considered "too high."

Ald. George Bryce, chairman of the city council water committee, has suggested a leak might be pouring water into one of the dozens of old mine shafts under the city, where it could be undetected for years.

A testing of valves serving both Harewood and Nanaimo will be undertaken in an effort to locate the trouble. An answer is expected within two weeks.

TO OTTAWA MEET

The resolution, based on a brief from the Chinese Benevolent Association, will be presented at the Canadian Women's Liberal Federation in Ottawa.

The group also supported medical privileges for veterans' wives, extension of retirement age for civil servants to 70 years, formation of an art council for British Columbia and income tax deductions to cover cost of drugs and medicines.

The provincial government will be asked to amend the Child Welfare Act to make it illegal to leave children unattended.

The government was asked to relieve the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation of administrative responsibilities in the field of regulations.

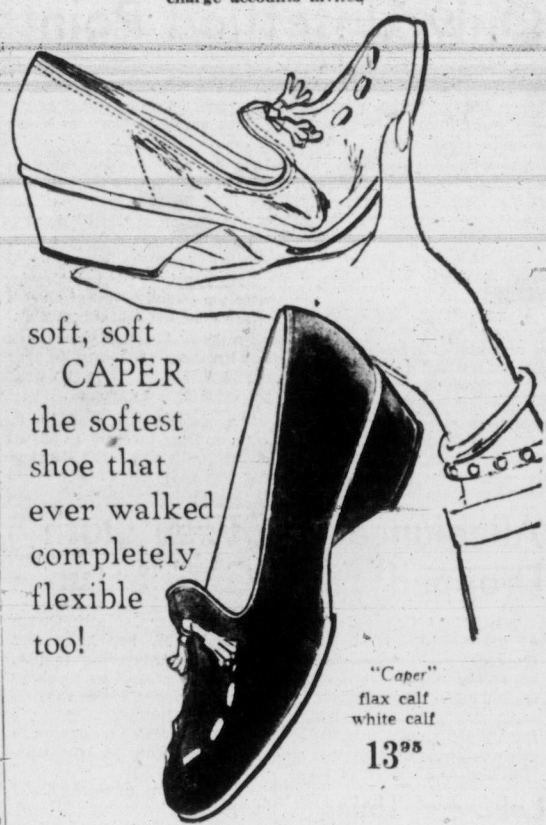

The resolution, submitted by Alderman Anna Sprott of Vancouver, said the move would enable the CBC to concentrate on building and operating a broadcasting service in the public interest.

President's Power, Communists Only Unsettled Points for CLC

TORONTO (CP)—Canadian Labor Congress delegates Tuesday hammered out all but two clauses of a constitution for the 1,000,000-member organization.

The 8,000-word document, to be completed later this week at the CLC's founding convention, will provide the charter for Canada's largest union organization.

The only two clauses of the draft document left in abeyance call for:

1. Banning Communist sympathizers as delegates to session of congress or its affiliated provincial federations' local councils.

2. Empowering the president to hire and set pay rates for congress organizers and representatives.

Various delegates took exception to both clauses, referred back to the officers for modification.

A suggestion Communists should be barred only from CLC office or jobs, and not from sitting as delegates, appeared likely to be accepted.

On the second point, some exception was taken to vesting firing power in the president alone, and it was suggested this be given to the CLC's 16-man executive council.

Among points adopted Tuesday were the establishment of officers' salaries on the following scales:

President, $14,000 a year; secretary-treasurer and executive vice-president, $12,000. They also would get out-of-pocket expenses.

The salaries are roughly the same as those received by officers of the Trades and Labor Congress, merging with the Canadian Congress of Labor to form the new group.

The CLC also authorized the establishment of nine congress departments, each headed by a director, covering organization, legislation, education, research, international affairs, government employees, political education, public relations and provincial federations and local councils.

The resolutions adopted Tuesday asked for:

1. Federal limitation on the interest rate on small loans to a maximum of one per cent a month on unpaid balances.

2. Provision by the federal government of long-term loans at low interest rates for the purchase of boats by fishermen.

3. Establishment of a federal bureau of standards for the protection of the consumer.

FOSTER HOME OPEN HOUSE ON JUNE 9

An open house will be held by Victoria Family and Children's Service June 9 in the recently-opened group foster home at Sevenoaks on Carey Road.

The home will be subject of a talk by Mrs. J. A. de-Bourcier, president of the FCS women's auxiliary, at the annual meeting of the association Thursday night in the Business and Professional Women's Club room, 904 Government. Meeting starts at 8 p.m.

The group home is meant to provide care for emotionally disturbed children in the interim between their referral to FCS and placement in foster homes.

'WAVING BIG STICK'

Rail Unions Score PM's Talk to CLC

TORONTO (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent Tuesday cautioned big unions about careful use of their economic weight, and rail union leaders promptly interpreted it as directed at them in their current contract dispute with the railways.

"Waving the big stick," rail union chief Frank H. Hall commented after Mr. St. Laurent delivered before the Canadian Labor Congress a carefully-phrased statement on the relationship of big business and big unions to the general economy.

BRIEF MENTION

Mr. St. Laurent, first prime minister to appear before a central labor body convention in a half century, spoke largely of his gov-

Victoria Daily Times WEDNESDAY, APRIL 25, 1956 speech. Hall said in an interview he and other rail union representatives got the impression that "this was again waving the big stick."

AIMED AT UNIONS

"The oblique remarks of the prime minister evidently were aimed at the unions and the situation with which they are confronted," he added.

The majority report of the board awarded the unions a little better than half the $110,000,000 a year they are seeking in wages and fringe benefits, and the unions accepted it last week.

The railways have not yet indicated acceptance or rejection.

How to Reduce Swollen, Painful Piles without ointments, pile pipes or suppositories

Allegiance to Queen Oath Dropped From CLC Setup

TORONTO (CP)—Leaders of the new Canadian Labor Congress may not be obliged to swear allegiance to the Queen when taking office.

An oath pledging candidates for top offices of the 1,018,000-member organization to be "faithful and bear true allegiance to Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, her heirs and successors, according to law, so help me God," was quietly dropped Monday from the proposed CLC constitution.

No explanation was given to the convention for the deletion.

Two factors were considered responsible:

1. U.S. citizens wouldn't be able to hold top labor posts.

2. It was felt by some that the clause might be offensive to members of the Canadian and Catholic Federation, which is being urged to join the big labor body.

Cmdr. D. L. MacKnight Named to Naden Post

Naval headquarters at Ottawa today announced appointment of Cmdr. David L. MacKnight of London, Ont., as executive officer of HMCS Naden.

His appointment is effective May 9. Cmdr. MacKnight will succeed Cmdr. William H. Willson of Calgary, who has been appointed to the staff of the chief of naval personnel at Ottawa.

Laborers' Union Nearing 1,000 Members on Island

One proof of Vancouver Island's industrial and economic boom is the phenomenal growth of a Victoria trade union in the past three months.

Local 1093 Construction and General Laborers' Union will have tripled its membership to 1,000 by the end of this month, business agent Earl Allen said today.

At Port Alberni alone there will be 600 members of the union local.

To help cope with the added administrative duties of the local, a second business agent will be hired to be responsible for membership at Port Alberni and the northern part of Vancouver Island.

Laborers' union will be the only Victoria local with two business agents.

"This is one of the biggest years the union has had in its 10 years in Victoria. We were 10 years old in March," said Mr. Allen.

"The increase is due to the booming Island economy; huge developments of power projects, mills and road construction.

"The outlook is good. We've never been better organized."

Puck Series Opens

Warriors Expect Rugged Battle

CALGARY, Alta. (BUP)—The East-West Edinburgh trophy playoffs get under way tonight with the home-les Winnipeg Warriors meeting the Montreal Royals at the Calgary corral.

The Warriors, Western Hockey League champs, will meet the Quebec League kings in Calgary tonight, in Edmonton Friday and back in Calgary Saturday night.

The teams will then switch to the Winnipeg arena for the next three games in the best-of-nine series, should they be necessary.

Winnipeg was unable to get home ice for the first game because of an ice review which has taken over the lavish new arena for a week. However, Winnipeg fans will have a chance to see their heroes in action for at least two games if the series is won in five straight, and in at least three if it goes any further.

Coach Alf Pike of the Warriors said that defenceman and captain Fred Shero would make the trip with the tribe. Shero suffered a back injury in the Vancouver final series.

MCNEILL KEY

Pike said that the Montreal team would turn the series into a rough battle. "That Gerry McNeill should be in the NHL," he said, "and that Cal Mackay is a pretty good hockey player."

McNeill played goal for the Montreal Canadiens following Bill Durnan's retirement, and went into retirement himself last year. However, he put his skates back on to handle the backstop duties for the Royals this season. Mackay also played with the Stanley Cup champions along with another Royal player, defenceman Bud McPherson.

The series will be like old home week to some of the Warriors players. Paul Masnick, Cee Hoekstra, Eddie Mazur and Skipper Burchell all played with the Montreal club before they joined the Warriors.

BASEBALL MEETING

Eagles senior baseball club of the Victoria and District Amateur Baseball Association will hold an organizational meeting tonight at 6 at Macdonald park.

All last year's players and anyone interested are invited to attend. The club will be composed of both senior and under-19 players this season.

SOFTBALL PRACTICE

JBAA senior B men's softball team will practice at Windsor Park Thursday night at 6:30.

High School Youths Riot in Ball Park

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP)—Scores of fist fights between Negro and white high school youths broke out Tuesday after the Kansas City-Detroit baseball game in Municipal stadium.

At one time, police said, nearly 1,000 boys of both races were on the playing field "fighting, shoving and milling about."

All the players had left the field and most of the spectators were leaving the stadium when the disturbance started.

One Negro youth and a white boy began fighting, police said, and within minutes scores of fights between white and Negro boys broke out on the field.

About 30 ushers rushed onto the field to stop the brawling. However, their efforts were in vain until the arrival of several

Rainiers Draw 20,000; Mounties Break Loose

Seattle's Rainiers, holding an uneasy half-game lead in the Pacific Coast League, can't seem to shake off the troublesome three—Los Angeles, San Diego and Sacramento.

The Rainiers, at home for the first time, crushed San Francisco 13-3 in the afternoon Tuesday and led the night game until Ed Sadkowski's grand slam in the seventh brought the Seals a 9-5 win.

At Hollywood, Vancouver ran over five star hurlers 9-2 to end a three-game losing streak. Don Leppert, Frankie Austin and Gary Robin drove in three runs each.

Los Angeles squeezed out Sacramento 4-2 and moved into a second-place tie with San Diego, which pulled out a 14-inning, 5-4 win over Portland on Ed Kazak's single. Sacramento dropped to third—one game behind Seattle.

Record opening day crowds totaling 20,035 turned out at Seattle.

In the night game, stalled for an hour due to a power failure, the Rainiers led 5-4 when Sadkowski slammed his homer.

Los Angeles' Steve Bilko drove in two runs and hit his sixth homer in the eighth. Pitcher Harry Perkowski had little trouble with the Seals in getting his third win.

Police, who had been directing homebound traffic on streets surrounding the huge stadium.

Several youths suffered cuts and bruises. There were no serious injuries, police said, and the players were not endangered by the disturbance. None of the adult spectators engaged in the fray, police said.

The fighting lasted about 10 minutes. There were no arrests. Most of the young battlers ran when officers arrived on the field.

It was "High School Day" at the park with the Kansas City Athletics admitting all youngsters of high school age for 50 cents as part of their Kansas City high school booster club program. An estimated 8,300 high school youths were in the crowd of 13,963.

Arrangements for the training camp were made by Alderman Dick Parkinson with Phil Webb, Lions' general manager. At Monday night's council meeting, Mayor J. J. Ladd commended Mr. Parkinson for completing details.

MURPH MAY BENCH 2 CHATHAM REGULARS

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP)—Two members of Chatham Maroons were ordered out of the team playoff camp near Kelowna by coach Murph Chamberlain Tuesday on the eve of the fourth game of the Allan Cup finals.

Chamberlain's move was in an effort to jar Maroons back into winning form for the game here tonight with Vernon Canadians.

Defenceman Marty Zorica and spare forward Ernie Dick were sent back to the club headquarters in Vernon.

It was reported the pair will be benched for the remainder of the series because of indifferent play Monday.

AAU Official Charged By Former Track Star

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former track star John T. Fulton said Tuesday night Daniel J. Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the American Amateur Athletic Union, arranged for him to take a between-meets trip to Canada in 1944 in violation of AAU expense account rules.

In New York, Ferris denied Fulton's allegation.

Fulton, former Stanford University half-miler and captain of the 1946 United States track team which toured Europe, announced that he will place before the national AAU executive committee a charge that Ferris was "instrumental in my defection" from amateur rules.

Ferris said: "I looked up our records and there's not a word of truth in what Fulton said. We know nothing about him going to Canada."

Fulton, 33, said he decided to make his charges because of the "shocking" lifetime suspension of miler Wes Santee.

Calgary Court, 25-1 Choice For Derby

LONDON (CP)—Canadian sportsman Max Bell has another Epsom Derby hope on his hands.

Calgary Court, a promising colt named after Bell's home town, has entered the Derby market as a 25-1 chance—solely on the strength of some sparkling workouts.

The price is a remarkably short one for a colt that has only run once in his life, but the bookies are taking no liberties in an open year.

Calgary Court, by Supreme Court out of Anna Lucasta, was purchased for 8,000 guineas at the 1954 Doncaster sales. He was a warm favorite to win his only race as a two-year-old but was beaten by Midsummer Fair.

Lions to Play At Kelowna

KELOWNA (CP)—B.C. Lions have accepted Kelowna's offer of a $3,000 guarantee for an intersquad game when the WIFU squad trains here in mid-July.

Arrangements for the training camp were made by Alderman Dick Parkinson with Phil Webb, Lions' general manager. At Monday night's council meeting, Mayor J. J. Ladd commended Mr. Parkinson for completing details.

How well is his new formula working?

Well. In the first six games this year, Master Mickey is hitting a fat 455.

In only six games he has walloped four home runs and blasted 10 hits in 22 times at bat. That has meant nine runs scored by Mantle, but even more important on the ballplayers' own yardstick, a total of 13 runs batted in.

"You never see Williams hitting at bad pitches," Mickey asserted as he explained his new batting philosophy. "The answer is that I've started helping myself."

He's showing the old power for his two home runs at Washington in the season's inaugural bore the old Mantle stamp. But more important to the Yankees is the fact that he's making the pitchers come "in there" before he bites.

It may well be the actual making of "the new DiMaggio."

Cockell's Bubble Burst by Unknown

Empire Champ Knocked Out In 2nd Round

(From CP and BUP Dispatches)

LONDON—Kit Lave, 22-year-old unknown from Tonga in the South Seas, floored British heavyweight champion Don Cockell five times and then knocked him out with a right in two minutes, 17 seconds of the second round.

Lave weighed 200½ pounds and Cockell, who was stopped by world champion Rocky Marciano last May, weighed 211½. Cockell never showed any of the form that made him a world contender in the scheduled 10-round fight.

Cockell's defeat ruined promoter Jack Solomons' plans to stage a British heavyweight championship bout May 28 between Cockell and Jack Gardner.

Earlier in the evening, Gardner, former British heavyweight champion, lost on a second-round technical kayo to 24-year-old Joe Bygraves of Jamaica, who now lives in England.

WENT NINE WITH ROCKY

Cockell's defeat was the more surprising in that the British Empire champ had gone nine rounds with heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano and was then described by Marciano as "one of the greatest fighters I ever fought."

Solomons' next move probably will be to match Lave and Bygraves. However, Bygraves already owns a decision over the upstart from the southwest Pacific and such a bout wouldn't guarantee a big crowd in England.

The Bygraves-Gardner fight was stopped at 2:03 of the second round because of a damaging eye under Gardner's right eye. The winner weighed 195 pounds while Gardner scaled 210.

GAULAN WINS

Cuba's Kid Gavilan, former world welterweight champion, scored a 10-round decision over young Peter Waterman to avenge a disputed decision the Briton won over Gavilan Feb. 7. Gavilan weighed 147½, Waterman 147½.

The crowd of 14,000 at Earls Court stadium cheered as the Cuban won the decision. It was a hard, punishing fight all the way with the 30-year-old Gavilan putting 21-year-old Waterman down for a count of eight midway through the fifth round. The Cuban landed a swinging left and followed it with a short right to send the previously undefeated Briton down.

Erases Defeat

In their first fight here Waterman was awarded a disputed decision although most fans and sports writers thought Gavilan had won. The British Boxing Board of Control retired referee Ben Green after a hearing.

Tuesday night's loss was Waterman's first defeat in 33 professional fights.

Warwicks Quit V's; Many Offers

PENTICTON (BUP)—The three Warwick brothers, who have sparked the Penticton V's to many a victory, have left the one-time world champion hockey team.

Grant, Bill and Dick say they won't be playing in the Okanagan Senior Hockey League next year.

Grant said their future hockey plans haven't been finalized yet, but denied that they would play with the New Westminster Royals of the Western League next year. He didn't deny a rumor that the trio will join the Spokane Flyers of the Western International League and run a bar in the Washington city on the side.

But the brothers have plenty of offers to choose from. Bill says the invitations have been coming in from all over Europe, the United States and Canada.

'Y' Swimmers Enter PNW Championships

Victoria YMCA Swimming Club will send a team to Bremerton May 5 for the Pacific Northwest "Y" swim championships for girls.

OPEN CHESS MEET

MONTREAL (CP)—The Chess Federation of Canada and the Montreal Chess League will jointly sponsor the first Canadian open chess tournament here Aug. 25-Sept. 2, it was announced Sunday.

Governor-General Massey has extended his patronage to the event.

GORGE VALE CALLING ALL WOULD-BE GOLFERS

If your putts soar and your drives roll, the Gorge Vale Golf Club clinic is for you.

The popular annual beginners' classes will be held for the third year under club professional Joe Pryke, starting May 8.

Classes will be held each Tuesday night starting at 7 and the course will be made up of six weekly lessons.

The course is mainly designed for people who have never golfed before.

Anyone wishing to join the classes is asked to contact the Gorge Vale Golf Club at 3-6451 as soon as possible.

ISLAND PRIZE AWARDS

Golfers Get Theirs Sunday

Laurie Kerr and Vince Clarkson won't be the only golfers in the spotlight Sunday at Gorge Vale Golf Club.

Certainly, Kerr and Clarkson will have centre stage as they battle over 36 holes to decide the 1956 Times Vancouver Island match play open golf championship, but there will be other tournament luminaries in the wings and they, too, will be honored.

At the conclusion of the 36-hole playoffs for both the open and handicap titles, the champions will be crowned and all other prizes will be awarded.

In addition to the champions and runners-up in the open and handicap, the following will be honored:

Medalist, Bob Fleming. Runner-up to medalist, George Andrews.

"B" medalist, Gordy Whan. Runner-up, "B" medalist, Joe Evans.

Highest hole scores in qualifying round, C. Jamieson, H. MacDonald, G. Straith, K. Macdonald.

Defeated semifinalists, open, Bill McColl and Ted Colgate. Defeated semifinalists, handicap, Vic Lea and Laurie Greenwood.

NEW CHAMPIONS

Sunday's matches and ceremonies will provide the wind-up to the six-week tournament that started with a field of 120 and ends with four players, Kerr and Clarkson in the open and George Buckingham and Mel Carlow in the handicap, striving for the titles won last year by Bill McColl and Mickey Bartkow.

Defending open champion McColl was ousted last week by Kerr in the semifinals while Barthow failed to qualify this year.

Within two or three weeks of Sunday's final, the open champion will meet Vancouver's match play champion in a 36-hole final in Vancouver for the B.C. match play open title, co-sponsored by the Victoria Daily Times and Vancouver Daily Province.

Last year McColl, after defeating Hughie Morrison to win the Island final, lost to professional Bill Mawhinney at Victoria Golf Club in the B.C. playoff.

Mawhinney withdrew from the Vancouver event this year so that there will be two new B.C. finalists battling for the provincial title.

Sunday's matches start at the following times: Carlow vs. Buckingham, 9:30 and 2:10; Kerr vs. Clarkson, 9:30 and 2:10.

STOCKTON, Calif. — Kid Castro, 123½, Stockton, outpointed Bill Beale, 134, Oakland, Calif. (10).

Quiz Winner May Ride At Exhibition Park

VANCOUVER (CP)—Asco Jockey Club has announced that a bid has been made to have jockey Billy Pearson, winner of $64,000 on a quiz show recently, appear on May 18 when a special day of racing will be held at Exhibition Park.

The benefit will be held for the Community Chest.

Pearson, an apprentice hardboot in the northwest in 1942 and an occasional rider in the New York area, won the money on a television show last week.

IBC 'Loans' Factor In Alleged Monopoly

NEW YORK (AP)—The government charged Tuesday that the International Boxing Club and its affiliates loaned boxing champions and leading fight figures $451,042 within a four-year period to make it easier for the club to sign fighters to exclusive contracts.

Assistant United States attorney Lawrence Gochberg said the loans were made without interest between June 1949 and May 1953. It was during this time, the government said, that the IBC participated in 36 of the 44 world title fights staged in the U.S.

Gochberg said the money advanced by the IBC of New York to the IBC of Illinois was for the most part loans to fighters and managers "faced with emergencies such as taxes, etc."

In answer to a question by the court, Gochberg said the government does not contend that the money advances by themselves were "bad" but that "combined with the defendants' other practices, it made it much more difficult for other promoters to get championship matches."

The government has charged the International Boxing Club and various affiliates with monopolizing the promotion of championship boxing bouts in the United States in violation of the anti-trust law. One of the government's announced aims is to break up exclusive contracts between the IBC and leading fighters.

WHAT'S THE SCORE?

BY

Denny Boyd

Oodles of Newbies—The news that Toronto Maple Leafs have peddled Jack Bionda to the Boston Bruins is full of delightful possibilities. Jack being the lacrosse and hockey player that he is. Whereas the Boston Bruins have a working agreement with the Victoria Cougars... and whereas Bionda may need another year of minor league seasoning before he is ready for the Bruins... and whereas the Cougars could use a color player who could draw hockey fans the way Bionda drew lacrosse fans when he was with the Shamrocks... the possibilities are fairly staggering. If Bionda isn't ready for the NHL yet, the Cougars and the Shamrocks could offer him year-round employment... if dreams came true.

Vancouver boxer Kurt Max probably feels that if he never again fights in Victoria, he will be lucky. Max appeared here in the Vancouver Island Golden Gloves and was matched with a fellow clubmate in a non-title bout. The fight was stopped when Max received a mouth cut that split his lip like a sausage... Saturday night, Max, still wearing the scar on his lip, again was paired off with a clubmate in the Optimist Tournament of Champions, and this time, he broke his hand.

Millie Stafford, girl-type wrestler who will be out to prove that a woman's place isn't necessarily in the home when she appears at Memorial Arena Thursday night, used to be a telephone switchboard girl. She got tired of long distances and short pay cheques and entered the ring. Now, she complains, she can hardly get along on the $10,000 she nets annually. I know how you feel, Millie. I have a hard time getting along on my $10,000, too.

Grappling promoter Larry Marshall has booked a real live world heavyweight championship for this summer, matching Canada's Whipper Billy Watson and Lou Thesz... Watson recently beat Thesz on a disqualification to take the title but the National Wrestling Alliance refused to recognize Watson's victory. They were paired again and Watson beat Strangler Lewis' meal-ticket in two straight falls... Thesz gets the chance to regain his title at Memorial Arena in June.

Sunday's Times Match Play Open Golf Championship final between Laurie Kerr and Vince Clarkson will establish at least one precedent... Never before have two golfers with more freckles battled for a championship.

And, incidentally, the Bert Ticehurst who put Lyle Crawford on the rocks last Sunday in the corresponding Vancouver Match Play Open, is the same laddie who used to play for the Vancouver Combines lacrosse club... Wally Milligan is a charter member of the Association of Retired Centre Forwards, sells insurance and is enthusiastically working on a paunch. But the Wallace Witt is unchanged. At a dinner meeting of the Victoria United this week, the conversation drifted to reports that Vancouver teams in the Coast Soccer League are paying their players... Milligan cupped his hand over his mouth and whispered, "Aye, and Victoria's no better. George Eade offered me $50 to stay in retirement, just when I was ready to make my comeback."

But there is nothing funny about the rumor that players on the mainland team have banded together and demanded $25 per game... they are about two years too early if they want professional soccer.

Ron Coulter says the toughest three shots he had to make last weekend in winning the B.C. Tenpin championship were for the benefit of a photographer. While the fotog straddled the alley, Ron had to leave the ball between his (no, silly, the photographer's) legs.

GRAHAM SURPRISED, TOO

Otto Ti-Cat Coach? Not That He Knows

CLEVELAND, O. (UP)—Otto Graham, Cleveland Browns' quarterback, said today he was as surprised as anyone to hear reports that he might sign as an advisory coach with the Hamilton Tiger-Cats of Canada's Big Four League.

Graham said that Hamilton coach Jim Trimble, called him about two months ago concerning the possibility of going north of the border during the Tiger-Cats training season. Trimble formerly coached the Philadelphia Eagles.

"I said I would go if everything could be worked out but Trimble never gave me a second call," Graham said.

However, the former Northwestern University star said he would not go "without asking the opinion of commissioner Bert Bell (of the National Football League) and (Cleveland coach) Paul Brown."

"I thought that it would be a nice little vacation for my family and me," Graham explained. "We would stay only a week or so. But nothing at all was settled about the matter."

"I'm not even sure I could get away from my insurance business at that time."

Graham said he was not negotiating with Trimble and that the next move, if any, "is his." Trimble said in Hamilton, Ontario, that he is seeking Graham as an advisory coach and that the job would not interfere with the great quarterback's plans to step out of professional football as a player.

REJOIN ALS

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four Football Union have announced the signing for next season of two Canadian regulars, Johnny Blaicher and Tommy Moran. Both are backfielders. Blaicher has also played safety on defence and Moran has been used as an end and also on secondary defence.

TIGERS BEAT K.C.

Spiteful Yanks Bounce Stobbs

(By United Press)

The fast-starting New York Yankees gained revenge Tuesday on Chuck Stobbs of the Washington Senators, the only pitcher to beat them this season, when they breezed to a 4-1 victory at Yankee Stadium.

Bland right-hander Johnny Kucks went the route for the Yankees with a seven-hitter to give the American League champions their fourth straight win and sixth in the first seven games.

Southpaw Stobbs, who notched a 7-3 decision over the Yankees at Washington last Thursday, pitched well for the seven innings he lasted. But he served up a three-run homer to Hank Bauer in the fourth inning and a bases-empty homer to Yogi Berra in the seventh.

Kucks, who failed to go the distance in his first victory, was assisted by five double plays, four of them by the same combination—Gil McDougald, Jerry Lumpe and Bill Skowron. The rookie Lumpe took part in all five DP's to tie a major league record held by many shortstops.

Lumpe, with nine assists and five putouts, also came within three of the American League record for successful chances by a shortstop.

Veteran Steve Gromek limited Kansas City to six hits, while Bill Tuttle drove in four runs to lead Detroit to a 7-4 victory. Tuttle, Ray Boone and Reno Bertoia each homered for the Tigers.

Rain and cold weather caused postponement of the only other American League game and inclement weather also caused postponement of all National League games.

Toronto to Host CPGA Tournament

MONTREAL (CP)—Bill Kerr, president of the Canadian Professional Golfers Association, announced this week that the CPGA championship this year will be played at the Toronto Downsview course July 20 and 21.

Kerr said more than 60 of Canada's top professionals are expected for the 54-hole medal play tournament and total prize money of $4,175 will be the largest in CPGA history.

Al Balding of Toronto, who has been playing on the pro circuit in the south, will be on hand in defence of the title he won at Hamilton last year with a record-breaking 204.

The CPGA tournament will be third in successive weeks among major championship competitions in Canada, following the Canadian Open at Montreal Beaulieu and the $26,900 at Royal Quebec.

Rochester Admitted to Ontario Rugby Union

TORONTO (CP)—Rochester, N.Y., was officially admitted into the senior series of the Ontario Rugby Football Union at a meeting here this week. It will be the first time an American team has played in a Canadian football league.

ORFU officials announced at the meeting that the Canadian Rugby Union, governing body of the sport, had approved Rochester's admittance. The ORFU now is a four-team league with clubs from Toronto, Kitchener, Sarnia and Rochester.

Pony League Players To Be Assigned Sunday

With registration of players completed Monday night, the new, expanded Victoria Pony Baseball League will start the ball rolling on its second season Sunday with the assigning of players to different teams.

Pony League has been designed for boys growing out of Little League age, and embodies the same principles as Little League. In Victoria, youngsters of 13 and 14 years of age living within the prescribed boundaries are eligible to play Pony League baseball.

The league has expanded its boundaries this season in order to give more boys an opportunity to play, and approximately 140 new youngsters have been turning out for training.

Boundaries this year run from Douglas and Pandora north to Toimie, along Toimie to Maplewood and Blenkinsop, along these two streets to Cedar Hill Crossroad, along Cedar Hill Crossroad to Cedar Hill Road, along Cedar Hill Road to Ruby, along Ruby to Dawson, along Dawson to the sea, and including the seashore all the way round to Foul Bay Road, then up Foul Bay to Oak Bay Avenue, and along Oak Bay to Pandora.

IT MAY BE YOUR LIVER

If life's not worth living it may be your liver! It's a fact! It takes up to two pints of liver bile a day to keep your digestive tract in top shape. If your liver bile is not flowing freely your food may not digest... gas bloats up your stomach... you feel constipated and all the fun and sparkle go out of life. That's when you need mild gentle Carter's Little Liver Pills. These famous vegetable pills help stimulate the flow of liver bile. Soon your digestion starts functioning properly and you feel that happy days are here again! Don't ever stay sick. Always keep Carter's Little Liver Pills on hand.

Little Leaguers Selected to Teams

Managers and Coaches of the eight teams in the American and National Little Leagues will be engaged in their toughest chore of all this week, looking over the prospects on their team rosters and getting ready to cut down to the 15-man limit.

Following the American League auction Sunday and the National League auction Monday, the best players were assigned to the different teams. They will now attempt to gain a spot on the 15-man varsity.

League officials stress that all players that do not make the first teams will be assigned to farm teams and every boy registered will get a full summer of baseball.

Team rosters follow:

Registrations Slated Tonight

Player registrations for the Hampton Park Little League are still underway, and any boy of Little League age wishing to play can register tonight at Hampton Park at 6:30.

Boys living within the boundaries of Bay, Douglas, Judah, Roy and Wilkinson Streets and the Gorge waterway are eligible to play.

Spring training is already underway for players registered, and the league will be composed of four teams, with as many farm teams as will be needed.

Opening double-header of the season at Carnarvon Park, one block east of Foul Bay Road on Newton, will be May 13. Mayor Percy Scourrah will throw out the first ball and S. J. Willis Junior High School band will be in attendance.

Players will be assigned Sunday evening to the six teams: Victoria Police, Oak Bay Police, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Rotary, Cosmopolitans and Mawson-Gage.

Nikita Snarls 'Nyet' In Row With Laborites

Acts Like—
And Is—Boss

LONDON (Reuters)—A week of watching Russia's leaders has made Britons certain of one thing—Nikita Khrushchev is the real boss in the Kremlin.

Beside him, Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin seems little more than a dignified grey shadow who takes the first handshakes and makes the pleasant platitudes.

Nikita Khrushchev, first secretary of the Communist party, is a character out of an entirely different mold.

An angry Khrushchev is not to be taken lightly. He is a small, portly man with a homespun face and a head bald except for short bristles of white hair. But he is tough.

It shows in his eyes and in his mouth. As he sits at official banquets listening to the conversation of the dignitaries beside him, his wide mouth is set in an expression that suggests a mixture of faint amusement, cynicism and boredom. His small eyes take in the whole room in a penetrating glance.

He has a sense of humor, but he does not laugh easily.

It is evident that neither of the Russian leaders likes having awkward questions about their policies shot at them unexpectedly during public appearances.

The effect is always the same. Bulganin looks around at Khrushchev and waits for him to answer. Khrushchev scowls and replies with great vigor.

So far, Bulganin and Khrushchev have failed to put over the kind of charm that made their colleague, ex-premier Georgi Malenkov, the darling of English crowds when he came here last month as Soviet minister of power stations.

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY The New Yorker
(MOTHER OF 5)

The whims and ways of a toddler are strange indeed. There's a declaration of independence one minute—a plaintive call for help the next. As guardian angel of that little go-getter, it's up to you to decide when to guide and when to let the help-yourself rule prevail. Sometimes takes a bit of doing, but with patience, perception and a full quota of common sense you'll manage.

Toddlers are notorious for developing eating whims along about that first birthday. But lagging appetites often get a real lift when you serve Gerber Junior Foods. For these carefully prepared foods have the tempting, true-to-nature flavors and appetizing colors that tickle a toddler's palate. A tender, evenly minced texture makes Gerber Junior Foods just right for tots learning to chew!

Sip tips. Toddlers can often be encouraged to drink more milk if you: (1) Use an amusing mug or paper cup. (2) Let him sip milk from a brightly colored cellophane straw.

Safety measures. Curiosity is second nature to a toddler, and the kitchen is a wonderful spot to whet that curiosity... with the stove a big attraction. Safety reminders:

- Use back burners first. Turn pot handles inward. Cover spattering grease.
- Don't leave matches, knives or scissors near edge of working area.

New, mouth-watering, too—Gerber Chicken Noodle Dinner. Here's a delightful combination of wonderfully tasty, delicate chicken, tender egg noodles, bright carrot bits, and savory chicken broth. It's sure to make a little appetite rise and shine... so very nourishing, wholesome... delicious, too! Gerber-Ogilvie Baby Foods Limited, Niagara Falls, Canada.

By R. B. MACLURKIN
LONDON (Reuters)—A dinner-party row between Nikita Khrushchev and British Labor party leaders smoldered on today as fresh facts came to light about their bitter argument over imprisoned Social Democrats.

"It was a hell of a row about human beings," the mass-circulation paper Daily Mirror reports. The Daily Express says the Soviet Communist party leader has since been going about using the term "harassment" (piggishness) to describe his treatment by his socialist hosts; he is said to have declared that if this was British Socialism he would live here.

The man who especially raised Khrushchev's anger to boiling point was George Brown, a former minister in the Labor government. As the Russian leader talked of Soviet foreign policy before and during the war, Brown interjected: "God forgive you."

A heated argument followed between the Russian leader and the British politician over the relative merits of the parts played by Russia and Britain in winning the war. Brown referred to British soldiers being killed while Russia and Nazi Germany were still allies. Khrushchev is reported to have said subsequently that if he were ever invited again to a Labor function he would refuse to attend if "that man"—meaning Brown—was there.

Tuesday Brown tried to make up the quarrel and shake hands with the Russian leader when Khrushchev visited the House of Commons. But Khrushchev refused with a sharp "nyet" (no).

A debate about jailed Socialists in Eastern Europe, sparked by Hugh Gaitskell, Labor party leader, also highlighted the dinner at which Labor leaders were hosts to Khrushchev and Khrushchev.

Gaitskell asked Khrushchev point blank if he would help obtain the release of Social Democrats (Socialists) imprisoned behind the Iron Curtain.

Khrushchev replied testily that there were no Social Democrats in Russia and what happened to them in other countries was none of his business.

Posh Party Becomes Mob Scrum
Tuesday night Khrushchev and Bulganin were central figures in one of the most amazing parties in London's diplomatic history.

Given by the Soviet embassy, the reception developed into what guests described as a "rugby scrum" or a "super sales - time scrimmage," in the palatial ballroom of the elegant Claridge's Hotel.

Glasses were crushed under foot, huge vases of flowers swayed dangerously and burly Soviet security guards bulldozed their way through nearly 2,000 distinguished guests.

Ambassadors, cabinet ministers, members of Parliament and heads of the diplomatic corps were caught in a struggle to get through the Russian guard to see the Soviet leaders at close quarters.

Wine and food were spilled on the gowns of society women. At one point, Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd was moved bodily away from the ever-smiling Khrushchev.

During the evening Khrushchev brushed aside prominent guests to put comedian Charlie Chaplin in the limelight at this bizarre gathering.

The Russian Communist party secretary reserved his warmest greeting for the movie comedian and his wife, Oona.

"I am so very glad to meet you," he told Chaplin. "We have very great respect for your films in

Everyone's Favourite

with Frances Berton

The old saying still goes—that "the way to a man's heart is through his stomach." And this applies to every other member of the family, too. So, if you're looking for a dessert to conquer the hearts and appetites of your family—a dessert that's different from the run-of-the-mill kind—try a fresh-tasting, tangy, utterly delicious lemon dessert!

Lemon desserts needn't take long, tedious preparation—not when you use Jell-O Lemon Pie Filling. You need no double boiler to make this creamy-smooth, perfect filling—just a cup, a pan and a spoon, and away you go!

Here's fresh-flavored lemon pie in a new dress. This time, the zesty filling folds into the meringue to make a wonderful, melt-in-your-mouth dessert!

LEMON CHIFFON PIE
Prepare Jell-O Lemon Pie Filling and Meringue as directed on package. Do not cool, but very gradually fold hot filling into the meringue mixture until blended. Pour into baked 9-inch pie shell (or Coconut Crust). Chill. At serving time, border the pie with whipped cream. Garnish with bits of cherries.

AS A CHANGE from a pastry shell—here's a scrumptious new quickie pie shell to set off your delicious lemon filling.

COCONUT CRUST
Spread 2 tablespoons soft butter evenly on bottom and sides of an 8- or 9-inch pie pan. Sprinkle 1½ cups Baker's Coconut in pan, pressing evenly into the butter. Brown in slow oven (300° F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Chill.

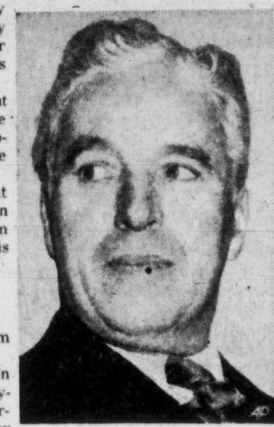

In pastry shell or coconut crust, light-hearted Jell-O Lemon Chiffon Pie has a way of disappearing quickly when you set it before a dessert-hungry family. So be sure you make plenty! The flavor of Jell-O Lemon Pie Filling, you know, is pure fruit from real lemons.

Egg whites are best for meringue when at room temperature. Be sure to separate whites completely from yolks, as any fat in the egg whites prevents the whites from beating up.

Time Change Sunday Will Shift Schedules

Clocks will move ahead one hour Sunday and extra summer transportation services will link Vancouver Island to the Canadian and U.S. mainlands.

CPR will start a thrice-daily service to Port Angeles, the first direct link with that city since last fall; the luxury steamers Princess Patricia and Princess Marguerite will provide faster steamer service to Vancouver, and also swing into the Nanaimo-Vancouver run to increase schedules to 11 round trips daily (added to Black Ball Lines' 10 round trips); Washington State Ferries has already increased its Sidney-Anacortes service to two round trips daily, with a further increase due June 15; Trans-Canada Air Lines will provide 15 round trips Victoria-Vancouver; Pacific Western Air Lines continues a daily round trip Victoria-Nanaimo-Vancouver with extra sections as needed.

Washington State Ferries will enter the Victoria-Port Angeles service June 15 with four round trips daily.

Some transportation companies will make the daylight saving time switch, others will remain on standard time.

The transportation men prefer to refer to DST as "local time." On transcontinental services, such as CPR, CNR and TCA, trains and planes run through many time zones in addition to local time preferences. In Manitoba, for instance, three main TCA calls are made; two on standard time, one on daylight time.

THE SCHEDULES

Travellers should clip this summary to keep the time factor straight:

Operating on standard time from Sunday, April 29:
Canadian Pacific Railway and steamships; Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway; Canadian National Railway and steamships; Washington State Ferries.

Operating on local time from Sunday, April 29:
Black Ball Line, Vancouver Island Coach Lines, Gulf Island Ferries, Coast Ferries (including Brentwood Mill Bay), Trans-

Canada Air Lines, Pacific Western Airlines, Canadian Pacific Airlines.

Operating on both:
Deepsea shipping. Ships entering B.C. waters from sea do so on Pacific Standard Time.

Ships leaving B.C. ports for sea do so on Pacific Daylight Saving Time.

WAITER'S 3-YEAR TIPS AMOUNT TO $67,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Hans Paul, 65, retired headwaiter of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, was sentenced to four months' imprisonment and fined $7,500 Tuesday in federal court for evading payment of $4,992 in 1951 income taxes. He pleaded guilty to one of four counts which together charged him with failure to report more than $67,000 received in tips between 1949 and 1952.

TRAIL—Gifted school children should be sought out from classes and given an accelerated program of work, said Dr. S. R. Laycock, former dean of education at the University of Saskatchewan.

He spoke Tuesday to the teachers of Trail.

Dr. Laycock is visiting at the invitation of the Trail and District Teachers' Federation.

DRIVE BLAZING TRUCK

PORT COQUITLAM—Truck driver Jack Kukler, of Haney, saved a machine shop from possible destruction by fire Tuesday by driving his blazing oil truck into the open seconds before its empty tank exploded.

The truck caught fire while being repaired at the machine shop. No one was injured by the explosion.

BRIDGE PLAN ABANDONED

LANGLEY—Plans to relocate the old Pitt River bridge at Barnston Island have been abandoned, highways minister Gagliardi said here Tuesday. "Engineering reports discouraged use of the old span between the island and the Surrey mainland because of the depth of water," Mr. Gagliardi said. The Fraser River Pile Driving Co., owners of the old span, hoped to install it at its new location at a cost of $225,000. Cost of present government ferry service is $25,000 a year.

OKANAGAN TV SOON

PENTICTON—M. P. Finnerty, managing director of radio station CKOK, says he hopes to see television made available to the Okanagan by September of this year. In a speech to the Rotary Club, he said the three valley radio stations in Penticton, Kelowna and Vernon have formed a company and made experimental studies of television transmission in the area. "It appears," he said, "a low power station can be built at Kelowna with transmission to smaller units at Vernon and Penticton to ensure reception throughout the whole area." CBC approval has to be obtained before the TV station can be built.

ELAINE GOES INTO DRYDOCK

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Canadian Pacific's Princess Elaine will go to Burrard Drydock at North Vancouver Thursday for inspection of her three propellers, one of which, it is believed, was damaged after contact with a submerged log, causing abnormal vibration in the ship.

The Elaine's scheduled sailings from Vancouver to Nanaimo at 9 p.m., and from Nanaimo to Vancouver at 11:59 p.m., have therefore been cancelled. The CPR has announced.

To assist in handling traffic, the 8 p.m. sailing of the company's Princess of Vancouver will be delayed one hour, leaving Vancouver at 9 p.m. on April 26 only.

Ike Rejects Bomb Test Ban

President Sees No Good in Visit Of Red Leaders; Will Not Cut Taxes

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today rejected suggestions that the United States call off the hydrogen bomb test in the Pacific next month.

He said such tests are linked inseparably with the development of guided missiles.

Mr. Eisenhower also said he believes no useful purpose would be served now by a visit of Soviet leaders to this country.

And he said he can see no logical reasons for reducing taxes this year.

He told his news conference that as of now he is convinced it would not be in the good interest of America to lower tax rates. He made it clear that this attitude would hold even if the federal surplus during the current fiscal year should prove to be considerably larger than the $200,000,000 forecast by the treasury last January.

Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential aspirant, said Saturday the United States should consider halting the H-bomb test as a gesture toward disarmament.

Stevenson Tuesday also urged greater speed in the development of guided missiles.

Mr. Eisenhower said he found it paradoxical for a person on one hand to urge as hard work as possible on missiles and then ask that work be stopped on the H-bomb. The President said it would be imprudent to have one without the other.

The President said he had no reason to challenge the forecast by N. S. Khrushchev that Russia soon would have guided missiles with H-bomb warheads capable of hitting "every point in the world." But the President added quickly that there is a very long distance between laboratory capability and the construction of a very expensive, effective and elaborate instrument of war.

Other highlights of Mr. Eisenhower's news conference today:

1. He said he had not received from Vice-President Richard M. Nixon what he would consider a definitive answer as to whether Nixon wants to run with him this fall.

2. He got a report this morning from Harold Stassen, White House disarmament specialist, on Stassen's talk with Communist boss Nikita Khrushchev in London Tuesday night. On the basis of the report, he said, he can see no change in what he called Russia's pull-apart approach to disarmament. While the United States wants inspection first, he said, Russia is still insisting on disarmament and then inspection.

IT LOOKED GOOD BUT WASN'T . . .

Velvet calm Royal Roads waters encouraged Bill Muir's first marathon of the swim season this morning, but the leaden surface indicated a sluggish tide, too weak to push him along at a pre-reckoned rate in time to meet the flood outside Race Rocks. (Times photo.)

BETWEEN TIMES By MONTE ROBERTS

Well, well. Look what the morning mail brought me:

Dear Monte:
Speaking of good taste I read your piece in the paper of April 19th and I quote, "a high powered outboard appeared from the south approaching the swim flotilla at a high speed casting up a heavy wake in the vicinity of the swimmer" unquote.

I regret that you were not on the swim yourself and have to read the paper for news. But if you had been, you would have seen as everyone on the flotilla did my boat was at no time in the way and for sure I was careful not to make wake in the swimmer's area.

Monte, you should please print this letter or write a retraction as this quote is not true.

As example if you look back in the papers I am sure you will see where this same reporter said, "and Big Bert came from the water crying," and this quote also made good copy. Although I haven't cried since I was 10 years old.

Monte I read all your lines in every paper and have always enjoyed them and will continue. But please print the truth.

I wish anyone that attempts old man Strait in the future the best of luck as anyone with the plain "guts" to tackle it deserves credit and will sure get it from me.

Thanks,
Tacoma, Wash. BERT THOMAS.

Dear Bert:
I am happy to print your letter, as requested.
I can't write a retraction, though, unless my informant withdraw the information they gave me.
I sincerely hope they were seeing things.
As ever,
MONTE.

Swindling Repairmen Bring Warning From City Chamber

Victoria Chamber of Commerce today warned householders against repairmen swindlers.

"We have had a number of complaints recently," a chamber official said. "Expensive and often inefficient repairs are done by men who go from door to door canvassing work."

"Elderly widows and people living on small pensions seem to be a prey to this kind of thing."

"We would urge them not to give work to casual repairmen without first consulting recognized city firms and getting estimates from them."

Today a woman complained to the chamber that she had been charged $150 for repairs to a damaged chimney.

$150 BILL

A repairman called at her house and said he had been told the chimney wanted repairing. He was given the job and later submitted a bill for $150.

After paying it, the woman said she was told the job could have been done by a reputable firm for a third of the price.

Cleaning chimneys is sometimes used as a wedge for expensive repair work. Once the cleaner is on the roof he can pry a brick loose from the chimney and then scare the householder into an expensive repair job.

Householders are also warned against being high-pressured into signing contracts for siding or roofing work by men who call at the door and make "special offers which cannot be repeated."

Power Swap Approved By Cabinet

Final approval of a swap between the B.C. Power Commission and the B.C. Electric arising from a Sechelt Peninsula power wrangle was given today by the B.C. cabinet.

The cabinet approved the commission's sale of its Clowhorn Falls power plant on the peninsula to the B.C.E. and its purchase of the B.C. Electric's transmission line from Nanaimo south.

The commission disposed of its Sechelt properties for $2,235,580, which is "not less" than the commission's investment.

The power commission, in turn, paid $1,385,000 for the B.C.E.'s transmission line from the Jingle Pot sub-station at Nanaimo to Stratford Crossing.

WITHDREW
Both utilities sought the Sechelt Peninsula power franchise last year, but the power commission withdrew its application at the last moment in favor of the B.C.E.

The deal was described by CCF MLAs as "a sell-out" in favor of the privately-owned B.C.E.

The order-in-council approving the two-way sale said the commission required the transmission line to meet "the growing needs for power in the Duncan area."

It said the transmission line purchase would obviate the necessity of constructing a dual line between Stratford Crossing and Jingle Pot.

Cold Water Drives Muir From Strait

Saanich Surveyor Quits at 3½ Miles

Second attempt to swim Juan de Fuca Strait this year was washed out by icy water and slow progress two hours, 26 minutes after Saanich surveyor Bill Muir dived in off Saxe Point.

Muir quit 3½ miles from the start, because the effects of 42.5-degree water were too much for him. He blamed lanolin oil smeared over him for conducting the cold rather than insulating his body.

Navigator Bud Phillips said the swimmer was too far behind schedule to take advantage of currents he planned to use to get him past treacherous Race Rocks.

A second try will be made in June, the 34-year-old swimmer said as he left the water a half-mile off Albert Head.

It will be his seventh attempt counting five tries made between June and September last year.

"I'm healthy enough," Muir insisted. "It's just that this grease is too cold. It's just sucking the cold right in."

"I'm okay m'edically and physically, but," he warned marathon swimmers in general, "Don't use lanolin."

"This is the coldest I've ever been in this water."

PERFECT CONDITIONS

Conditions for the swim were perfect, with skies clear and sunny, no wind and only a gentle swell on the water in Royal Roads.

Third swim try of the season was to be made this afternoon at 4.30 by big Ben Laughren, Victoria chef, whose initial attempt one week ago failed when an expected tide did not materialize.

Today he planned to leave Horseshoe Bay on the last two hours of the flood tide, catching the ebb toward Race Rocks and the second flood into Ediz Hook at Port Angeles.

Muir's attack hinged on a 1½-knot tide to Albert Head and a three-knot ebb from there to a point outside Race.

At that point the flood was to assist him by 0.1 knot added to his swimming speed of one knot an hour as he stroked south-southeast toward the American shore.

Fluctuations in the stream were picked out by the 16-foot outboard cruiser Sharon Marie, with Raymond Sawyer piloting several hundred yards ahead of the swimmer.

BREAST STROKE

Muir varied his stroke between 30 and 40 per minute, using breast stroke mostly, alternating with a side stroke and brief spurts at a crawl. He suffered no cramps as in several attempts a year ago.

His final position on the Times Swim Chart was near the centre of sector F4. Watched by 20 spectators, including rival Laughren, Muir started at 7.08, left the Strait at 9.34.

Not one to swim on an empty stomach, Muir ate two hamburgers, soda crackers, four large spoonfuls of honey and a glass of orange juice before his plunge at Saxe Point, the place Bert Thomas landed after his successful south-north swim last July.

In the water, Muir ate honey to cut the taste of salt water in his mouth.

Navigating vessel was the gill-netter Wen Sue and other boats in the flotilla were the veteran swim coverage vessels Chatham Chief and Black Dog.

Car Horn Brings Police to Crash

Continual honking of a car horn and an aroused Scott Street resident led police to the scene of an accident shortly before 2.30 a.m. today.

Jack Bannerman, 3002 Scott, phoned police to say that a car horn was continually blowing in the Hillside-Shakespeare area.

When police arrived they found Thomas Evans, 18, 2871 Shakespeare, slumped over the wheel of his car.

He was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital suffering from abrasions and head injuries, and was reported in satisfactory condition today.

Police said a car driven by Evans had mounted a curb on Hillside near Shakespeare and tore out about 60 feet of fence at 1591 Hillside.

Mayor Asks Help In Bookie Probe

RCMP Aid Refused; City Police Stumped

Mayor Percy Scurrell today asked Royal Canadian Mounted Police to investigate charges Victoria is the "hub city" in an international exchange of horse racing information for bookmakers.

The mayor called on the RCMP when city police were unable to find the Victoria end of a direct wire which Washington police claim links this city with a night club halfway between Everett and Seattle.

"Local police have nothing, and say there is nothing as far as they know," the mayor stated. He said he asked the RCMP to attempt to prove or disprove the charges, which followed a police raid on the night club last weekend.

INTERNATIONAL ASPECT

Mayor Scurrell believed the national and international scope of the alleged bookie information service might make the investigation a matter for the federal police force.

But, up to press time today, RCMP authorities had declined to take action, the mayor said. "The RCMP say it is not in their jurisdiction," he said.

The mayor said he had inves-

Coroner Rules Snag Death Accidental

Death of Mrs. H. G. Taylor, Central Saanich woman struck by a falling snag Saturday night, has been ruled accidental following an inquiry conducted by Coroner Dr. E. C. Hart.

Mrs. Taylor died in hospital early Tuesday morning after receiving head injuries in the freak accident.

She was struck and pinned to the ground by a burning snag as she was strolling with her son while he inspected land-clearing fires on her property off Patricia Bay Highway.

London Bishop Plans To Preach in City

Rt. Rev. Joost de Blank, Bishop of Stepeny, the man many churchmen expect will be appointed Archbishop of Canterbury when Dr. Geoffrey Fisher retires, will visit Victoria, May 20 and 21.

He will preach at Christ Church Cathedral Sunday, May 20, and Monday is scheduled to meet clergy and laity of the diocese.

His Grace arrives in Vancouver, May 1, and will conduct schools of evangelism at mainland centres.

The bishop was born in Rotterdam, and while at Cambridge decided to enter the church. He was ordained in 1932. In 1941 he became senior chaplain to the British forces in the Middle East, and was wounded in 1944.

The churchman who self-admittedly liked "to keep the life lines open. I don't like to live exclusively in an ecclesiastical world," believes people these days need to be led to church.

"They have a need for security, a need impressed on them by the times, and religion can fill that need."

But they need direction. Thus his campaign of evangelism.

has always been to lead and to stir public opinion.

"The church must continue to work that way."

If it does, the bishop thinks, it will have followers.

He believes more groups of Christian men, doctors, ditch-diggers, newspapermen, should be formed to aid the individual toward God. This would help selfish groups decide how best Christianity can be applied to their own spheres.

The bishop thinks there is danger in the present trend of emotion in religion.

There is danger, he thinks, in "biological fundamentalists" like Billy Graham, and likens such operations to chain store methods.

"You get quick turnover and easy profits, but I'm not sure that you always get the best goods."

The bishop has 110 churches under his charge. He is 47.

SWIM POOL BUILDERS DESPAIR AS WATER, WATER EVERYWHERE

A new swimming pool at the Royal Roads Canadian services college has run into water trouble. Not lack of it. Too much of it.

When contractors Luney Bros. and Hamilton commenced excavating for the pool, they uncovered an underground stream.

Water gushed into the air "like a cloudburst in reverse," a spokesman for the company said.

Work on half the project has been halted while new designs are drawn for footings and drainage.

Unfortunately the underground stream can't be tapped to keep the pool filled.

Contractors said the unwelcome water will add considerably to the $320,000 cost of the pool.

SHOPPING GUIDE

When Finished With Bucket Fold It Up, Put It Away

By PENNY SAVER

There have been numerous types of buckets brought out for the buyers the last while, and though they differ in construction, material and size, they have one thing in common, they all take up about the same amount of space. What would please the householder and many others, too, would be a collapsible pail—and sure enough, I've found one. It's called a fold-a-pail and is made of strong plastic that's easily folded. There are circular wire braces at the base and mouth of the pail to hold it in shape, and there's a snap-closed handle of heavier, black plastic over the top. When it's full, it keeps its shape, and holds one gallon of liquid. When it's empty, just fold it down, slip it back into the box or onto a shelf. It's neatly and easily stored for the next use.

Dad will like it for washing the car, 'cause he can set it right on the fender without worry of it scratching the paint job. It's wonderful for camping, fishing, window cleaning, for the beach or farm. Another feature is that it is semitransparent so you can see if you've left the soap or rag in the murky water. The price? It's $1.45.

Here's something different and interesting in wicker work. There's a horse standing about 13 inches high, which has a mane and tail of bushy straw, and a cleverly formed saddle, stirrups, bridle and reins are of plastic cord. Lift up the saddle and it's an opening into the hollow body of the horse, just like the wooden horse of Troy.

It would take a reversed place in any child's room, especially a boy's room, and would soon be filled with all kinds of treasures. It's priced at $3.95.

For the little girl, there's a plump bunny with tall ears, all of

Cotton Parka Covers Supersede New Bonnets in Far Northland

Instead of new bonnets, Eskimo women make new covers of print cotton materials for their parkas, guest speaker Miss Dorothy Robinson told the meeting of the diocesan board of the Woman's Auxiliary held recently in St. Luke's Hall.

Miss Robinson, who was teacher in the government school at Tuktoyaktuk until a few weeks ago, said that Eskimo children in the kindergarten learned to speak English and then taught their parents the language. A scout and guide troop was organized, also cub and brownie packs.

Eskimo women also made dolls and other souvenirs and the proceeds from the sale of these articles are donated to the W.A.

The speaker was thanked by the president, Mrs. B. P. Harding, who also presided at the meeting.

Members were welcomed by Mrs. W. Hunter; Scripture reading was given by Mrs. G. Buckland; noonday devotions conducted by Canon F. Pike, and prayers taken by Mrs. K. Cheston and Mrs. S. G. Hawkins.

Treasurer's report, given by Mrs. F. A. Goodwin, showed a bank balance of $3,652.72. Mrs. A. E. Raymond, Girls' Auxiliary secretary, reported 16 branches represented at the rally in Nanaimo recently. Other reports were given by Mrs. C. D. George, Mrs. A. A. Bates, Mrs. G. Simmons, Miss L. H. Halliwell, Mrs. E. Laubel, Mrs. D. Brooks, Miss N. M. Nicholson, Mrs. E. Sigston, Mrs. G. V. Jarvis, and Mrs. G. H. Pidcock.

A life membership was given to Ella Isabel Harding. The pin was presented by Mrs. R. O. Taylor, the certificate by Miss D. Mitchell and flowers by Mrs. T. G. Griffiths. Deaconess

Young-Kish Wedding in Prince George

A wedding of interest to Victorians took place Saturday in Sacred Heart Church, Prince George, when Margaret, daughter of Mrs. Rose Kish, Kelowna, and the late Lewis Kish, exchanged vows with Melvin Charles Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Young, Saanichton. Rev. G. Clenchman officiated.

For the ceremony, the bride chose a full length gown of white satin with net overskirt. Her scalloped, fingertip veil was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms and her only jewelry was a pair of pearl earrings. Red roses formed her bouquet.

Peter Young, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Arthur Young, brother of the groom, and Arthur Bowes. Jack West gave the bride in marriage.

Bridesmaid, Miss Mary Bulka of Lestock, Sask., chose a gown of coral satin with net overskirt and lace mits. She carried a nosegay of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack West.

The bride's going away ensemble was a pink tweed suit with navy accessories and corsage of white carnations. Following a honeymoon in the United States, the couple will live in Prince George.

Cheques Given — It was announced at a luncheon meeting of the Lions' Auxiliary that a cheque for $150 has been sent to the Family and Children's Service to assist in furnishings for the new home for emotionally disturbed children. A cheque for $25 was also sent to the Gorge Road Hospital to assist in yearly upkeep of a room furnished by the auxiliary. Plans were made for a dessert party at the home of Mrs. Charles Savage when she will show color slides of her recent trip to the Caribbean.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Though Spring Bursts Forth Gals Needn't Burst Seams

Just because nature is bursting forth in all her glory is no reason for us to burst out of our seams. Yet many women do find themselves a few pounds overweight, come spring.

Thousands of women are just five or 10 pounds away from a lovely figure. Since they are not greatly overweight they fail to lose the few extra pounds they have. This seems too bad because with just a little effort during a short reducing period a truly youthful silhouette could be theirs.

Also, it is a hazard to keep the first 10 pounds overweight because extra pounds are likely to multiply and before you know it you may have 20 or 25 or more to lose.

I am here with my 9-Day Reducing Diet again to help you lose those extra pounds. If you have lots of weight to lose, these nine days can give you an encouraging start.

Here are your menus for tomorrow:

Breakfast—One poached egg on toast, black coffee.

Luncheon—One medium hamburger cake (cooked without butter and made of lean meat), celery sticks, one glass skimmed milk, two raw carrots.

Dinner—Small lean steak, one-half cup cauliflower, one baked potato (no butter. Medium-sized potato has only about 90 calories), one orange, one glass skimmed milk before bedtime.

If you have missed some of the preceding 9-Day Diet menus you may have them in a convenient booklet by sending 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the booklet to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Miss Hilda Hesson

Dominion Women's Organizer Has Great Faith in Own Sex

Miss Hilda Hesson, recently retired woman's director for the Progressive-Conservative party in Canada believes that "women have been terribly slow politically but they're definitely on the advance now."

She believes that it's the pressure from women that achieved the equal pay for equal work law. "It may not mean a lot at the moment," she says, "but the law is there, ready when a case arises."

She also thinks that women have been aroused to bring out qualified women for public office, and that "now they must also be aroused to back them."

These beliefs (observations, Miss Hesson calls them with a twinkling smile) have been formed through her work, which has taken her to the small towns and the large cities from one end of Canada to the other.

When Miss Hesson took the position of women's organizer for the Progressive Conservatives there was only a handful of women's groups. When she retired a few weeks ago she had organized more than 30,000 women across Canada.

KNOWS THOUSANDS

Which means she must have met thousands of women. Perhaps a couple of million. "I couldn't estimate," she says quietly. "I know what they are doing. How they are progressing and the distance they have come in the past five years."

"We now have three women Members of Parliament," she added proudly, "also a number of women mayors and a goodly number of women holding office in civic and municipal circles."

"That's where women should start in public life—in civic or municipal work. Women who begin at this level do a good job and they learn all about public life. Then they are ready to go on."

Tall, well-groomed and smartly dressed, with a youthful face which belies her softly coiffed white hair, and a merry twinkle in her blue eyes, Miss Hesson has the friendliness and the poise which inspires liking and confidence.

Her diversified talents have led her to try her hand at a variety of jobs before she became Progressive Conservative women's organizer. She has been a secretary, librarian and dean of women of the Provincial Normal School of Manitoba; an editor of children's pages on two magazines, and a publisher of "Gossip," a chatty Winnipeg periodical.

She had, however (to use her own words), a "wandering foot," and so she took the position of a hostess on Canadian Pacific cruises and conducted her own tours overseas in the summer.

Mrs. Ross Honored at YWCA Tea

Daffodils and narcissi decorated the main lounge of the YWCA, Tuesday afternoon, when members of the board of directors entertained at the tea hour in honor of the honorary president, Mrs. Frank Mackenzie Ross, wife of the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia.

Daffodils and japonica were arranged on the head tea table where Dr. Olga Jardine and Mrs. B. S. Heisterman presided at the silver tea urns.

Standing in the receiving line with Mrs. Ross were Mrs. H. C. Small, president of the board of directors, and Mrs. Elsie Purcell, executive director.

Mrs. Ross wore for the occasion a navy blue faille suit dress with complementing small blue straw hat trimmed with bright pansies. The pansies were repeated in her corsage.

Mrs. Small was in grey with head-hugging yellow straw hat, and Mrs. Purcell wore a black and white ensemble. Attending with Mrs. Ross was Miss Ruth MacLean.

During the afternoon the honorary president was taken on a conducted tour of the YWCA building by Mrs. F. Bliss and Miss O. Hewson, house director.

Other invited guests were Mrs. P. B. Scurrah, Mrs. W. A. C. Bennett, honorary vice-presidents; past presidents Dr. Jardine, Mrs. J. D. Hunter and Mrs. Heisterman; life members Miss Kathleen Agnew, Mrs. H. A. Arnold and Mrs. J. S. Plaskett, and permanent and part-time staff members Mrs. E. Mills, Mrs. H. S. Lindson, Miss Hewson, Mrs. M. McKenzie, Miss B. Pluyim and Mrs. D. Lucas.

Other board members present were Mrs. K. O. Wright, Mrs. R. E. Foster, Mrs. A. H. Sheard.

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

East-West Interest in Engagement

The announcement is made today by Major and Mrs. Sydney Smith Penny of Victoria, of their elder daughter, Nancy Helen, to Rev. James William Davies, younger son of Dr. and Mrs. John Powell Davies of Huntsville, Ont. The wedding will take place on May 23 at 3 p.m. in the Lampman Chapel of Union Theological Seminary in New York. Miss Penny's sister, Mrs. George Edward Moul of Vancouver will be her only attendant. Mr. John Stanton Davies of Detroit will be best man for his brother.

Pre-Wedding Entertaining

Miss Elsa Nielsen and her fiancé, Mr. Thomas Stephens, will hold an open house and will show their wedding gifts Thursday evening from 7 to 10 p.m. at their future home, at 471 Obed avenue.

Miss Nielsen was guest of honor recently at a miscellaneous shower held by Miss Irma Bouhy, 960 Cowichan street, where many gaily-wrapped gifts overflowed from a decorated gift box. Red roses and feathered white carnations were in Miss Nielsen's corsage, while the groom-elect's mother, Mrs. A. A. Stephens, received pink carnations and iris. Spring flowers decorated the refreshment table where a pastel shower cake was centred. Invited guests were Mrs. A. Stewart, Mrs. E. Nielsen, Mrs. W. Boniface, Mrs. W. Severson, Mrs. D. Hosmer, Mrs. S. Brown, Misses Gwen Rossiter and L. Nielsen.

Attend Mainland Wedding

Mrs. Frank Young and Mr. Peter Young of Saanichton and Mrs. E. T. Watson, Victoria, attended the wedding in Prince George, Saturday, of Margaret Kish to Mr. Melvin Charles Young.

How Fast Does the World Go Round?

The round earth is doing a very fancy dance in the sky. It turns and travels in several different directions at the same time. This goes on every second day and night. We don't notice it because we are so used to it.

The earth travels 600 million miles in its path around the sun each year. It travels this orbit at an average speed of 18 1/2 miles a second. The sun and all the planets are also moving around the giant Galaxy. Everything we see in the sky is moving around in the great cartwheel of stars. Our Solar System is going around the Galaxy at about 170 miles a second.

Then, once in every 24 hours, the earth spins around like a top. It is as though there were a rod through the middle of the world from pole to pole. This imaginary line is the axis. Of course, it is not a real rod.

If you sliced the world in half at the equator you could look down on a flat circle. It would be turning from the west to the east, much like a spinning top. Some spinning toys have circles painted on top, one inside the other. With each turn each circle turns around once. But the outer circles are larger and have a greater distance to turn, so they must turn faster to keep pace with the smaller circles nearer the top.

So it is with the turning earth. The biggest circle is halfway between the two poles. This is the earth's fat waist, the equator. That biggest circle must turn fast enough to keep up with the smaller and smaller circles nearer the poles.

These circles are as imaginary as the axis rod through the world. They are called latitudes. They are parallel circles running around the earth to help us divide it in sections. The equator is the biggest circle. The further from the equator, the smaller each latitude circle becomes. The smaller the circle, the slower it spins around the earth's axis.

The earth is about 24,000 miles around the waistline. This means that the equator must spin around that distance every 24 hours. So, at the equator, the earth goes around at about 1,000 miles an hour. Now what

Andy sends an American Peoples Encyclopedia Yearbook to David Roberts, age 12, of Phoenix, Ariz., for his question:

How is a turtle different from a tortoise?

If you wish to call all these fellows turtles you may. You may also call all of them tortoises. Both animals belong to the family of Chelonina. You may wish to be precise and call some of this family turtles and others tortoises. If so, you will call the water-loving ones turtles. This goes for the monster sea turtles that come on land only to lay their eggs. It also goes for the little slider that pops in and out of our fresh water streams and ponds. As a rule, turtles are meat eaters. Some of them eat both meat and vegetables. Some of them have their four legs developed in the form of flippers for better swimming.

You may call the land-dwelling members of the Chelonina family tortoises. Some of these fellows dislike the water. The giant of the family, the big tortoise of the Galapagos Islands has no love for the water. Our little desert tortoise never sees the water. Most of the tortoises are vegetarians.

Wealth of Experience Stimulates 'Pirates'

The pirates, the police, and the major-general's daughters are stepping up their paces. All of which just means that rehearsal tempo for "Pirates of Penzance" is speeding up as the Victoria Gilbert and Sullivan Operatic Society moves nearer production dates—April 30, May 1 and 2, at the Royal Theatre.

Members of the cast, who already agree that musical director Jim Yeomans is right on top of his end, are finding that stage director Arthur Budd is also a master craftsman.

Mr. Yeomans' experience with operas of Gilbert and Sullivan goes back to his youth in Manchester, England—and right on from that through years of productions in Buenos Aires, Santiago, Chile, and Vancouver.

Mr. Budd came to Victoria only last July from England. Except for the war years, he has spent almost all his life in the theatre, as has his family for 300 years.

All this experience is proving a tremendous asset to "Pirates of Penzance," tickets for which are available from members, at Woodward's, the Hudson's Bay Company, and Victoria Music Centre.

Two FOR THE Show

By PHIL LEE

AA—Oscar Class BB—Worthwhile C—To Put in Time

(A) "THE PRISONER"

(Capitol)—Under no consideration should this British film starring Alec Guinness and Jack Hawkins be classified as mass entertainment. Although it is brilliantly acted and ruthlessly real, it is only for the thinker, the person who is willing to see the show from beginning to end and weigh every word. If this is not done the meaning of the whole will be lost.

The plot, in brief: On the orders of the chiefs of a new totalitarian state interrogator Hawkins tries to force a confession from a cardinal, played superbly by Guinness. Although his superiors in their impatience favor violence to gain a false statement from the holy man, Hawkins maintains that this is impossible. He worked with the cardinal as a member of the resistance and knows that physical anguish could never break the man down.

EVENTUALLY, AFTER MONTHS of skillful interrogation, Hawkins secures a confession and the cardinal is sentenced to death on a trumped-up charge. At the eleventh hour, however, the authorities change their minds. Rather than make him a martyr in the eyes of his countrymen they release him knowing that he has been humbled to such a low degree he can never regain his former eminence.

In addition to Guinness and Hawkins, Kenneth Griffiths turns in a fine performance as the interrogator's assistant who revels in learning the ropes of torture.

Highlight of "The Prisoner" is the canny black and white photography and the brilliant manner in which the story is edited. The spinning discs recording the Cardinal's every word, the solitary walks in the courtyard with his guard, the dripping water, the stark cell and the ceaseless interrogations give the viewer some idea of the horrors of a "brain-washing."

Alec Guinness, known for his superb comedy roles in such outstanding films as "Kind Hearts and Coronets," "Captain's Paradise," "Man in the White Suit," etc., proves that he is capable of the finest dramatic roles as well. Truly he is the man of many faces.

Janet Blair Sid Caesar's New Partner

NEW YORK (AP).—Comedian Sid Caesar has ended a month-long search for a new television mate and has selected Janet Blair, musical comedy star.

She will replace Nanette Fabray, whose contract demands resulted in her forthcoming separation from the show.

Miss Blair, a pert 35-year-old actress, will become Caesar's video partner next fall. Contract terms were not disclosed.

Miss Blair will be Caesar's third television partner. His first was Imogene Coca.

FAIRFULL NOMINATED FOR TOP GALLERY POST

Annual meeting of the Art Gallery of Greater Victoria will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday at the gallery. Election of a president and 12 members will take place.

Nominees are Cmdr. P. R. Fairfull for president; for one year terms on the board, Ken McAllister, Anthony Lort; Mrs. Lloyd McKenzie is nominated as president of the women's committee.

Up for two-year positions on the board are Dr. Gyladys Downes, Mrs. George Masters, Mrs. Evelyn Maynard, J. G. Rutten, William West, Charles M. Nelles, Anthony Emery, R. B. Mathews, Wilfred Johns and Mrs. Lloyd Jermain.

By-Law Wanted To Buy Back Woodward Spot

Ald. Robert Macmillan said Tuesday he will ask city council to put a money-by-law to city voters in the next month to buy back from Woodward Stores Ltd. a block of downtown property fronting on Pandora avenue and Blanshard street.

Woodward officials advised the city recently the store will not build on the land as previously intended. In accordance with the agreement made when the land was bought from the city, the valuable site was offered to city lands department for $185,000.

City finance committee moved to reject the offer Monday when it was pointed out the land could only be bought for "corporate purposes."

It had been sold by the city for $150,000. The $35,000 price increase was described as "carrying charges."

Ald. Macmillan told reporters he believes the site would be ideal for either a civic auditorium, a combined city hall and police station or a civic parking centre.

"In any event, we are permitted to change our minds at a later date if we decide otherwise and can sell it," he stated.

SELL NOW

He added he has reason to believe one-third of the land could be sold profitably now.

According to the terms of the original sale the city has 90 days in which to reach a decision before the store could sell the property elsewhere.

"There are barely 40 days left... enough for the city to arrange for the money by-law," he pointed out.

He said the by-law would be necessary in order for the purchase price to be borrowed. "If we let it go, we are giving away thousands of dollars," he stated.

PEGGY PACKARD... sings tonight

Mozart's 'Requiem' Set For Presentation Tonight

Lead soprano role in presentation at Victoria High School auditorium at 8.15 tonight of Mozart's "Requiem," by Victoria Choral Society, will be taken by talented Peggy Walton Packard.

Miss Packard was acclaimed recently for her versatility when she presented a Norfolk Galleries "one-man show," in which she gave a vocal recital and at the same time exhibited works of sculpture and paintings.

Other soloists in "Requiem" will be Eleanor Duff, contralto; Edward Oldfield, tenor, and John Bray, baritone.

A choir of 100 voices will carry the presentation, under direction of Christ Church Cathedral music director Graham Steed. Organist Dorothy Malory and an orchestra will be heard as well.

Pineapple Week...

at SUPER-VALU

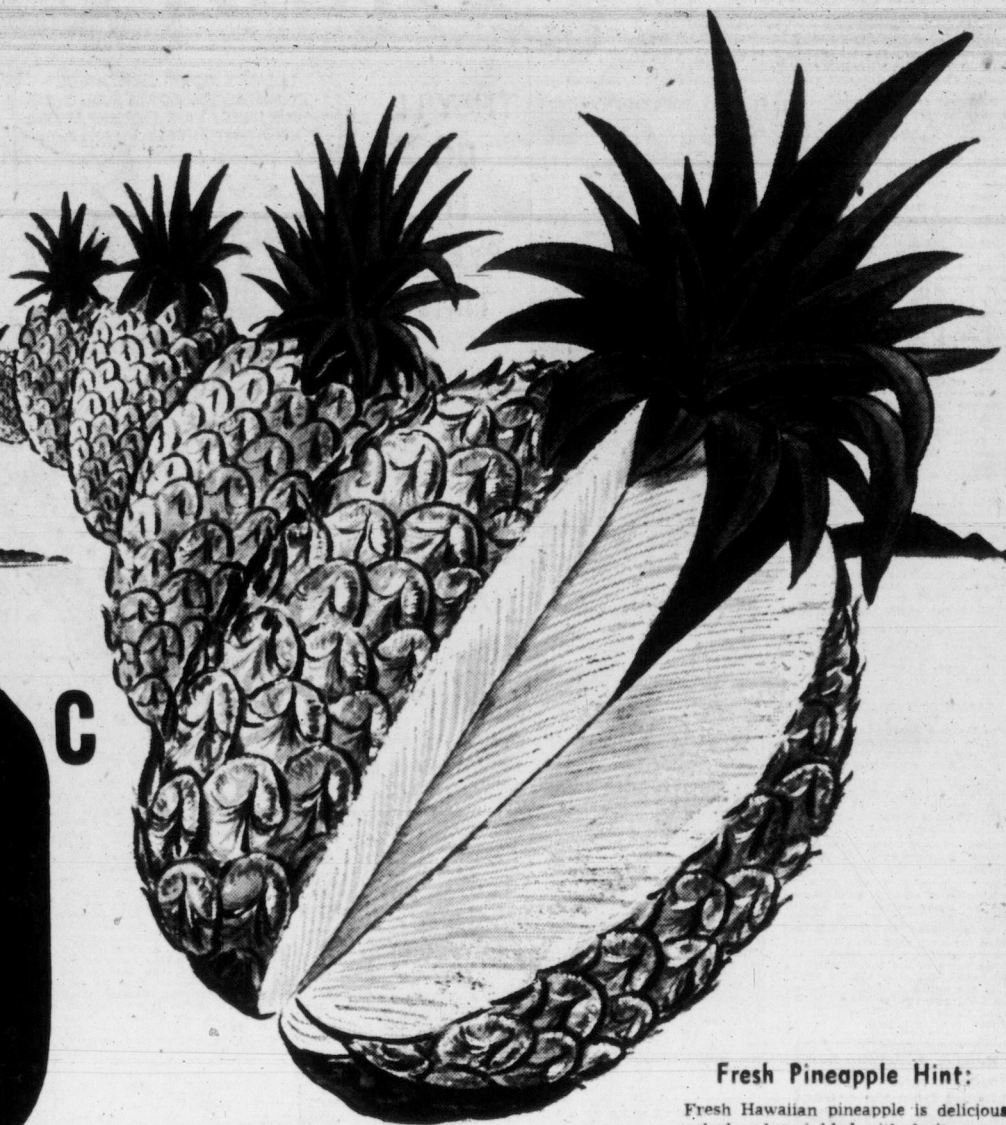

EACH

Weight, 3 lbs. or over

There are more pineapples than on a plantation at SUPER-VALU this week . . . just arrived from Hawaii, fresh as the breeze on Waikiki.

Every one extra large, jumbo size, specially selected for ripeness, texture, and juice content.

Fresh Pineapple Hint:

Fresh Hawaiian pineapple is delicious cubed and sprinkled with fruit sugar. Chilled overnight, it makes its own delightfully fresh sweet juice.

GLACED COTTAGE ROLL WITH PINEAPPLE SLICES

Simmer cottage roll 30 minutes per lb. Bay leaf, peppercorns and allspice may be added to simmering water. Drain and remove skin. Spread thinly with prepared mustard and sprinkle with brown sugar. Cover with fresh pineapple slices and continue baking until brown and glazed.

COTTAGE ROLLS

Lean, tender and delicious cottage roll is your treat of the week at SUPER-VALU. Every SUPER-VALU cottage roll is lean and waste-free, cured to perfection.

As company dinner or family treat, serve cottage roll baked and glazed, with slices of fresh Hawaiian pineapple.

When you shop to save today at SUPER-VALU plan this taste treat for your family!

WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG (CP)—Further export business in rye featured trade on the Winnipeg grain exchange today.

Two-day business was estimated at nearly 2,000,000 bushels with East Germany mentioned as the largest buyer.

The business reflected an active trade in rye and prices were sharply higher.

There was some activity in barley with a few export orders to the United Kingdom. Oats was domestic and prices moved narrowly.

Flax trade was quiet on firm prices.

CHICAGO

CHICAGO (AP)—Feed grains eased on the board of trade today as parts of the corn belt received some much needed moisture.

Losses ran to around two cents at times in corn. Wheat dipped early but then moved briskly above the previous close. Rye advanced in sympathy with wheat.

NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP)—Active demand for railroads and motors featured a mixed stock market today.

Canadian stocks were mixed. Hudson Bay Mining gained 1 1/2, Walker-Goodman advanced 1/2 and Distillers Seagrams added 1/2.

Lower were McIntyre, down 1/2. Aluminum Ltd. and International Nickel, both down 1/2, and Canadian Pacific, off 1/2.

On the American stock exchange Canadian Marconi and Shawinigan were both up 1/2, and Eureka ahead 1-1/2.

Lower were Wilrich Petroleum, down 1/2, and Fargo Oil, Great South Grass Oil, Jupiter Oils, Sapphires Petroleum and Scurry-Rainbow Oil, each down 1-1/2.

LONDON

LONDON (Reuters)—With Wall Street lower overnight and with incentive lacking, London stock markets today continued to drift lower.

The government issues, however, moved against the general trend and were 1-1/2 higher. Dominions and colonials were steady and foreigners irregular.

Rails were also mixed, with White Pass and Canadian Pacific lower in sympathy with Trans-Atlantic issues. Small losses were widespread in industrials with the leaders prominent on the decline, including Hudson's Bay.

BA OIL Will Expand In Western Canada

TORONTO (CP)—Expansion of British American Oil Company's refineries in western Canada will have to be undertaken within two years, A. M. Beringer, president, said today as the company's annual meeting.

He added that additional catalytic reforming units and other installations at Edmonton and Moose Jaw, Sask., were under consideration.

At Clarkson, Ont., in addition to $4,000,000 catalytic reformer, a 30,000 barrels-per-day crude oil unit would be installed which would more than double the output of the refinery there.

The company plans a wide range of marketing operations. Mr. Beringer said, including new stations across Canada and modernization of its farm distributor outlets.

OF MAJOR SIGNIFICANCE

By 1980, petroleum and natural gas would be required to supply approximately 71 per cent of the energy for Canada's

He is in the employ of the provincial government.

Trans-Canada Pipeline Discussed

OTTAWA (CP)—Premier Manning of Alberta conferred with Trade Minister Howe Tuesday on prospects for an early start on the $375,000,000 Trans-Canada natural gas pipeline.

There has been speculation that sponsors of the 2,200-mile project, Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd., are seeking backing to make a start on the western leg this year.

Mr. Manning estimated that about $72,000,000 would be needed for this initial Alberta-to-Manitoba construction.

Trans-Canada has been given until Nov. 1 to show the board of transport commissioners it has raised the funds to start the line.

But the company has hit a double snag. It cannot get full financial backing until its American associates are empowered by the U. S. government to import surplus gas from Trans-Canada at Emerson, Man. And opponents to the imports are digging in for a long battle before the Federal Power Commission which is considering the import application.

CROSS-CANADA RUN SHORTER

VANCOUVER—Canadian Pacific's transcontinental train The Canadian will cut 20 minutes from its eastbound run between Vancouver and Montreal under a new schedule starting April 29.

CPA Orders Five Britannias

VANCOUVER—Canadian Pacific Airlines has increased its order for Bristol Britannias from three to five aircraft. It was announced here today.

The airlines' option on five more of the turbo-prop airliners remains unchanged.

Total cost of the CPA order, including spare parts, is $16,000,000. When the order for three planes was signed last October, it was announced that the Britannia would fly initially on CPAS' long-haul Pacific and polar routes operating services from Vancouver to Amsterdam, Tokyo to Vancouver, and Van-

New Wheat Deal Protects Canada

Importers Pledged to Purchase Quota of 102,896,902 Bushels

By ROBERT RICE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Canada's annual export quota under the new three-year International Wheat Agreement is 102,896,902 bushels, it was announced tonight.

In theory, this means that if wheat drops to the floor price—$1.50 under the new agreement—importers pledged to buy the full quota. However, in practice exporters do not insist on redemption of this pledge.

Total quantity covered under last Saturday, amounted to 302,915,145 bushels, compared with 395,000,000 bushels under the present agreement.

The quantities for the 44 importing countries were announced tonight at the final plenary meeting of the United Nations wheat conference. During the last six months discussions have been held in Geneva twice and London once.

The new pact, which comes into effect Aug. 1, provides a minimum price of $1.50 and a maximum of $2. Under the present agreement, the minimum price is $1.55 and the maximum $2.05.

SMALLER THAN BEFORE

Guaranteed sales for each crop year for the five other exporting nations are: Argentina, 14,697,484 bushels; Australia, 30,257,000; France, 16,534,669; Sweden, 6,430,149, and the United States, 132,098,561.

The new agreement now is open for signatures of member nations until May 18 in Washington. Between now and then, it is expected that some importing countries may increase the quantities.

One Canadian official, who is not a delegate, said tonight the agreement is important because it embraces virtually all the exporting nations, including two new members in Sweden and Argentina. It covers about 90 per cent of available export supplies.

At the final plenary session today, Australia expressed disappointment with the terms of the new agreement, particularly as to quantities.

Rothschilds To Invest In Canada

NEW YORK (CP)—The Rothschild banking houses of Paris and London are incorporating in Canada a venture capital company with initial capital of $8,000,000.

Belgian and Dutch interests are associated with the Rothschilds in the new firm, Five Arrows Securities Co. Ltd. This title derives from the five arrows in the Rothschild coat-of-arms, which symbolizes the five original Rothschild banking houses.

Baron Guy de Rothschild of the Paris Rothschild firm is chairman of the company, which will promote, finance and develop new enterprises in any country in the world, an announcement said.

DEPUTY MANAGER—G. Arnold Hart has been appointed deputy general manager of the Bank of Montreal. One of the bank's youngest executives, he was formerly assistant superintendent at Calgary, manager of the Edmonton main office and an agent at the bank's New York office.

U.S. Primary Polls Start

In view of the intense interest here in whether President Eisenhower will run again in the U.S. and what will happen whether he does or doesn't, the Times asked Dinah Kerr, a former reporter now in Seattle for an explanation of the U.S. electoral system. Her article follows:

By DINAH KERR

Primaries have already started the political machinery rolling toward the election of the new president and vice-president of the United States and members of Congress.

Due mainly to the American system of primaries, which has no Canadian counterpart, this machinery is very complex.

The purpose of the primary is to nominate, rather than to elect.

'Open Primary' Used in 10 States

In the "open primary," used by 10 states, the voter is free to choose at the voting place in which party's primary he wishes to vote.

The individual polling the largest vote receives the nomination of his party for office. Candidates nominated then begin campaigning in preparation for the general election in November.

Candidates are elected to the House of Representatives from congressional districts within the state. The state of Washington, for example, is divided into six districts of roughly equal population and has six district representatives and one representative elected "at large." The entire membership of the lower house, 435 representatives, is chosen by voters in the congressional election held in November every two years.

Two senators are elected "at large" from each state and serve six-year terms. One-third of the seats in the Senate become vacant every two years.

In this way, no state ever elects both of its senators at the same time.

This year, as in every fourth even-numbered year, the states which use the presidential preference primary will also elect delegates to the national party conventions.

Delegates Named at Convention

In the State of Washington, district delegates and delegates-at-large are elected, not in the primary, but at a state convention. The basis of representation is traditionally two delegates for each United States senator and each representative.

The Democratic party's national convention will be held on August 13 in Chicago. Republicans will hold their convention on August 20 in San Francisco.

At both national conventions the roll is called alphabetically, state by state, and each state delegation may name a candidate for the office of president.

Each party then has one candidate for the office of vice-president and one for the office of vice-president.

Canada has no scheme to compare with the electoral college which actually "elects" the president and vice-president. In Canada the voter does not vote directly for the prime minister. Instead he has part in selecting a member of parliament to represent his district.

The prime minister, chosen from among leaders of the majority party, also has been elected from his own riding.

Formal Election Anti-Climactic

Members of the electoral college meet in their respective state capitals on the first Monday after the second Wednesday in December and formally cast their ballots. On January 6, at a joint session of Congress, the electoral votes are counted and the president of the Senate announces the result (which is old news by then, as the results are usually obvious after the general election throughout the states.)

Inauguration of the president takes place on January 20. As a result of the 22nd amendment of the U.S. Constitution, ratified in 1951, the president is limited to two four-year terms.

The president, with the advice and consent of the Senate, appoints a cabinet to advise him on the administration of the executive branch of the government.

Each individual cabinet member also serves as the director of one of the 10 executive departments — state, defence, treasury, interior, agriculture, justice (attorney-general), post office (postmaster general),

NEW ANTISEPTIC DEODORANT safely stops perspiration 1 to 3 days

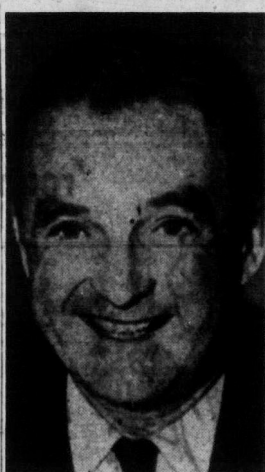

Clinical tests prove that ARRID, now with Perstop, is 1½ times as effective as other leading deodorants. Arrid's antiseptic protection keeps underarms dry and odourless.

1. Safely stops perspiration and odour.
2. Will not irritate normal skin.
3. Protects clothes from stains and clinging odours.
4. Soft, gentle vanishing cream. Never dries out.
5. Easy to use! Rub Arrid in, rub perspiration and odour out.

'Mally Curl' New Hair-Do?

LONDON (Reuters) — Princess Margaret is wearing a new hair style which British newspapers have dubbed the "Malenkov curl."

The curl was introduced last month when chubby ex-premier Georgi Malenkov, the Soviet power stations minister, came here at the head of a delegation of Russian engineers. A photograph of him on arrival at London airport, with a windswept look falling over one eye, gave London hairdressers the idea. It caught on, and soon became a must for Britain's smartest debutantes.

Monday night Princess Margaret attended a ball at a west-end hotel. Nestling coyly over her forehead was the Malenkov curl.

Mounties Pressing Hunt for Thieves At Mesachie Lake

MESACHIE LAKE — RCMP are continuing an investigation of the theft from Mesachie Lake General Store Friday of $25 in cash, a mantle radio, cigarettes and a large quantity of clothing.

The building was entered through removal of a pane of glass on the rear door and breaking through plywood panel in a second door to the store space.

Manager of the store is Don Berry.

Listed as missing were two pairs of men's shoes, an assortment of sport shirts, 10 pairs of trousers and women's blouses, sweaters and dresses.

In the Canadian federal system, the prime minister chooses cabinet ministers from among top party members holding seats in the House of Commons.

Thus, the cabinet is subject to change following a federal election. In the United States, department heads are seldom congressmen but are appointed by the president for indefinite terms and may serve until the party is defeated in a national election.

Symington Possible Compromise Candidate for Democrat Party

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UP)—Stuart Symington is a handsome, 55-year-old Missourian of whom the whole world may become abruptly aware some hot night next August.

Symington is the junior U.S. senator from Missouri, serving a first term to which he was elected in 1952. It is quite possible—if not yet probable—that the Democratic party will nominate Symington for president this year.

He would be a compromise candidate, considerably short of a 100 per cent left winger, but not a Conservative, either, by a large margin. There is more than a whisper of speculation in Washington that Symington would stand to gain the most if the three more publicized Democrats were rejected.

The three are: Adlai E. Stevenson, Illinois; Sen. Estes Kefauver, Tennessee, and Gov. Averell Harriman, New York. Former President Harry S. Truman nominated Stevenson almost single-handed in 1952. There is some basis for doubt now that Mr. Truman is in Stevenson's corner.

STEVENSON STRAYS

Harriman looks more like Mr. Truman's man. Stevenson is being accused of straying to the middle of the road. The left wing of the Democratic party seems to be a bit suspicious of him.

Harriman and Kefauver are 100 per centers, loyal to Mr. Truman's Fair Deal and therefore without much support from middle roaders and with none among party Conservatives.

On the basis of their records, Mr. Truman could go easily for either of them, except that Kefauver offended in 1952 by meeting and beating the then president in New Hampshire's presidential primary. Mr. Truman is not likely to forget that.

Neither would he be likely to forget that Symington served him well and that they are fellow Missourians, although Symington is a carpet bagger of sorts, having been born in Massachusetts and schooled in the East.

Symington was FDR's wartime assistant secretary of war for air. He was first secretary of the independent air force under Mr. Truman. Later he was chairman of the National Security Resources Board.

When the Reconstruction Finance Corporation was in trouble, Mr. Truman named Symington administrator to untangle it.

Republicans and Democrats

SIDNEY—A tender of $22,977 for construction of a two-room elementary school at Deep Cove, submitted by M. B. East, Sidney contractor, was accepted Tuesday night by Saanich District 63 school board.

Although the tender was the lowest of eight, it was $500 above the amount estimated in the building by-law. The balance will be covered by a contingency fund.

agree that Symington did a good job wherever FDR or Mr. Truman put him. Before the war he was president of the Emerson Electric Manufacturing Co., St. Louis. He has, the saying goes, met a payroll.

Mrs. S. is a charming woman, daughter of former Sen. James W. Wadsworth of New York.

not exactly in the chips in the depression days, Eve Symington did a chore of night club entertaining. She sings, and good. There are two sons, Stuart and James.

Symington is an 80 per center on the Americans for Democratic Action honor roll. That means he voted the left wing.

More about Eaton's

One of the nice things about EATON'S new main floor is that even the mere male can find his way around it—and discover, in the process, some of the darndest things! There just doesn't seem to be any limit to the things one can buy at EATON'S—no wonder it's called the "Store with More."

Cocktail Chuckles

The napkin used to be a hygienic device for wiping fingers, mouths, etc., but now it's either a decoration or a conversation piece as well. Particularly striking in the Party Shop are "Dennis the Menace"—36 cocktail napkins each with a different Dennis episode, for 1.50, and Bridge-isms—slightly larger, also humorous, but dealing with bridge blunders. Also 1.50 for 36.

Shelf Smartener

I remember my wife's mother telling her never, but never to use newspaper for lining shelves. Trouble is, I understand, that the date shows just how bad a housekeeper one is! Who'd use newspaper, anyway, when they can get white shelf lining paper with a 2" decorative frill that hangs over the edge and really sparks up the kitchen or closet? Floral, gingham or taffan patterned edge, a 126" length to cover a 7" shelf costs only 20c.

Faster Fasteners

Maybe a woman's work is never done, but there are a number of clever gadgets at the notions counter which make it a sight easier! Gripper fasteners, for example—but not just plain—no sir! These come with a decorative mother-of-pearl-like top that would make even a sack look sharp. A kit of four, complete with attaching tool, is yours for a mere 69c. Also noticed a neat self-sharpening holder for tailor's chalk at 85c.

Handier Hanging

Still at the notions counter. I was most intrigued by a sponge rubber cover for a wire coat hanger. All those wire hangers one accumulates can now be used on your good clothes without feeling guilty. Just slip the cover on and the hanger's beautifully cushioned. Only 15c, in red, blue, white, yellow or green. Another form of rubber showed up in the toiletries section—the Marilyn Bell swim cap, which no straits swimmer should be without. Provider, I was informed, comfort, protection, and even glamour, for just 1.29.

Pocket Tool Kit

Last stop was at the cutlery section, where one of those all-purpose jackknives took my fancy. One should always be prepared—and I'm now prepared for anything with a strong horn-handled knife with 2 blades, screwdriver, hole puncher, can opener, cork screw and bottle opener (shouldn't go thirsty, no matter what happens!) Cost me 2.25 and would be welcomed by any other small boy up to the age of ninety.

WILL WAR ON FRANCE ITSELF, SAYS ALGERIAN

CAIRO, Egypt (UP)—Algerian Nationalists threatened today to carry their North African warfare into "France itself."

The statement came from Algerian Nationalist leader Ferhat Abbas who said he was proposing negotiations between France and the "Algerian Liberation Front" aimed at winning independence for Algeria. If France refuses, he said, "all North African liberation forces will intensify the war and carry it into France itself."

Review of TV Muddle Proposed by Mayor

Mayor Percy Scurrell today supported a plan to ask the CBC to review local television problems, and determine definitely whether a planned city station would spoil reception of other channels here.

Ald. Austin Curtis made the suggestion to the Times when commenting on the current television muddle.

He said before council rules on a rezoning application which will permit CKDA-TV to construct a studio on top of Smith Hill, the effect of such action on residents of the city generally should be known.

He felt it might be found that location of a studio would be all right in the proposed vicinity if transmission facilities were farther away.

Council and town planners are currently stymied by a 153-name petition opposing the Smith Hill studio on land which the city has agreed to sell prospective builder David Armstrong.

The mayor said, if interference cannot be avoided, "I suppose it would be fair to have a plebiscite" before permitting the rezoning.

The petition, filed at city hall this week, will be presented to council Thursday. Most

Bill Muir lasted two hours and 26 minutes, and was three and one-half miles from his starting point at Saxe Point, Esquimalt, when he quit his first try this year to swim the Strait of Juan de Fuca because of the cold and sluggish tides.

Ben Laughren was scheduled to start at 4.30 p.m. from Horse-shoe Bay, Beacon Hill.

Tax-Easing Plan Stirs Vote Talk

By TOM GOULD
Times Legislative Reporter

Premier Bennett's Social Credit "dividend" plan for easing taxation on homeowners has left municipal government officials in utter confusion.

The confusion extends to his political opponents, who see in the revolutionary proposal the formation of a new Social Credit platform and an early general election.

The new plan promises to be one of the most controversial subjects in the province.

Premier Bennett set the stage for the puzzle in a speech at Powell River Monday night. He said the government was considering a plan whereby the provincial government would pay taxes on the first $1,000 or $2,000 of assessment on residential property.

Asked to be more specific, he replied "We want to keep them guessing."

One report said the government intends picking up a share of the general purpose tax, not on education taxes. Another said only residential property taxes, and not commercial property, would be involved.

There is no clarification on whether the provincial share would include land assessments as well as improvements, and the final cost to the government is a complete mystery.

LONDON (AP)—A Russian trade official who attended Tuesday night's roisterous party at Claridge's Hotel for the visiting Soviet chiefs wound up in magistrate's court today on a drunk charge.

Gennady Vladimirovich Klirikov, 27, pleaded guilty to being drunk and incapable in a north London street at midnight.

"Are you here with the Russian trade delegation?" the magistrate asked.

Klirikov grinned. "Yes—I was at Claridge's last night."

"Hm," said the magistrate.

"Well—anything might have happened there. Pay five shillings please."

Russians Glum After Final Talk

Extra Parley With Eden Ends in Aura of Gloom

LONDON (AP)—Talks between British and Russian leaders ended tonight with Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party secretary Nikita Khrushchev emerging from an emergency extra session in a strained and glum mood.

AERIAL H-BOMB TEST AT BIKINI SET BY U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The hydrogen bomb test at Bikini atoll next month will be a mid-air explosion of a weapon dropped from a plane.

(Soviet party boss Nikita Khrushchev announced at London this week that Russia already has dropped a hydrogen bomb from a plane.)

The U.S. government has never stated specifically whether the several series of tests at the mid-Pacific proving grounds in recent years have included an air burst.

Premier Sees End of Tolls On Bridges

POWELL RIVER (CP)—Premier Bennett said today the B.C. government hopes to free the lower B.C. mainland from bridge tolls through wider application of the 50-50 federal-provincial cost-sharing principle on the Trans-Canada Highway.

The plan hinged on a request to be made to the federal government that it count the north shore upper levels highway as part of the Trans-Canada Highway. This would include the $16,000,000 Second Narrows Bridge now under construction.

If the federal government paid half the cost, the tolls would not be applied because, by tradition, there cannot be tolls on Trans-Canada highway roads, Mr. Bennett said.

Tolls then would also be taken off the present Lions Gate Bridge because it could hardly operate with tolls while the new Second Narrows Bridge was toll-free.

The premier, in an interview, also indicated he might seek to switch the Trans-Canada route out of the Fraser Valley on to a new highway leading to the proposed $16,000,000 Deas Island tunnel.

The road would cross Lulu Island and reach Vancouver via the new $10,000,000 Oak Street Bridge. From there traffic could cross to the north shore for ferries operating to Nanaimo.

Inoculation Program Cannot Be Completed Before Polio Season

Salk vaccine inoculations for Greater Victoria school children will be extended into the summer holidays or the fall school term.

Victoria-Esquamalt medical health officer Dr. Elizabeth Mahaffy said at noon she has been advised of further delays in shipment of the precious vaccine from Eastern Canada.

Delays were due to a rigid testing program which resulted in discard of so much vaccine that existing stock piles have been seriously depleted, she said.

"Anything that doesn't measure up is being discarded. They are having the same trouble in the United States," she said.

"We should know more by mid-May. I wouldn't say the vaccine was indefinitely delayed. We might get less than was anticipated and we might get more."

The program will not now be completed by the end of the current school term (June 28). But probably all the children will receive first doses by then.

She added that second shots might have to be scheduled in the summer months or when school begins again in the fall.

The Salk program for 1956 was expanded earlier this year to include a total of 18,653 children from the 4,287 who were injected last year.

It was planned to begin inoculations soon after Easter.

'Peg Mayor Hurries Home To Fight Floods

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mayor George Sharpe, of Winnipeg, left here early today for home after getting a "does not look good" report on the Manitoba flood situation. He was attending the Canadian automotive electrical convention here and had planned to stay until Monday.

Winnipeg (CP)—The swollen Assiniboine River today was running free of ice for the first time since the floodwaters began inundating southern Manitoba farmlands last week.

Reeve Lawrence Smith of the Portage la Prairie municipality said he was informed by Tom Weber, chief drainage engineer, that all the ice jams between Portage and Headingley, 16 miles west of Winnipeg, had broken up overnight.

Flood fighters dynamited six ice jams between Poplar Point and Winnipeg late Monday.

High winds Monday night threw ice and debris over the Trans-Canada highway near Baie St. Paul, 30 miles west of here, and all traffic was stopped. Westbound traffic was being rerouted at Headingley.

Flood waters have cut off telephone communications in the district and civil defence officials in Portage la Prairie sent in rescue crews fearing that many persons might be stranded.

Highway traffic was resumed. The flood waters moved south towards Elie, where they swamped the south side of the community. Five homes and ten farms were evacuated and the town's convent, school and church were surrounded by water.

The water also moved into the swollen La Salle River, which flows southeast to the Red.

Work crews began stockpiling material on the east side of the Hoot 'n' Holler, a twisting bend in the Assiniboine, where floodwaters were still spewing over the land. The water was receding so quickly in the area officials expected the level would be low enough later.

Water to move over tennis courts and golf course fairways Tuesday night in low-lying Wildwood in the southeast section of the city. The area is outside the dikes.

About 100 pieces of heavy earth-moving equipment, 350 trucks and 500 men worked a second round-the-clock shift to build up dikes. Some 200 volunteers worked until sand ran out to sandbag the 24.5-foot wall surrounding the low Elm Park peninsula.

Seven calves on the George Gurny farm near Baie St. Paul had to be carried to the barn loft when the Assiniboine left three feet of water covering the land. Nine cattle were in two feet of water on the barn's ground floor.

FAMILIES EVACUATED Jack Becker, whose farm is near Gurny's, said the flood would certainly mean he would have to give up farming this summer and find another job. He worked as a car-

'Most Quoted Paper' Title For The Times

The Victoria Daily Times has won the title of "British Columbia's most quoted newspaper on the basis of per capita circulation" for the first quarter of 1956, according to a survey just completed by National Press Checking Services Ltd.

W. H. Bowden, managing director, released the study today.

The report shows that The Times topped B.C. in ratio of quotes to circulation, followed by the Vancouver Province, Nanaimo Free Press and Colonist.

In total number of quotes—which takes in the entire country—the position was reversed, with the Province first among B.C. papers and Times second, followed by the Vancouver Sun, Colonist, Vancouver Herald, and papers at Nanaimo, Kamloops, Prince Rupert, Nelson, Trail and New Westminster.

Only three British Columbia dailies made the charmed circle of Canada's "50 leading newspapers," from the entire field of 104, coast to coast, included in the quote statistics.

The Windsor Star led national standings, with the Ottawa Journal second. Of B.C. papers, the Vancouver Province ranked twentieth, the Victoria Times thirty-second and the Vancouver Sun thirty-seventh.

Own Political Party Labor Congress Goal?

(See Page 8)
TORONTO (BUP)—The new Canadian Labor Congress adopted a middle-of-the-road policy on political action today, with only one hand raised in opposition.

The quick agreement on the issue, which had been feared might split the CLC apart at its charter convention, surprised everybody but the labor chiefs who negotiated it in back-room hammer-and-tong sessions. Since the merger convention of the Trades and Labor Congress and the Canadian Congress of Labor opened Monday, it had been speculated that the political action question would arouse stormy controversy.

The CCL is on record as supporting the CCF party, while the stronger TLC has remained aloof from outright support of any political party.

The new 1,000,000-member congress adopted a resolution which will bind it to a program of "political education," leaving member unions free to support without pressure any party they please, if they please.

The TLC unionists, who never were completely happy with the neutral stand of their leaders, supported the special resolution of the unity committee because they are now freed from the binding policy of inactivity.

Both unions compromised in the interests of unity.

As the vote was called, after an hour of speeches was raised in opposition to a resolution which would not have a chance to speak on the issue.

Frank Hall of the railway workers' union coined a colorful simile based on the marriage of the TLC and CCL.

In supporting the resolution, Hall said the situation of merging and unity in the political action question had "prevented a divorce of two young married people."

"If they disagree in politics," he said, "they can't live happily together and will get a divorce, but if they sit quietly and consider why they got married and how they can best further the success of their marriage, they will stay united and be happy."

D. F. Hamilton, representing the powerful Toronto Trades and Labor Council, was given a standing ovation as he said "This convention's willingness to compromise is a victory for labor unionism, not for either the TLC or CCL supporters."

Many of the delegates said they felt the resolution that was adopted gave them freedom of political action on a firm foundation that would ensure successful relations between labor and politics.

OWN LABOR PARTY?

It appeared, however, that many of the 1,600 delegates were seriously planning to eventually form their own Canadian labor party as a result of this second resolution. The first motion praised the CCF party for its past efforts in labor's cause, both in and out of parliament.

Eamon Park of the steelworkers' union said the CLC's action "gives us the approval to develop an effective people's voice party in Canada," but he said his own union would continue its support of the CCF party.

"The public have shown an interest in what this convention will do about politics," Park said. "I think they will be glad to see we are not forcing anyone to vote in any particular way."

Mr. Laing described the premier's plan as "the most far-reaching effort yet to take the public mind off the Sommers case."

(This is a reference to the Sommers-Sturdy controversy, in which charges and counter-charges involving bribery and conspiracies have been leveled.

Former Social Credit Lands and Forests Minister R. E. Sommers is suing Vancouver lawyer David Sturdy in connection with the charges. The case is not expected to be heard until mid-September.

Mr. Strachan said the premier was using "a smart political trick—collecting provincial taxes from the people, and then giving part of the money back to them."

BC Gets 100 Of 500 Teachers Hired in U.K.

LONDON (CP)—About 500 top-flight British teachers will leave for Canada this summer to begin new careers in the classrooms of Ontario and the four Western provinces.

The teachers, many of them highly-qualified language and science specialists, are being recruited to help offset the shortage of Canadian-trained staff. Those not earmarked for specialist posts will go to rural areas.

Ontario, now in the midst of an active recruiting campaign, is expected to absorb about 300. British Columbia will take another 100, and the remainder will be divided among Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

SALARY ATTRACTION

Main attraction for the new recruits is the highest salary scale prevailing in Canada. The top British basic salary—£725 for men and £580 for women—is less than half the average salary paid to Ontario secondary vocational teachers. And an inexperienced school-marm settling out on her career in B.C. receives almost the same starting salary that United Kingdom teacher receives after 15 years' service.

(However, in comparing these figures, weight must be given to the pound's higher purchasing power in terms of commodities and services.)

Emphasis of the recruiting drive is on quality.

way, other than as his conscience dictates."

The CCF was praised for its non-pressure tactics in the interests of furthering the labor movement as a whole. Delegates cheered as the party's statement was read which declared "We are not interested in political affiliation of the CLC. We want what is best for labor."

The resolution states the political education committee should be "authorized to initiate discussions with free trade unions not affiliated with the congress, with the principal farm organizations in Canada, with the co-operative movement, and with the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation or other political parties pledged to support the legislative program of the Canadian Labor Congress, excluding Communist and Fascist-dominated parties, and to explore and develop co-ordination of action in the legislative and political fields."

The first portion of the resolution recommends a political education committee be established to help local unions carry out any type of political action they desire.

It urges all affiliated unions and federations to take "the utmost interest in political affairs, to continue such forms of political action or education as they may have carried on in the past, and to undertake such further activities as may in the future appear to be appropriate for achieving the basic objectives of the congress."

A major development from the second resolution would be formation of a Canadian Labor party along the lines of the British Labor party which is dominated by the giant trade unions.

Some weight was given to this possibility yesterday by the standing ovation given to Charles J. Geddes, past president of the British Trades Union Congress, who addressed the convention.

Geddes said he was "amazed" that the federal government had not granted civil servants collective bargaining rights.

"Our civil servants had that 50 years ago," he said. "I am amazed the government in this progressive land does not see fit to treat its workers as human beings."

Geddes also told the delegates an aspiring writer hoping to start on a story of the "Decline and Fall of Great Britain" as a world power had better put off the project.

"We are not declining, much less falling," he said. "I am convinced we will solve our difficulties. I am convinced Britain has a great part yet to play in this world of science and machines."

MACHINISTS LED WAY

The drive for a Canadian labor party was spearheaded by the powerful Toronto delegation of the International Association of Machinists, representing Avro Canada Aircraft plant workers. Many of the employees are immigrants from England.

Roy Begley, president of local 717, submitted a resolution asking for a report to the next CLC convention on the possibility of forming a distinct labor group in the House of Commons. The group would act under its own party whips and support all legislation directly favorable to labor.

Earlier he urged outright affiliation with the CCF.

penter last year when his property was inundated.

At Westbourne, 20 miles northwest of Portage la Prairie, the swollen Whitemud River spread two feet of water over the main street and isolated many homes. Four families were evacuated and farmers near the river, which flows north into Lake Manitoba, moved livestock to dry hills.

100,000 ACRES FLOODED

REGINA (CP)—An estimated 100,000 acres of Saskatchewan farmland was under water today as the Assiniboine and Whitesand rivers continued to rise in northeastern Saskatchewan.

Several farm families were ready to move out as water crept higher over their fields, many of which have not been seeded for the last three years.

Downstream from its junction with the Assiniboine, the Whitesand rose 20 inches in the 16 hours ended noon today. It was running free again after crews dynamited an ice jam against a bridge.

So far, it is the swift-flowing Whitesand that has caused most of the flooding as it pours into the slower-moving Assiniboine. The Assiniboine flood crest has yet to come, officials said.

Kamsack is about 210 miles northeast of Regina.

At Tantallon, a small village on the Qu'Appelle river near the Manitoba border, the river slowed its rise to stay almost a foot below the 1955 level. But eight families already have been forced from their home in the town of 140 persons.

Boats are common transportation at Tantallon and large pike have been seen swimming along its main street and over lawns of flooded house sites.

REGINA (CP)—Mrs. Harold Turner and her family saw their home flooded out this spring for the third time.

"They were forced out of their home by floods twice last year, in April and August. But Mrs. Turner, who has 11 children, is pretty philosophical about it."

"I feel as if I were back in my home-staying days now," she said as she resumed scrubbing the floor of the empty army hut in which she and other flood victims were temporarily quartered.

She and her husband had gone to their house by boat to put their furniture and prized sewing machine up on the second floor.

KNOW YOUR TEACHER

Iola Worthington, Mt. View, Has 100-Year Roots Here

Victoria-born Miss Iola Worthington, 1387 Craigdarroch, claims deep roots in the industrial beginnings of the city.

Miss Worthington keeps her hand in the business world as commercial teacher at Mount View High School, but her great-grandfather and great uncle operated Porter Bros. brickyard near the site of the B.C. Electric garage long before the turn of the century.

Miss Worthington's great-grandfather came to Victoria in 1858, before the city was incorporated. She attended North Ward, Victoria High and Spry-Shaw Schools, then went to Normal and University of British Columbia, graduating in 1929 with a BA in mathematics and economics.

Her teaching career began in Nelson and moved to Cobble Hill, Mount Douglas and Mount View in 1939. She stayed at the latter until 1943 when she joined the navy to serve as a WRNCO lieutenant in supply branch.

Later she became secretary to Captain "D", Halifax, who was responsible for organizing destroyer escorts for North Atlantic convoys overseas.

Miss Worthington returned to civil life in 1946, coming back to Mount View, where typing is her favorite subject of the many commercial courses she teaches.

Apart from curricular work, Miss Worthington assists with the school bookkeeping and is advisor to the student council treasurer.

Her hobbies are golf—she belongs to Uplands Golf Club—weaving, for which she is a member of the Victoria Hand Weaver's Guild and owns two looms, and the University Women's Club.

She lives with her mother, Mrs. W. P. Worthington. Her brother is Ainslie Worthington, Saanich councillor.

but estimated it would cost $30 to $40 per installation.

Mrs. N. M. Fulton, 1155 Finlayson, told the TPC meeting that there are 500 to 600 TV sets within a half-mile radius of the site, an investment, she said, greater than the investment in the new station set at $250,000.

Mr. Proudfoot said the new Capital Television System will be incorporated for $1,000,000 with an initial cash investment of $300,000.

SALT SPRING ISLAND

The 100-foot transmission tower would be moved to Salt Spring Island by 1958, he stated.

Other aldermen, who will be required to make the final decision for or against rezoning despite whatever recommendations came from the TBC expressed themselves as follows:

Ald. Geoffrey I. Edgelow: "The whole thing needs clarification. I will reserve my final opinion for a public hearing. But if it is going to cause interference the people of the city generally would be entitled to a say, by public hearing or plebiscite."

Ald. M. H. Mooney: "It won't be settled Thursday. Possibly Saanich, Esquimalt, Oak Bay and the city should all have a referendum on the question. I wouldn't support the station if there is no use of local talent... but would sacrifice the other stations to interference if local talent is to be used."

Ald. W. F. Pinfold: "It may have to come to a plebiscite. No doubt a lot more information will come out at a public hearing. There will have to be a hearing before any rezoning action could take place."

FULL REVIEW

Ald. Arthur Dowell: "I would support Ald. Curtis' suggestion for a full review by qualified experts of the CBC. Town planning will also give this further study. I don't think the decision is going to be hurried."

Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson: "I'm not a viewer and haven't formed a definite opinion. But if the protests are found to carry weight, I would oppose them."

Ald. Don Smith: "I wouldn't favor a plebiscite. Council will review the facts and use its own intelligence. Council will come up with a satisfactory solution."

BETWEEN TIMES

By

MONTE ROBERTS

Well, well. Look what the morning mail brought me:

Dear Monte:

Speaking of good taste I read your piece in the paper of April 19th and I quote, "a high powered outboard appeared from the south approaching the swim flotilla at a high speed casting up a heavy wake in the vicinity of the swimmer" unquote.

I regret that you were not on the swim yourself and have to read the paper for news. But if you had been, you would have seen as everyone on the flotilla did my boat was at no time in the way and for sure I was careful not to make wake in the swimmer's area.

Monte, you should please print this letter or write a retraction as this quote is not true.

As example if you look back in the papers I am sure you will see where this same reporter said "and Big Bert came from the water crying," and this quote also made good copy. Although I haven't cried since I was 10 years old.

Monte I read all your lines in every paper and have always enjoyed them and will continue. But please print the truth.

I wish anyone that attempts old man Strait in the future the best of luck as anyone with the plain "guts" to tackle it deserves credit and will sure get it from me.

Thanks,

Tacoma, Wash. BERT THOMAS.

Dear Bert:

I am happy to print your letter, as requested. I can't write a retraction, though, unless my informants withdraw the information they gave me.

I sincerely hope they were seeing things.

As ever,

MONTE.

Little Quilcum Falls Park on Vancouver Island will be enlarged, according to a provincial government order-in-council approved today.

Acquisition of adjoining property will add 22.6 acres to the park area.

Second Lieut. Harcourt Robin Brammal, Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps, Wesley Road, Royal Oak, will be among a group of 74 junior officers who will go to Europe this summer to train with units of the 2nd Canadian Infantry Brigade Group in Germany.

They are members of Royal Military College and civilian universities who are qualifying for commissions through the regular officers' training program or in the Canadian Officers' Training Corps.

A "Film Night for the Family" will be held by the Second Cathedral Scouts and Cubs Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Christ Church Cathedral Memorial Hall.

Several films will be shown. Saturday, May 5, a "Penny Fair" will be held in the hall, from 6 to 9 p.m. Booths will sell home cooking and other items.

SWIM POOL BUILDERS DESPAIR AS WATER, WATER EVERYWHERE

A new swimming pool at the Royal Roads Canadian services college has run into water trouble. Not lack of it. Too much of it.

When contractors Luney Bros. and Hamilton commenced excavating for the pool, they uncovered an underground stream.

Water gushed into the air "like a cloudburst in reverse," a spokesman for the company said.

Work on half the project has been halted while new designs are drawn for footings and drainage. Unfortunately the underground stream can't be tapped to keep the pool filled.

Contractors said the unwelcome water will add considerably to the $320,000 cost of the pool.

Swindling Repairmen Bring Warning From City Chamber

Victoria Chamber of Commerce today warned householders against repairmen swindlers.

"We have had a number of complaints recently," a chamber official said. "Expensive and often inefficient repairs are done by men who go from door to door canvassing work."

"Elderly widows and people living on small pensions seem to be a prey to this kind of thing. We would urge them not to give work to casual repairmen without first consulting recognized city firms and getting estimates from them."

Today a woman complained to the chamber that she had been charged $150 for repairs to a damaged chimney.

A repairman called at her house and said he had been told the chimney wanted repairing. He was given the job and later submitted a bill for $150.

After paying it, the woman said she was told the job could have been done by a reputable firm for a third of the price.

Cleaning chimneys is sometimes used as a wedge for expensive repair work. Once the cleaner is on the roof he can pry a brick loose from the chimney and then scare the householder into an expensive repair job.

Householders are also warned against being high-pressured into signing contracts for siding or roofing work by men who call at the door and make "special" offers which cannot be repeated.

Mrs. Josephine Martin, 85, 2913 Quadra, was in good condition at St. Joseph's Hospital today after receiving head lacerations and shock in a fall down some 14 steps at her home Tuesday night at about 8:16 p.m.

A customer who went to a city drycleaning shop to claim his cleaned and neatly-pressed suit Tuesday afternoon was responsible for discovering a burglary.

When an employee went to get the suit, it was found it had been stolen, along with two jackets, three pairs of pants and four white shirts belonging to other customers.

Police said Capital Cleaners, 725 Caledonia, was entered some time since Saturday by means of a window.

Bail was set at $250 in Saanich police court today for Kenneth C. Grant, 3420 Mathews, when he pleaded not guilty to a charge of being in control of an auto while his ability was impaired by alcohol early today on Union Avenue.

He was remanded to Thursday for trial.

A rummage sale will be held by the Soroptimist Club of Greater Victoria at the Cormorant Street City Market on Saturday at 7 a.m. Proceeds will go towards club charities.

Board of Industrial Relations announces hearings will be held in the near future to consider submissions prior to revising the minimum wage in the mercantile industry.

Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce will meet at McEwen's restaurant at 6:15 p.m.

Cold Water Drives Muir From Strait

Saanich Surveyor Quits at 3 1/2 Miles

Second attempt to swim Juan de Fuca Strait this year was washed out by icy water and slow progress two hours, 26 minutes after Saanich surveyor Bill Muir dived in off Saxe Point.

Muir quit 3 1/2 miles from the start, because the effects of 42.5-degree water were too much for him. He blamed lanolin oil smeared over him for conducting the cold rather than insulating his body.

Navigator Bud Phillips said the swimmer was too far behind schedule to take advantage of currents he planned to use to get him past treacherous Race Rocks.

A second try will be made in June, the 34-year-old swimmer said as he left the water a half-mile off Albert Head.

It will be his seventh attempt counting five tries made between June and September last year.

"I'm healthy enough," Muir insisted. "It's just that this grease is too cold. It's just sucking the cold right in."

"I'm okay medically and physically," but, he warned, "marathon swimmers in general, 'Don't use lanolin.'"

"This is the coldest I've ever been in this water."

His jaw trembled as he spoke prior to leaving the water.

PERFECT CONDITIONS

Conditions for the swim were perfect, with skies clear and sunny, no wind and only a gentle swell on the water in Royal Roads.

Third swim try of the season was to be made this afternoon at 4:30 by big Ben Laughten, Victoria chef, whose initial attempt one week ago failed when an expected tide did not materialize.

Today he planned to leave Horseshoe Bay on the last two hours of the flood tide, catching the ebb toward Race Rocks and the second flood into Ediz Hook at Port Angeles.

Muir's attack hinged on a 1 1/2-knot tide to Albert Head and a three-knot ebb from there to a point outside Race.

At that point the flood was to assist him by 0.1 knot added to his swimming speed of one knot an hour as he stroked south-southeast toward the American shore.

Fluctuations in the stream were picked out by the 16-foot outdoor cruiser Sharon Marie, with Raymond Sawyer piloting several hundred yards ahead of the swimmer.

BREAST STROKE

Muir varied his stroke between 30 and 40 per minute, using breast stroke mostly, alternating with a side stroke and brief spurts at a crawl. He suffered no cramps as in several attempts a year ago.

His final position on the Times Swim Chart was near the centre of sector F4. Watched by 20 spectators, including rival Laughten, Muir started at 7:08, left the Strait at 9:34.

Not one to swim on an empty stomach, Muir ate two hamburgers, soda crackers, four large spoonfuls of honey and a glass of orange juice before his plunge at Saxe Point, the place Bert Thomas landed after his successful south-north swim last July.

In the water, Muir ate honey to cut the taste of salt water in his mouth.

Navigating vessel was the gill-netter Wen Sue and other boats in the flotilla were the veteran swim coverage vessels Chatham Chief and Black Dog.

Power Swap Approved By Cabinet

Final approval of a swap between the B.C. Power Commission and the B.C. Electric arising from a Sechelt Peninsula power wrangle was given today by the B.C. cabinet.

The cabinet approved the commission's sale of its Clowhom Falls power plant on the peninsula to the B.C.E., and its purchase of the B.C. Electric's transmission line from Nanaimo south.

The commission disposed of its Sechelt properties for $2,255,580, which is "not less" than the commission's investment.

The power commission, in turn, paid $1,385,000 for the B.C.E.'s transmission line on the Jingle Pot sub-station at Nanaimo to Stratford Crossing.

WITHERED

Both utilities sought the Sechelt Peninsula power franchise last year, but the power commission withdrew its application at the last moment in favor of the B.C.E.

The deal was described by CCF MLAs as "a sell-out" in favor of the privately-owned B.C.E.

The order-in-council approving the two-way sale said the commission required the transmission line to meet "the growing needs for power in the Duncan area."

It said the transmission line purchase would obviate the necessity of constructing a dual line between Stratford Crossing and Jingle Pot.

Car Horn Brings Police to Crash

Continual honking of a car horn and an aroused Scott Street resident led police to the scene of an accident shortly before 2:30 a.m. today.

Jack Bannerman, 3002 Scott, phoned police to say that a car horn was continually blowing in the Hillside-Shakespeare area.

When police arrived they found Thomas Evans, 18, 2871 Shakespeare, slumped over the wheel of his car.

He was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital suffering from abrasions and head injuries, and was reported in satisfactory condition today.

Police said a car driven by Evans had mounted a curb on Hillside near Shakespeare and tore out about 60 feet of fence at 1591 Hillside.

RCMP Aid Refused; City Police Stumped

Mayor Percy Scurrah today asked Royal Canadian Mounted Police to investigate charges Victoria is the "hub city" in an international exchange of horse racing information for bookmakers.

The mayor called on the RCMP when city police were unable to find the Victoria end of a direct wire which Washington police claim links this city with a night club halfway between Everett and Seattle.

"Local police have nothing, and say there is nothing as far as they know," the mayor stated. He said he asked the RCMP to attempt to prove or disprove the charges, which followed a police raid on the night club last weekend.

INTERNATIONAL ASPECT

Mayor Scurrah believed the national and international scope of the alleged bookie information service might make the investigation a matter for the federal police force.

But, up to press time today, RCMP authorities had declined to take action, the mayor said. "The RCMP say it is not in their jurisdiction," he said.

The mayor said he had investigated through telegraph and telephone companies here, and was told neither had leased wires which might be involved.

Coroner Rules Snag Death Accidental

Death of Mrs. H. G. Taylor, Central Saanich woman struck by a falling snag Saturday night, has been ruled accidental following an inquiry conducted by Coroner Dr. E. C. Hart.

Mrs. Taylor died in hospital early Tuesday morning after receiving head injuries in the freak accident.

She was struck and pinned to the ground by a burning snag as she was strolling with her son while he inspected land-clearing fires on her property off Patricia Bay Highway.

London Bishop Plans To Preach in City

Rev. Joost de Blank, Bishop of Steyep, the man many churchmen expect will be appointed Archbishop of Canterbury when Dr. Geoffrey Fisher retires, will visit Victoria, May 20 and 21.

He will preach at Christ Church Cathedral Sunday, May 20, and Monday is scheduled to meet clergy and laity of the diocese.

His Grace arrives in Vancouver, May 1, and will conduct schools of evangelism at mainland centres.

The bishop was born in Rotterdam, and while at Cambridge decided to enter the church. He was ordained in 1932. In 1941 he became senior chaplain to the British forces in the Middle East, and was wounded in 1944.

The churchman who self-admittedly liked "to keep the life lines open. I don't like to live exclusively in an ecclesiastical world," believes people these days need to be led to church.

"They have a need for security, a need impressed on them by the times, and religion can fill that need."

But they need direction. Thus his campaign of evangelism.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Though Spring Bursts Forth Gals Needn't Burst Seams

Just because nature is bursting forth in all her glory is no reason for us to burst out of our seams. Yet many women do find themselves a few pounds overweight, come spring.

Thousands of women are just five or 10 pounds away from a lovely figure. Since they are not greatly overweight they fail to lose the few extra pounds they have. This seems too bad because with just a little effort during a short reducing period a truly youthful silhouette could be theirs.

Also, it is a hazard to keep the first 10 pounds overweight because extra pounds are likely to multiply and before you know it you may have 20 or 25 or more to lose.

I am here with my 9-Day Reducing Diet again to help you lose those extra pounds. If you have lots of weight to lose, these nine days can give you an encouraging start.

Here are your menus for tomorrow:

Breakfast—One poached egg on toast, black coffee.

Luncheon—One medium hamburger cake (cooked without butter and made of lean meat), celery sticks, one glass skimmed milk, two raw carrots.

Dinner—Small lean steak, one-half cup cauliflower, one baked potato (no butter). Medium-sized potato has only about 90 calories, one orange, one glass skimmed milk before bedtime.

If you have missed some of the preceding 9-Day Diet menus you may have them in a convenient booklet by sending 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the booklet to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

SHOPPING GUIDE

By PENNY SAVER

There have been numerous types of buckets brought out for the buyers the last while, and though they differ in construction, material and size, they have one thing in common, they all take up about the same amount of space. What would please the householder and many others, too, would be a collapsible pail—and sure enough, I've found one. It's called a fold-a-pail and is made of strong plastic that's easily folded. There are circular wire braces at the base and mouth of the pail to hold it in shape, and there's a snap-closed handle of heavier, black plastic over the top. When it's full, it keeps its shape, and holds one gallon of liquid. When it's empty, just fold it down, slip it back into the box or onto a shelf. It's neatly and easily stored for the next use.

Dad will like it for washing the car, 'cause he can set it right on the fender without worry of it scratching the paint job. It's wonderful for camping, fishing, window cleaning, for the beach or farm. Another feature is that it is semi-transparent so you can see if you've left the soap or rag in the murky water. The price? It's $1.45.

Here's something different and interesting in wicker work. There's a horse standing about 13 inches high, which has a mane and tail of bushed straw, and a cleverly formed saddle, stirrups, bridle and reins are of plastic cord. Lift up the saddle and it's an opening into the hollow body of the horse, just like the wooden horse of Troy.

It would take a reverend place in any child's room, especially a boy's room, and would soon be filled with all kinds of treasures. It's priced at $3.95.

For the little girl, there's a plump bunny with tall ears, all of wicker work. The back of this bunny also opens, so that the little miss' treasures could be kept safe. The bunny is $2.65.

If you collect miniatures you'll be interested in the small copper and brass chafing dish I saw. It even has the burner section on the bottom part. It can really be used, and would be perfect for melting butter or keeping tangy sauces hot for those special dishes. A small candle or a tablet of heat will fit in the burner. This is yours for $3.75.

If you're interested in the items mentioned in the column today call me at 2-3131 and I'll give you names of the stores where I found them.

Junior CWL Names New President

Mrs. Fred Griffin was recently elected president of the Junior Subdivision of the Catholic Women's League of Victoria. Mrs. Joan White is first vice-president; Mrs. Maria Kissinger, second; Mrs. Ann Rendle, third; Mrs. Mary Blewett, recording secretary; Miss Marie Longpre, corresponding; Mrs. Ilace Sullivan, treasurer.

A summary of the year's activities was given by retiring president, Miss R. Roberts. Total money raised was $1,008.33 and money-making projects included a parish summer fete, fall bazaar, sale of cards, a 50-50 draw, white elephant sale, social, Perpetual Help Credit Union tea and home baking sale. Two hundred and twenty-five children were cared for during 10 and 11 a.m. Mass on Sundays, with the help of high school students from St. Ann's. Miss E. Kobelsky was in charge. The shrine of St. Theresa was attended during the year and a communion breakfast was held.

Three thousand seven hundred and seventy pounds of clothing, also hampers and religious articles, have been sent to Father Bradley's Indian missions. Mrs. Ann Rendle was convener and expenses for this project totaled $212.89.

At conclusion of the meeting Miss Roberts was presented with a corsage of pink roses and stephanotis from executive members. Luncheon was served by Mrs. Ilace Sullivan, with His Excellency Bishop Hills and the league chaplain, Rev. Father Johnston, as special guests.

Sooke—A complete report on the PTA convention in Kamloops, entitled "Spotlight on Objectives" was given by Mrs. Peter Cleves, Milne's Landing, at a recent meeting of Sooke PTA. Mrs. Ed Banner Jr., presided.

Cotton Parka Covers Supersede New Bonnets in Far Northland

Instead of new bonnets, Eskimo women make new covers of print cotton materials for their parkas, guest speaker Miss Dorothy Robinson told the meeting of the diocesan board of the Woman's Auxiliary held recently in St. Luke's Hall.

Miss Robinson, who was teacher in the government school at Tuktoyaktuk until a few weeks ago, said that Eskimo children in the kindergarten learned to speak English and then taught their parents the language. A scout and guide troop was organized, also cub and brownie packs.

Eskimo women also made dolls and other souvenirs and the proceeds from the sale of these articles are donated to the WA.

The speaker was thanked by the president, Mrs. B. P. Harding, who also presided at the meeting.

Members were welcomed by Mrs. W. Hunter; Scripture reading was given by Mrs. G. Buckland; noonday devotions conducted by Canon F. Pike, and prayers taken by Mrs. K. Cheston and Mrs. S. G. Hawking.

Treasurer's report, given by Mrs. F. A. Goodwin, showed a bank balance of $3,652.72. Mrs. A. E. Raymond, Girls' Auxiliary secretary, reported 16 branches represented at the rally in Nanaimo recently. Other reports were given by Mrs. C. D. George, Mrs. A. A. Bates, Mrs. G. Simons, Miss L. H. Halliwell, Mrs. E. Laubel, Mrs. D. Brooks, Miss N. M. Nicholson, Mrs. E. Sigston, Mrs. G. V. Jarvis, and Mrs. G. H. Piddock.

A life membership was given to Ella Isabel Harding. The pin was presented by Mrs. R. O. Taylor, the certificate by Miss D. Mitchell and flowers by Mrs. T. G. Griffiths. Deaconess

Young-Kish Wedding in Prince George

A wedding of interest to Victorians took place Saturday in Sacred Heart Church, Prince George, when Margaret, daughter of Mrs. Rose Kish, Kelowna, and the late Lewis Kish, exchanged vows with Melvin Charles Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Young, Saanichton. Rev. G. Cieneghan officiated.

For the ceremony, the bride chose a full length gown of white satin with net overskirt. Her scalloped, fingertip veil was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms and her only jewelry was a pair of pearl earrings. Red roses formed her bouquet.

Peter Young, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Arthur Young, brother of the groom, and Arthur Bowes. Jack West gave the bride in marriage.

Bridesmaid, Miss Mary Bulka of Lestock, Sask., chose a gown of coral satin with net overskirt and lace mits. She carried a nosegay of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack West.

The bride's going away ensemble was a pink tweed suit with navy accessories and corsage of white carnations. Following a honeymoon in the United States, the couple will live in Prince George.

Cheques Given—It was announced at a luncheon meeting of the Lions' Auxiliary that a cheque for $150 has been sent to the Family and Children's Service to assist in furnishings for the new home for emotionally disturbed children. A cheque for $25 was also sent to the Gorge Road Hospital to assist in yearly upkeep of a room furnished by the auxiliary. Plans were made for a dessert party at the home of Mrs. Charles Savage when she will show color slides of her recent trip to the Caribbean.

Robinson gave a brief review of "The Way of Holy Affection," by Starr Dally, which deals with the conversion of the author during his term in penitentiary.

Mrs. R. O. Taylor was appointed chairman of the board of governors of the Caroline Macklem Home and Mrs. J. A. Andrews a member of the board. Mrs. Harding expressed thanks for St. Luke's WA hospitality.

Own Political Party Labor Congress Goal?

(See Page 8)
TORONTO (BUP)—The new Canadian Labor Congress adopted a middle-of-the-road policy on political action today, with only one hand raised in opposition.

The quick agreement on the issue, which had been feared might split the CLC apart at its charter convention, surprised everybody but the labor chiefs who negotiated it in back-room hammer-and-tong sessions.

Since the merger convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada and the Canadian Congress of Labor opened Monday, it had been speculated that the political action question would arouse stormy controversy.

The CLC is on record as supporting the CCF party, while the stronger TLC has remained aloof from outright support of any political party.

The new 1,000,000-member congress adopted a resolution which will bind it to a program of "political education," leaving member unions free to support without pressure any party they please, if they please.

The TLC unionists, who never were completely happy with the neutral stand of their leaders, supported the special resolution of the unity committee because they are now freed from the binding policy of inactivity.

Both unions compromised in the interests of unity.

As the vote was called, after an hour of speeches from the floor, only one hand was raised in opposition, that of a delegate who had not had a chance to speak on the issue.

Frank Hall of the railway workers' union coined a colorful simile based on the marriage of the TLC and CCL.

In supporting the resolution, Hall said the situation of merging and unity in the political action question had "prevented a divorce of two young married people."

"If they disagree in politics," he said, "they can't live happily together and will get a divorce, but if they sit quietly and consider why they got married and how they can best further the success of their marriage, they will stay united and be happy."

D. F. Hamilton, representing the powerful Toronto Trades and Labor Council, was given a standing ovation as he said "This convention's willingness to compromise is a victory for labor unionism, not for either the TLC or CCL supporters."

Many of the delegates said they felt the resolution that was adopted gave them freedom of political action on a firm foundation that would ensure successful relations between labor and politics.

It appeared, however, that many of the 1,600 delegates were seriously planning to eventually form their own Canadian labor party as a result of this second resolution. The first motion praised the CCF party for its past efforts in labor's cause, both in and out of parliament.

Eamon Park of the steelworkers' union said the CLC's action "gives us the approval to develop an effective people's voice party in Canada," but he said his own union would continue its support of the CCF party.

Premier Sees End of Tolls On Bridges

POWELL RIVER (CP)—Premier Bennett said today the B.C. government hopes to free the lower B.C. mainland from bridge tolls through wider application of the 50-50 federal-provincial cost-sharing principle on the Trans-Canada Highway.

The plan hinged on a request to be made to the federal government that it count the north shore upper levels highway as part of the Trans-Canada Highway. This would include the $16,000,000 Second Narrows Bridge now under construction.

If the federal government paid half the cost, the tolls would not be applied because, by tradition, there cannot be tolls on Trans-Canada highway roads, Mr. Bennett said.

Tolls then would also be taken off the present Lions Gate Bridge because it could hardly operate with tolls while the new Second Narrows Bridge was toll-free.

The premier, in an interview, also indicated he might seek to switch the Trans-Canada route out of the Fraser Valley onto a new highway leading to the proposed $16,000,000 Deas Island tunnel.

The road would cross Lulu Island and reach Vancouver via the new $10,000,000 Oak Street Bridge. From there traffic could cross to the north shore for ferries operating to Nanaimo.

'Peg Mayor Hurries Home To Fight Floods

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mayor George Sharpe, of Winnipeg, left here early today for home after getting a "does not look good" report on the Manitoba flood situation. He was attending the Canadian automotive electrical convention here and had planned to stay until Monday.

WINNIPEG (CP)—The swollen Assiniboine River today was running free of ice for the first time since the floodwaters began inundating southern Manitoba farmlands last week.

Reeve Lawrence Smith of the Portage la Prairie municipality said he was informed by Tom Weber, chief drainage engineer, that all the ice jams between Portage and Headingley, 16 miles west of Winnipeg, had broken up overnight.

Flood fighters dynamited six ice jams between Poplar Point and Winnipeg late Monday.

High winds Monday night threw ice and debris over the Trans-Canada Highway near Baie St. Paul, 30 miles west of here, and all traffic was stopped. Westbound traffic was being rerouted at Headingley.

Flood waters have cut off telephone communications in the district and civil defence officials in Portage la Prairie sent in rescue crews fearing that many persons might be stranded.

Highway traffic was resumed. The flood waters moved south towards Elie, where they swamped the south side of the community. Five homes and ten farms were evacuated and the town's convent, school and church were surrounded by water.

The water also moved into the swollen La Salle River, which flows southeast to the Red.

RECEIVING QUICKLY

Work crews began stockpiling material on the east side of the Hoot 'n' Holler, a twisting bend in the Assiniboine, where floodwaters were still spewing over the land. The water was receding so quickly in the area officials expected the level would be low enough later today to construct a sandbag dike along the bend.

At least seven breaks in the Assiniboine dikes built up a shallow lake 25 miles long and 10 miles wide in places south of the river. The waters also seeped north and RCMP Tuesday night closed a section of the province's east-west highway.

However, highways branch officials said the highway was cleared this morning and traffic was resumed.

In Winnipeg, the Red rose to 20.2 feet above average river ice level, less than a foot below the point reached on the same day in 1950, a disastrous flood year. Previous forecasts for a peak of 27 to 30 feet, well over the city's major dike system of 25.5 feet, were scaled down a foot today by Manitoba flood committee. The peak is expected about May 7.

tax, not on education taxes. Another said only residential property taxes, and not commercial property, would be involved.

There is no clarification on whether the provincial share would include land assessments as well as improvements, and the final cost to the government is a complete mystery.

$64 MILLION

Vancouver officials estimate that at the highest figure mentioned by the premier, $2,000 of assessment, that city's share alone would cost the province $6,400,000.

Mayor Fred Hume of Vancouver said the plan "would be a tremendous help to old age pensioners and young folks starting out in life."

But a government authority suggested that "young people and old-age pensioners seldom own their own home, and little benefit would accrue to them unless someone found a way their rents could be dropped a corresponding amount."

The question of whether apartment houses and other multiple dwelling units would be eligible to reap the benefits of the premier's proposal still has not been decided, according to Powell River reports quoting the premier.

UNINFORMED

Provincial government officials are still in the dark. All declared themselves completely uninformed of the proposal.

"It doesn't sound right to me—there must be something wrong," said one expert.

Figures compiled by one government branch show that 71 per cent of B.C.'s dwelling units are owned by the tenant, out of a total 378,000 units. 270,000 are owned by the person living in them.

On the surface the renters in the remaining 19 per cent of the dwelling units would receive no benefits from the proposal, unless landlords dropped their rents.

Oak Bay reeve Fred Norris said "the plan could be good."

Hamarskjold Acts

JERUSALEM (Israel Secor) (UP)—U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold conferred today in Amman with Jordan Premier Samir El-Rifai in hopes of ending the suddenly renewed tension along the Israeli-Jordan frontier.

AERIAL H-BOMB TEST AT BIKINI SET BY U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The hydrogen bomb test at Bikini atoll next month will be a mid-air explosion of a weapon dropped from a plane.

(Soviet party boss Nikita Khrushchev announced at London this week that Russia already has dropped a hydrogen bomb from a plane.)

The U.S. government has never stated specifically whether the several series of tests at the mid-Pacific proving grounds in recent years have included an air burst.

TELEVISION

but estimated it would cost $30 to $40 per installation.

Mrs. N. M. Fulton, 1155 Finlayson, told the TPC meeting there are 500 to 600 TV sets within a half-mile radius of the site, an investment, she said, greater than the investment in the new station set at $250,000.

Mr. Proudfoot said the new Capital Television System will be incorporated for $1,000,000 with an initial cash investment of $300,000.

SALT SPRING ISLAND

The 100-foot transmission tower would be moved to Salt Spring Island by 1958, he stated.

Other aldermen, who will be required to make the final decision for or against rezoning despite whatever recommendations came from the TBC expressed themselves as follows:

Ald. Geoffrey I. Edgelow: "The whole thing needs clarification. I will reserve my final opinion for a public hearing. But if it is going to cause interference the people of the city generally would be entitled to a say, by public hearing or plebiscite."

Ald. M. H. Mooney: "It won't be settled Thursday. Possibly Saanich, Esquimalt, Oak Bay and the city should all have a referendum on the question. I wouldn't support the station if there is no use of local talent."

... but would sacrifice the other stations to interference if local talent is to be used."

Ald. W. F. Pinfold: "It may have to come to a plebiscite. No doubt a lot more information will come out at a public hearing. There will have to be a hearing before any rezoning action could take place."

FULL REVIEW

Ald. Arthur Dowell: "I would support Ald. Curtis' suggestion for a full review by qualified experts of the CBC. Town planning will also give this further study. I don't think the decision is going to be hurried."

Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson: "I'm not a viewer and haven't formed a definite opinion. But if the protests are found to carry weight, I would oppose them."

Ald. Don Smith: "I wouldn't favor a plebiscite. Council will review the facts and use its own intelligence. Council will come up with a satisfactory solution."

Khrushchev, unsmiling, shook Eden's hand, muttering a Russian "goodbye."

GLOOMY DEPARTURE

The Russians drove directly to their hotel, the silence of the watching crowd broken only by a single male voice shouting "Go home."

The two Soviet leaders had been equally grim after leaving the morning session with Eden and his advisers — the session which originally had been planned as the last of this conference.
